REGAINING G.O.P. CONTROL CALLED PRESIDENT'S AIM

House Democratic Chief McCormack Says Budget Cuts Were Proposed in Move to Regain Leadership.

TAX REDUCTION JAN. 1 FORECAST

Agrees With Rayburn — Declines to Set Date but Asserts That It 'Can Happen Very Quickly.'

WASHINGTON, April 19 (UP) — House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack said today President Eisenhower had proposed new budget cuts yesterday in an attempt to regain leadership of the Republican party in Congress.

He said also he agreed with Speaker Sam Rayburn's forecast of a tax cut effective Jan. 1. He declined to say when he thought the cut might be enacted—this year or next, but he said it "can happen very quickly."

McCormack told the United Press the Republicans in Congress had been following Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey and his economy policies more than they have been following the President.

"They all like Ike, but they are voting against him," McCormack said. "He probably recognizes the majority of his own party is against him and he is trying to regain the leadership. But I think it is too late."

G.O.P. 'Splitting Up.'

McCormack said the Republicans in Congress were "splitting up."

"The Old Guard and isolationists are no longer hibernating," he said. "It is very evident the President is going one way and the majority of his army in the House is going another way."

The majority leader said he did not approve many of the more than one billion dollars in cuts already made in the budget.

However, he said, "the strong feeling Humphrey created" and the "drift" permitted by Mr. Eisenhower makes any effort to restore many cuts useless. He said even Republican House Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. had said so.

McCormack said he favored a tax cut for "lower income groups and for small business."

In a letter to Speaker Sam Rayburn of the House, President Eisenhower listed where appropriations could be cut by $1,858,000,000. The White House estimated the President's suggestions might bring about a cut of $300,000,000 to $450,000,000 in actual outlays in the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

John S. Coleman, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, termed Mr. Eisenhower's move "courageous and statesmanlike," but he said "it does not go far enough." The chamber, he said, has recommended reductions totaling $4,477,000,000.

By the Associated Press.

Link With Postal Rates.

Representative Tom Murray (Dem.), Tennessee, chairman of the House Post Office Committee, said today tax reduction and postal rates were "closely linked."

"It's absolutely important that rates be increased," Murray told a reporter, "because of the tremendous postal deficit."

Murray said the postal rate bill was "just as important a part of the fiscal program of the Congress as any cuts of a comparable amount we can make."

The $71,800,000,000 budget Mr. Eisenhower sent to Congress anticipated that postal rates would be increased to bring in $654,000,000 more in revenue in fiscal 1958, starting July 1.

After the budget was submitted, the Administration sent Congress a request for postal increases that would yield $462,000,000 more in 1958.

The postal deficit for 1958 has been estimated at some $651,000,000. So Murray said that even with enactment of the proposed rate boosts, the postal deficit still would be some $200,000,000.

Humphrey Says Problem Is Now in Proper Perspective.

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP)— Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey says President Eisenhower's most recent statement concerning the national budget put the problem "in proper perspective."

Humphrey, whose dissatisfaction over the rate of federal spending is no secret, yesterday told the National Industrial Conference board:

"I urge every citizen to earnestly consider and support the President's direct and simple analysis of the principles involved in our budget problem."

Humphrey, in referring to the President's budget statement yesterday, said:

"The President's position not only guards the nation against ill-considered or dangerous slashing of the budget, but it also points the way to well-considered steps toward holding future federal spending down."

JAPANESE ENVOY IN U.S. FOR TALKS AIMED AT ENDING NUCLEAR TESTS

NEW YORK, April 19 (UP)

DR. MASATOSHI MATSUSHITA, Japan's envoy seeking to end nuclear tests, arrived yesterday from Europe for a round of talks in the United States.

He said the purpose of his visit is "to let the American Government and people understand the feeling and sentiment of the Japanese people as to nuclear tests, exactly as I did in England."

Matsushita stressed, however, that his official duties were concluded when he left London. He will leave New York for Washington tomorrow.

He said Japan may send a special representative to the Soviet Union in an attempt to dissuade it from further nuclear weapons tests.

BEN-GURION ASKS U.S. TO EXPLAIN MIDEAST STAND

Alarm and Consternation Attributed to Recent Statements by Eisenhower.

JERUSALEM, Israel Sector, April 19 (UP)—Official sources said today Premier Ben-Gurion has asked Washington to explain recent statements by President Eisenhower that have brought alarm and consternation to Israel.

Ben-Gurion was reported to have cabled Ambassador Abba Eban to ask especially about Mr. Eisenhower's statements on the Suez canal and the Gulf of Aqaba and his news conference statement Wednesday that the United States might defend Jordan against "aggression."

(Foreign Minister Golda Meir conferred with United States Ambassador Edward B. Lawson, presumably on the Suez canal and the Gulf of Aqaba, the Associated Press said. Lawson asked for the meeting.)

The developments followed a series of new border incidents involving Jordan and Syria, including a two-hour shooting affair yesterday afternoon between Israeli and Syrian troops. Much of the blame for these incidents was laid to the Jordan political crisis and the necessity of keeping anti-Israeli feelings alive there for the sake of unity.

Troubled by Word 'Forbidden.'

The chief concern was Mr. Eisenhower's statement that American ships had been counseled not to try to force their way where they are forbidden. Israel asked for clarification of the word "forbidden" and whether the United States applied this to the Gulf of Aqaba.

"If this remains American policy it would be interesting to learn who would do the forbidding," one official said.

Official quarters in Jerusalem also expressed concern over the trend of the Suez talks now being held in Cairo between the United States and Egypt and said the same "unfortunate trend" was recognized to a lesser degree on recent comments on Aqaba.

Officials recalled that on March 5 Secretary of State

RISE IN AIRBORNE RADIATION OVER U.S. LAST FALL AFTER RED TESTS

Boost Was 'Substantial,' but Not to Hazardous Level, Report Will Show — Condition Lasted 3 Weeks.

By JAMES DEAKIN
A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 19—A Government report now being prepared will show a "substantial" increase in airborne radiation over the United States early last fall, after a series of Russian tests of nuclear weapons, the Post-Dispatch was told today.

Although the greater concentrations of radioactive fallout at no time reached hazardous levels, they persisted for about three weeks, a period considered somewhat longer than usual, the report will say.

The findings are based on air samplings made by a nationwide rediation surveillance network operated by the Public Health Service and state health agencies under an agreement with the Atomic Energy Commission.

The report takes on added significance in view of yesterday's announcement that Russia exploded on Tuesday a nuclear weapon which was described as "one of the largest thus far in the current Soviet series."

Jefferson City Reading.

Beginning about Sept. 5, with a high measurement at Anchorage, Alaska, increased radioactivity was detected until about Sept. 26. Higher than usual readings were recorded at several points in the continental United States, including Jefferson City, Mo.

On Aug. 31, the Soviet Government disclosed that it had conducted tests on Aug. 24 and 30 "to perfect nuclear weapons" suitable "for the arming of different kinds of troop formations."

The Public Health Service report will not state flatly that the increased radioactivity was due to the Russian tests, but it will point out that the higher levels were detected after the Soviet detonations.

September's radioactivity was "unusual" in that it "could not be attributed" to United States tests of nuclear weapons, Henry J. L. Rechen, Health Service officer in charge of the radiation network, told the Post-Dispatch.

Rechen, a senior sanitary engineer, said one-to-three-day "peaks" of radioactivity were detected in June and July of last year. These, he added, could be traced to the 1956 American test series conducted at the Pacific proving grounds from May 4 to July 23.

Other Health Service officials, who declined to be quoted by name, noted that the Russian tests last August were the only ones known to have occurred before the high radioactivity readings in September.

Increases After Tests.

Experience with the surveillance network thus far has shown there are "mild increases" in radiation in the United States "after periods of weapons testing," James G. Terrill Jr., chief of the health service radiological health program, told the Post-Dispatch.

"There are peaks of radioactivity which indicate it could go higher," he added.

"If there are enough tests by enough countries with nuclear weapons of sufficient size," the concentrations of radioactive materials "could reach the permissible maximum," Terrill declared. He

BRIDE'S MOTHER, 102, GOES ALONG ON HONEYMOON

LOS ANGELES, April 19 (AP) —"I certainly never expected to take my mother-in-law on my honeymoon," observed bridegroom Jerry Linville as he hopped from a train at Union Station.

Linville, a retired salesman, is 77 years old. His bride, Rachel, is 77, too. His mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Hiers, is 102.

Jerry and Rachel were childhood friends in Harrison, O., but Jerry left town, married and moved here. His wife died three years ago. He found Rachel again, living with her mother in Detroit, and they were married.

It was the first marriage for Rachel. Her mother was quoted by reporters at the station as saying she had begun to fear Rachel "might turn out to be an old maid."

HUNGARIANS WHO HIJACKED AIRLINER STILL NOT IN U.S.

FRANKFURT, Germany, April 19 (UP)—Seven Hungarians who hijacked an airliner in flight last July to escape from Communism still wait here today for admission to the United States, nine months later.

The bloody fight for control of the Hungarian airliner and the flight across the Iron Curtain to West Germany was one of the most dramatic stories of the cold war. The Hungarian revolt has pushed the case into the background.

While the six men and one woman waited patiently at what they hoped would be only a way station en route to the United States, the American government opened its doors to 35,000 of their countrymen who fled the revolt.

The seven have not been forgotten by United States Department officials here, but these officials say it will take special bills in Congress to obtain their admission. It is a hard job to explain the situation to the disillusioned Hungarians.

ARMY WILL GIVE SHERMAN TANKS AS LAWN ORNAMENTS

Veterans Groups May Obtain 72,000-Pounders Instead of Usual Cannon.

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP) —While the supply lasts, the Army is prepared to give 72,000-pound Sherman medium tanks to veterans organizations for lawn ornaments.

This modern replacement for the customary lawn cannon, of which the ordnance department has no more for distribution, may be obtained for freight charges and a guarantee it will be "demilitarized," at a cost of about $100.

The tanks are stored at the ordnance depot at Chambersburg, Pa.

ROBERT C. HILL TO BE APPOINTED ENVOY TO MEXICO

President Shifts Three Ambassadors — Gives Details of Adenauer's Visit to U.S.

By GEORGE HALL
A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 19— President Eisenhower, vacationing at the Augusta National Golf Club, announced today he would nominate Robert C. Hill, a Republican who is now assistant secretary of state for congressional relations, as Ambassador to Mexico.

Hill, 39 years old, has had several years of diplomatic experience and served as clerk of the Senate Banking Committee in 1946 and 1947. He served as ambassador to Costa Rica in 1953, Ambassador to El Salvador in 1954 and assistant to the Under Secretary of State for mutual security affairs in 1955.

James C. Hagerty, Mr. Eisenhower's press secretary, said Hill was in the United States foreign service in 1943 and in 1945 was State Department representative to the China-Burma-India war theater with the rank of captain.

He Is From Bridge's State.

Hill's legal residence is in Littleton, N.H. He presumably has the approval of Senator Styles Bridge's, powerful New Hampshire Republican. A protege of Bridges, Scott McLeod, head of the State Department's bureau of security and consular affairs, recently was nominated as ambassador to Ireland.

Hill will succeed Francis White, a foreign service officer who retired in 1933 after serving as minister to Czechoslovakia. White rejoined the diplomatic service in 1953 and has been ambassador to Mexico since then. He is scheduled to succeed John M. Cabot as ambassador to Sweden. Cabot, also a foreign service officer, is being reassigned as ambassador to Colombia. He will succeed Philip W. Bonsal, who has been reassigned to Bolivia.

Adenauer's Visit.

Hagerty announced additional details of the May visit of Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany. Adenauer will arrive in New York May 24 and in Washington May 27, where he will be joined by German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano. Adenauer will remain in Washington, conferring with the President and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, through May 29.

During Adenauer's stay, Hagerty said, the Chancellor will be entertained at luncheon by the President and at dinner by Dulles, and will be host to the President and Dulles at a dinner at the German embassy.

Adenauer will be accompanied by his daughter, Frau Libeth Wehrhahn, and his son, Georg Adenauer.

Hagerty did not announce the topics Adenauer would discuss with the President and Dulles, but presumably they will include various problems connected with pressures for the reunification of Germany and the progress of German rearmament.

SOLUTION SEEN TO PROBLEMS OF CITY HOSPITALS IN NEW CHARTER

Proposed Document Lifts Salary Limit Which Has Barred Full-Time Medical Administrator.

Many of the city's hospital problems would be more readily solved through appointment of full-time medical administrators made possible under the proposed new city charter, the Post-Dispatch was told today.

Under the present charter, which fixes maximum salaries of city employes at $10,000 a year, the city is unable to find top medical administrative personnel willing to serve on a full-time basis at the hospitals, it was stated by a city official who asked that his name not be used.

A major example cited was at City Hospital, where the medical director, Dr. Cyril Costello, can afford to devote only part of his time to the job.

Under the new charter there would be no ceilings on salaries. They would be established by the personnel department and the Mayor, subject to approval of the Board of Aldermen.

Another Example.

Another example was brought out in the budget hearings before the city Board of Estimate and Apportionment last week, when it was revealed the city had been paying the City Hospital anesthesiologist $15,000 a year, on a contract basis. Hospital officials pointed out a full-time qualified man could not be obtained at the ceiling figure of $10,000.

The device used, because of the charter salary limitation, has been to hire the anesthesiologist, a physician, on a case-by-case arrangement, with the contract providing that his annual pay shall not exceed $15,000.

City officials were considering today whether it would be feasible to accept subsidy salary payments for psychiatric nurses at Malcolm Bliss Hospital, as has been offered by Dr. Edwin F. Gildea of Washington University from a fund under his control, without paying the same subsidies to other psychiatric nurses in city employ.

Pharmacist Resigns.

Meanwhile, Sidney R. Kieffer, 74-year-old pharmacist at City Hospital, resigned. He quit the $452-a-month job he had held since 1945, Kieffer said, because the hospital pharmacy is "overworked and understaffed."

Kieffer said his resignation was prompted because of "a number of irriations" that have accumulated during the last two years. The lates of these, he said, was a letter addressed to Mayor Tucker by a St. Louis county resident who complained about how long her mother had to wait for a prescription to be filled.

Kieffer said the city has set up so many check points to insure economy in its purchase of drugs and supplies that waste instead of savings sometimes occurs. The orders have to go through so many channels, he said, that the hospital pharmacist has to prepare on April 20 the order for drugs he will need in June.

"But the doctors think all you have to do is press a button, and you have what's needed," he said. "Of course, the chief pharmacist at a private hospital merely has to pick up the telephone and call a supplier to get fast delivery. I couldn't do that at City Hospital."

Through Channels.

Kieffer said that after writing an order for drugs needed 45 to 60 days later, the pharmacist must submit it to Dr. Costello, the hospital's chief of staff. From Dr. Costello's desk the order passes successively to the hospital administrator, the hospital commissioner, department of public welfare, comptroller's office, and then to the supply commissioner, who asks for bids.

"On an order written by the pharmacist on April 20, bids will be closed about June 10," Kieffer said. "I don't believe anybody can anticipate his

WEST IS WARNED TO KEEP HANDS OFF RED WORLD

Khrushchev Puts Special Emphasis on East Germany — Zhukov Says Satellites Will Get Atomic Arms.

SOVIET THREATENS TO 'RAP KNUCKLES'

Russian Premier Cautions Capitalist Countries 'Not to Test Us Like You Did in Hungary.'

MOSCOW, April 19 (AP)— Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev warned the western powers today to keep their hands off the Communist world, particularly East Germany, lest it become necessary to "rap your knuckles."

Krushch, speaking at a Polish embassy reception, extended a somewhat patronizing hand of friendship to Poland and then directed this remark to the western powers:

"We want to warn the capitalist countries, do not joke with us, do not try to test us like you did in Hungary with the putsch. You think of doing it, not only in Hungary, but SKalso maybe in East Germany. Be careful. We are not saints and if necessary we will rap your knuckles."

A few minutes earlier, Marshall Georgi K. Zhukov, Soviet defense minister, told reporters the Soviet Union would see to it that its Communist allies had nuclear weapons and guided missiles to match the weapons America provided for its allies in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Zhukov, Soviet World War II hero, said he did not think much of the theory that nuclear weapons could serve as a deterrent to war. He told reporters crowded around him in the hot, packed Kremlin reception room:

"If there are weapons, they will be used and the proof of it is that the powers are cutting down by half on conventional weapons and relying more and more on nuclear weapons."

The reception was in honor of Polish Premier Joseph Cyrankiewicz, stopping off in Moscow on the way home from a tour of the Orient.

Khrushchev referred in this manner to recent efforts of Poland's Communist regime to loosen its ties from the Kremlin:

"We had difficulties last year but that is all part of the past. Just like in history we have fought many times; our troops have been in Poland and your troops have been in Moscow, but that is all history."

Turning to the perspiring Polish Premier, Khrushchev said with a grin: "Comrade Cyrankiewciz, you are now being wooed like a bride but not because you are young."

Continuing in a rambling vein, Khrushchev said the West hopes to find a lever against the Soviet Union, and added, "We will never attack but we will never give in to anyone."

Tries to Blame NATO.

Zhukov, in his talk with reporters, attempted to blame NATO for the present arms race.

"People should become wiser and take steps to stop the arms race, which is demanded by the people, and not by little groups of reactionary militarists," he said.

A correspondent asked Zhukov: If the Soviet Union has the right to conduct nuclear tests does not Britain also have such a right?

"Of course they have," Zhukov replied. "As long as there is no agreement on the ending of tests every state has the right to carry them out to strengthen its defensive capacity. Self-defense is the inalienable right of every state."

He was then asked: If Russia wanted the big powers to halt nuclear weapons tests why had it not announced five recently conducted tests?

"We are modest people and we do not want to scare other people. We have at our disposal adequate means for detecting any under-ground, surface or air tests."

Correspondents asked if they would be invited to witness future Soviet tests. Zhukov gave this surprising answer: "When you invite us."

The Soviet Union replied today to a note of last March 11 in which the United States rejected a Soviet proposal for a Big Four declaration on Middle East policy, a United States embassy source said. Britain and France joined in the rejection, and they received similar notes today.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko delivered the new note to United States charge

SENATE INQUIRY TURNS TO GIVERS OF LABOR BRIBES

McClellan Asks Why They Went Free — Prosecutor Says Grand Jury Decided.

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP) —Senate rackets investigators said today they wil explore more deeply into alleged payoffs to Teamsters union officers in Scranton, Pa.

One question intriquing them is whether—if you cannot jail them both—the giver or the taker of a pay-off should be prosecuted.

The Department of Justice has obtained federal indictments accusing three business agents of Scranton Teamsters Local 229 of receiving illegal pay-offs from business firms. The Senate committee conducting the inquiry has ordered its staff to ask why no charges were brought against any of the companies or their officers.

"We are going to find out why they were not prosecuted," Chairman John L. McClellan (Dem.), Arkansas, told reporters. "It is something we ought to find out."

In reply to a question, he said, "It might be the subject of an investigation."

Prosecutor's Explanation.

Meantime, replies to some of McClellan's questions came from outside the hearing.

A pragmatic explanation came from Oliver Dibble, the special federal prosecutor in charge of the Scranton case.

"If we indicted both men in such cases," he told reporters in Scranton, "we wouldn't be able to make one testify against the other," and he added: "The grand jury decides which one is, so to speak, the more guilty and returns the indictment against him. Then the other serves as a witness."

Also speaking out was Earl P. Bettendorf of Texarkana, Tex., who said at his home he had sent McClellan a telegram asking the right to appear as a witness "so that your committee can correct the injustice done me at today's (Thursday's) hearings."

Bettendorf, named as one of the business men making the payments, said news reports of the hearing "clearly indicate your committee is not in possession of the true facts in this case." He asked to appear to present records concerning the matter.

Aboveboard, He Says.

Earlier he had told reporters that "the only settlement we made with the union was aboveboard," and added that the Federal Bureau of Investigation "understands this case 100 per cent and has known about this case for two years."

Senator Karl E. Mundt, (Rep.), South Dakota, said Bettendorf should get a prompt chance to tell under oath his side of the story.

Senate Progress Includes Voting Maintenance for Unbuilt Bridge

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP) —The Senate Democratic Policy Committee yesterday called attention to 51 bills which it described as "of national interest" passed by the Senate in the first three months of this session.

Among the measures listed in a statement were bills:

Providing for maintenance costs on a Potomac river bridge authorized but not yet built.

Revising the authority of the Secretary of Interior in allotment of lands to the Crow Indians.

Authorizing the Alaskan delegate in the House to be a member of that territory's rail and highway commission.

Extending the time for a commission to complete plans for a national cultural center here.

Others deal with such things as allowances and pensions for living former Presidents, return of public lands to several states and Indian tribes, and authorization of a portrait and marble bust of the late Chief Justice Vinson.

There were other bills of greater significance and at least three of major importance. One is the Middle East resolution pledging United States resistance to any Communist aggression in that area. Another is the extension of corporate income and excise taxes. A third is a $1,500,000,000 authorization for water projects throughout the nation which some opponents termed "the annual pork barrel."

HUSSEIN SAYS JORDAN WILL STEER CLEAR OF COMMUNISM

King, in First Interview Since Crisis, Says People Won't 'Sell Themselves' to Destructive Dogma.

By JOE MORRIS

AMMAN, Jordan, April 19 (UP)—King Hussein of Jordan said today his country would fight all "imperialism," avoid foreign pacts and steer clear of such imported dogmas as Communism.

In the first interview since his cabinet crisis, the 22-year-old monarch said Jordan would observe "positive neutrality" but that "we lead and need no leading."

He rejected all projects "which have not been accepted by the member states represented in the last Cairo conference" — Egypt, Syria, Saudi Arabia and Jordan.

Hussein did not mention any foreign aid projects by name nor did he refer to the Eisenhower Middle East program.

He said Jordan would approve or disapprove aid projects "after careful study by the countries concerned of any such project or projects through an unbiased eye and aspired by Arab history, tradition and interest."

Fully at Ease.

The interview was in Hussein's hilltop palace beneath a portrait of his great-grandfather, King Hussein, who led the Arab revolt against the Ottoman empire in World War I. The young King wore a blue suit. He smiled frequently and was fully at ease.

Asked about his plans for fighting Communism, he said his people "will not sell themselves to any destructive conventions."

Hussein said that the recent government changes did not mean any "change of policy" and called the reasons "routine affairs of state."

On the recent government change and the reasons for it, he said:

"It is natural to exercise my rights under the constitution when public interests require such exercise.

"Therefore, I should say that the outgoing cabinet resigned upon my exercising my prerogative. I should like to assure you that the change of cabinets does not mean a change of policy because the policy of Jordan is not made by any cabinet.

'Routine Affair.'

"It came in harmony with the interest of the Arabs in Jordan and elsewhere. The reasons that have led to the change of the outgoing cabinet are routine affairs of state which are known to me as well as all members of the outgoing cabinet."

On his plans for fighting Communist infiltration, he said:

"Our Arab nationalism and religion are the best safeguards against the prevalence of Communism in the country. Therefore, I do believe it is incumbent on the Arab nation not to allow any room for a new belief or imported dogma, whatever it may be, to infiltrate among Arabs so that Arab nationalism can avoid any color which is totally different from its tradition and history.

"The army I liberated, the people I loved and devoted my life for their success and happiness will not sell themselves to any destructive conventions."

MAJOR ADDRESS BY DULLES ON AIR AT 1 P.M. MONDAY

WASHINGTON, April 19 (UP)—The State Department announced today that a foreign policy speech by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on Monday will be carried by nation-wide radio and television.

Press Officer Lincoln White did not disclose the subject of Dulles's talk, but department officials described it as a major address.

Dulles will speak at 1 p.m. (St. Louis time) at an Associated Press luncheon in New York.

The talk will be carried by Post-Dispatch Station KSD-TV, 1 to 1:30 p.m., and rebroadcast by radio station KSD from 8:30 to 9 p.m. Monday.

KARSTEN TELLS GSA IT HAS NO RIGHT TO BUY BUILDING

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 19 — Representative Frank M. Karsten (Dem.), St. Louis, told the General Services Administration today that it lacks authority to purchase a private building in St. Louis.

The GSA had mentioned possible purchase or rental of a private building as an alternative to construction of two new buildings, an office building and a records center. Karsten contended Congress has authorized no funds for that purpose.

Such a plan, Karsten said in a letter to Commissioner of Public Buildings F. Moran McConihe, would involve resubmitting thee ntire matter to Public Works Committees of the Senate and House and to the Bureau of the Budget.

"Thee ffect of this would be to place us right back where we started from 10 years ago," Karsten wrote. He also asked why the projects are being delayed.

AIRLINER LANDS IN FLAMES, CREW AVERTS TRAGEDY

PITTSBURGH, April 19 (AP) —An airliner landed in flames at Pittsburgh airport yesterday afternoon but thanks to a quick acting pilot, a calm stewardess and expert firefighters a major tragedy was averted.

Fifty passengers left the Capital Airlines DC-4 seconds after it ground to a halt while firemen riding alongside poured flame-quenching foam on the plane.

Not one person was injured seriously. Nine were treated either for shock or bruises.

There was no indication of an emergency as the airplane, piloted by R. L. Calhoun of Alexandria, Va., circled the airport and approached for a landing. But the plane landed "hard," an airport official said.

A Capital spokesman said instruments in the cockpit indicated the landing gear was not secured so Calhoun zoomed the big ship into the air. Seconds later the right inboard engine caught fire and flames raced along the fuselage as the plane came in for a second landing.

MAYFLOWER II LOADS TODAY FOR VOYAGE TO U.S.

PLYMOUTH, England, April 19 (AP)—The Mayflower II arrived today in Plymouth, starting point for its attempt to duplicate the trans-Atlantic trip of the Pilgrims in 1620. The weather was perfect and thousands cheered in welcome.

The little wooden sailing ship, patterned after the Pilgrims' original vessel, was towed into Plymouth harbor from Dartmouth. A tug completed the 32-mile tow through placid seas in four hours, 40 minutes.

If all goes well, Comdr. Alan Villiers and his crew hope to hoist sail tomorrow for Plymouth, Mass.

Today Villiers planned to load 13 tons of cargo, take aboard fresh food and fill the ship's water tanks. He indicated he expected to make the Atlantic crossing in about six weeks. The Pilgrims took 65 days.

The Mayflower II will remain permanently at Plymouth, Mass., a gift to the people of America from the people of Britain.

5 SOLDIERS GET 2 YEARS IN PAYROLL FRAUD SCHEME

PADUCAH, Ky., April 19 (AP)—Five soldiers, whom the prosecution called ringleaders in a $16,000 payroll fraud scheme, were sentenced to two years imprisonment yesterday in United States District Court.

They also were fined $500 apiece on charges of conspiring to defraud the Government.

The five, stationed at Fort Campbell, were listed as Howard W. Bullock, Stillwater, Okla.; William E. Cox Jr., Council, N.C.; Harold T. Wright, Fort Worth, Tex.; James H. Elkins, Chattanooga, Tenn., and James A. Larson, Dangerfield, Tex.

Indictments were returned against 46 soldiers at Fort Campbell. The Government charged that payrolls were altered so that the soldiers would receive more pay than was due. The money then would be divided among Bullock and other men, the indictments stated.

DR. WHITE SEES CASALS, THINKS HE WILL PLAY AGAIN

SAN JUAN, P.R., April 19 (AP)—Heart specialist Dr. Paul Dudley White examined Pablo Casals today and said the famous Spanish cellist would be able to resume playing and conducting if there are no complications.

The physician, who attended President Eisenhower after the President's 1955 heart attack, flew here today at the request of Gov. Luis Munoz Martin. He was unable to examine Casals immediately because the cellist was sleeping. Dr. White made the examination later. Casals suffered a heart attack Tuesday. He is 80 years old.

Dr. White told reporters:

"He is doing well at the present time. The pain is all gone now. He feels much better. No new symtoms have appeared. Now it is a matter of patient resignation to long convalescence.

"If Casals gets through without complications he can resume an active life, including both playing and conducting, always provided there are no complications and the heart is not enlarged. If he does not show any after-effects it is better for him to resume his work."

YUGOSLAVIA SAYS U.S. MAY SET UP NEW 'POWDER KEG'

BRIONI, Yugoslavia, April 19 (AP)—Yugoslav Vice President Aleksandar Rankovic said yesterday United States policy in the Middle East, especially the Eisenhower doctrine, may turn that area into a new "powder keg."

Obviously referring to recent developments in Jordan, Rankovic said it would be dangerous if the Middle East once again became the battlefield of the big powers. Yugoslavia views this with great concern, he told the Communist-dominated Yugoslav Socialist Alliance meeting.

Rankovic, ranging over international and domestic issues, spoke at length on Yugoslavia's relations with the Soviet bloc.

He said a bloc policy splitting the globe into east and west threatened world peace and Yugoslavia would stick to its policy of independent Communism.

INTEGRATION 'NULL AND VOID,' FLORIDA LEGISLATURE SAYS

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 19 (AP)—The Florida Legislature yesterday adopted a strongly worded resolution of interposition, an action which Gov. Leroy Collins said "stultifies our state."

Attorney General Richard W. Ervin praised the resolution, saying it in effect says that the majority of Floridians think the United States Supreme Court school desegregation decision of 1954 was wrong, that the state does not want integration and will not integrate its schools.

Action by the Senate was final. The House passed an interposition resolution earlier. It does not go to Gov. Collins for his approval or disapproval.

The resolution says that Florida considers the Supreme Court decision "null and void" and will not abide by it.

Collins said he was confident the legislators didn't want to adopt the resolution.

"They were under the pressure of desperation on the part of many citizens back home, while those citizens who opposed the action remained silent," he said.

TRANSPORT STRIKE ENDS IN FRANCE AFTER 48 HOURS

PARIS, April 19 (AP)—The 48-hour French transport strike ended today just after midnight.

Trains began to roll on schedule and subway workers reported for duty on maintenance jobs. Busses resumed operations.

All France breathed a sigh of relief. But official sources said the strike had made no dent in Premier Mollet's determination not to yield to transport workers' demands for a 10 per cent wage hike.

The two-day walkout was near its end when violence flared briefly. Some 1000 members of the Communist-dominated General Labor Confederation clashed with police near the Transport Ministry. About 40 police and strikers suffered injuries—mostly bruises and bloody noses.

CAIRO MAY AGREE TO ARBITRATION ON COMPLAINTS

Indicates Tolls Also Would Be Handled That Way—Advisory Council Possible.

By MARGUERITE HIGGINS.
The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 19—Indications that Egypt may after all accept an advisory board on Suez operations were the main reasons for postponing presentation of the issue to the United Nations Security Council, it was learned today.

New talks on this point have been undertaken both in Cairo and by United Nations Secretary Dag Hammarskjold who, according to official sources, played an important role in reviving the dying exchanges.

Egypt also has indicated that it would go along with proposals for making arbitration binding not only on the question of tolls but in matters involving any complaints on the running of the canal. The question of what procedures are to be used is under negotiation now in Cairo. The arbitration provisions, American officials have noted, are far more stringent than anything to which the old Suez Canal Authority ever agreed.

Officials are resisting any optimistic impulse because they fear that Egypt may be playing a trick aimed at prolonging negotiations until ships are using the canal at a greater rate and on its own terms. Then, having a fait accompli, it could break off the talks without much care for Western governmental opinion, since in fact Western business interests would be using the canal.

The State Department, in reply to notification from two American shipping companies of plans to use the canal, stated it had no objection but requested them to pay under protest while the present uncertain situation prevails.

Concerning the advisory board, Hammarskjold has as the point of departure the prior conversations with Egyptian representatives which were the basis of his public assurances to the U.N. that Egypt had agreed to some form of "organized co-operation" with the users.

First British Ship Uses Canal Since October Invasion.

SUEZ, April 19 (AP)—The 3604-ton freighter West Breeze entered the Suez canal this morning flying the red ensign of the British merchant marine. It was the first British ship to start through the waterway since the British-French invasion last October.

Transit tolls for the West Breeze were paid in francs, and an Italian pilot of Egypt's Suez Canal Authority was put aboard for the 103-mile trip northward. The British freighter was the second ship of a four-vessel convoy.

Chartered by a Chinese navigation company in Hong Kong, Rotterdam.

The ship's British captain, I. Cowie, locked himself in his cabin and refused to talk to newsmen. He gave orders to his 42 crewmen—a few British, the rest Chinese—not to fraternize or talk with anyone.

Another British ship is expected to make the canal trip Saturday.

In New York, a spokesman for the American President Lines confirmed a report in the Cairo newspaper Al Akhbar that one of its ships would go through the canal next week—the first American flagship to use the waterway since the invasion last fall.

The ship, the President Jackson, is now en route to the Red sea from Karachi with cargo and 12 cruise passengers. The spokesman said it would be ready to enter the canal at Suez next Thursday.

He added that Government agencies in Washington have been informed and that the line is observing all Government suggestions to record a protest on payment of the toll and make certain reservations.

(Italy has threatened Egypt with a trade boycott unless Cairo backs down on its demand for a payment in cash by Italian ships using the Suez canal, a Rome dispatch said.

(A high Italian government source said this threat was made in a "heated discussion" between Foreign Minister Gaetano Martino and Egyptian Ambassador Mohammed Hamdi Haiba over Egypt's switch in rules on canal toll payments.)

By the United Press.

Twenty-one ships passed through the canal in both directions yesterday, the busiest traffic in the waterway since it reopened for normal navigation on April 9.

A southbound convoy from Port Said numbered 16 ships, the largest single convoy since the waterway was freed, but still far short of the 30-ship convoys of the past. The northbound convoy from Suez had five ships.

Soviet Pilots and Photo Planes Busy Looking Over Middle East

Instructors for Syrians, Flying In on Rotation Basis, Incidentally Observe Iran and Iraq.

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Radio.

PARIS, April 19—Soviet pilots assigned to train Syrian flyers have been arriving in Syria on a six-week rotation system and the planes bringing them have been photographing areas of military importance in the Middle East, it was learned yesterday in diplomatic quarters here.

The Soviet pilots, according to this information, include jet flyers and are selected from Moslem areas of the Soviet Union such as Armenia and Kurdistan.

They have been traveling, the sources said, in high-speed reconnaissance planes from Soviet air bases in the southern Caucasus and fly over northern Iran and northern Iraq on the way to Syria. The "territorial air" of Turkey, a NATO member, thus is not violated.

The Soviet photographers on the planes, it was said, are paying close attention, for mapping purposes, to troop concentrations and bases in northern Iraq. The sources said Soviet planes can fly over northern Iraq, and also northern Iran, at a high altitude without detection or interference.

Iran and Iraq are members of the Baghdad pact along with Britain, Turkey and Pakistan. The United States recently pledged its support to this Middle East defensive alliance.

According to other information reaching Paris, Egypt with its own resources and with arms left behind in Jordan by departing British troops, has been equipping "naval commando" teams in the southern approaches to the Suez canal and the Gulf of Aqaba.

A unit of frogmen, transferred from the Suez canal area, has been established at Gardaka, on the eastern Egyptian coast along the Red sea, reports here said. This is about 60 miles across the sea from Sharm el Sheikh, one of the bases for the United Nations Emergency Force at the southern end of the Sinai peninsula.

A second base has been set up, it was said, at Ktbah, the nearest Egyptian position to Eilat on the western side of the Gulf of Aqaba. This base, it was said, is being supplied from the Saudi Arabian coast on the other side of the gulf.

Operations at both bases were reported under control of Egyptian Col. Zachariah Mohaiedin, an intelligence chief who maintains close contact with the Saudi Arabian mission at Cairo.

WHOOPING CRANE IN NEW ORLEANS ZOO LAYS AN EGG

NEW ORLEANS, April 17 (AP) — Josephine, one of the three whooping cranes in captivity, laid an egg yesterday and again revived hopes the birds will not become extinct.

"It's the best Easter egg in the world," said George Douglass, director of the Audubon Park zoo, in announcing the event.

Josephine and her mate, Crip, are the only mated pair in captivity. The third whooper is in the San Antonio, Tex., zoo. Whooping cranes appear doomed to extinction unless they can be bred in captivity. Only 26 wild ones were found in the last count in November, 1956.

The cranes here hatched two chicks last year. One disappeared the following day; Douglass believes an owl carried it away. The other little whooper died after living 47 days.

The whoopers' enclosure has been strengthened and Douglass ordered an around-the-clock guard over the birds and the egg. Floodlights will burn all night.

EDEN STEADILY IMPROVING

BOSTON, April 19 (AP)—Sir Anthony Eden was reported today to be showing steady improvement after his operation for a bile duct obstruction and is permitted out of bed for short periods.

A bulletin from Dr. Richard B. Cattell of the Lahey Clinic, his surgeon, said that the 59-year-old former British Prime Minister had a good night and slept well.

TITO CHARGES SOVIET IS TRYING TO INCITE UNREST

He Threatens 'Certain Steps' in Blunt Indictment of Policy Toward Yugoslavia.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, April 19 (UP)—President Josip (Tito) Broz warned Russia today that Yugoslavia might "take certain steps" if Soviet-inspired attempts to "poison the relations between our national minorities and the rest of our people," continue. Tito did not say what "steps" he planned.

In a blunt indictment of Soviet policy toward Yugoslavia, Tito also charged in a speech to the Yugoslav Socialist Alliance that:

Soviet leaders Nikita Khrushchev and Nikolai Bulganin had acted "impatiently and improperly" toward Yugoslavia.

"Stalinist tendencies" were still predominant in Soviet foreign policy.

Soviet leaders spoke "in one way today and make a roundabout turn the other day."

(The Associated Press said Tito predicted Yugoslav-Soviet relations would improve in the near future.

(Tito assured Kremlin leaders Yugoslavia is not out to wreck the Communist bloc as he said they implied.)

Tito told the plenary meeting of the 5,000,000-member alliance that Russia was inciting its satellites, particularly Albania, to cause unrest among Yugoslavia's many minority groups.

"These more or less hurriedly concocted tactics (are) calculated to weaken Yugoslavia as a state and her prestige," he said.

"We must be angry . . . with their attempts to poison the relations between our national minorities and the rest of our people. We shall have to say this again in some better, formal way . . . we shall have to take certain steps."

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 19—Extradition papers for the return of L. Ewing Scott from Detroit to Los Angeles to face charges of murder, forgery and grand theft were signed by Gov. Goodwin J. Knight today.

Scott, a former St. Louisan, is accused of killing his wife and taking her fortune, estimated at $600,000.

At Detroit yesterday his bond was set at $100,000 and he was unable to furnish it. He was allowed to have $1500 of $10,400 found in his possession when he was arrested at Windsor, nOt., last Monday. Return of the $1500 was ordered by a United States district judge for Scott to use in employing counsel.

CITY WILL START REPAVING WORK ON STREETS; TO COST $426,000

Covering Abandoned Streetcar Tracks Is Major Part of Program — P.S. Co. to Pay Part.

A $426,000 street resurfacing program, most of it to cover abandoned streetcar tracks but in some cases involving curb-to-curb repaving, will get under way next week, Director of Streets Frank Kriz announced today.

Largest project and the one that will be started first is Broadway, on which crews will begin at the southern city limits. It is estimated to cost about $278,000, of which $150,000 will come from 1955 bond issue funds and $125,000 from St. Louis Public Service Co.

The sections and the nature of the work on Broadway follow.

City limits to Schirmer avenue, recovering tracks only.

Schirmer to Elwood street, tracks and curb-to-curb.

Elwood to Mount Pleasant street, tracks only.

Mount Pleasant to Gasconade street, tracks and curb-to-curb.

Gasconade to Chippewa street, tracks only.

Chippewa to Utah street, tracks only at this time but curb-to-curb later when a $600,000 widening project is completed. The widening is a 1944 bond issue project.

Utah to Russell boulevard, tracks and curb-to-curb.

Russell to Chouteau avenue, tracks only.

Chouteau to Carr street, tracks and curb-to-curb.

Most of the rails on North Broadway have been covered but two track sections from East Grand avenue to Adelaide avenue and from Antelope street to Grape avenue will be resurfaced. In addition, when another 1944 bond issue widening project between Dock and Angelica streets is completed, the full width will be resurfaced.

Washington avenue from Third street to Jefferson avenue will be resurfaced curb-to-curb and from Jefferson to Leffingwell avenue will be resurfaced only in the track area. In addition, the tracks on Leffingwell from Washington to Franklin avenue will be covered. The Washington and Leffingwell projects will cost $81,000, with Public Service Co. contributing $21,000.

Other sections of tracks in various parts of the city, including completion of all the downtown area except Franklin avenue and Pine and Olive streets will cost $20,000. Curb-to-curb resurfacing of Fourth street from Franklin to Chouteau will cost $50,000, most of it to be borne by the city.

Kriz said city crews would do most of the track covering but that curb-to-curb repaving would be done by contractors and paid for out of 1955 bond issue funds.

SUICIDE VERDICT IN DEATH OF MAN WHO STABBED WIFE

A coroner's verdict of suicide was returned at Clayton today in the death of Carl W. Lindner, Ellisville, who died of a stab wound Wednesday after he had stabbed his wife and Charles A. Garlock. Mrs. Lindner and Garlock are in St. Louis County Hospital.

Lindner died from a stab wound in his abdomen, it was testified. A note Lindner had addressed but not mailed to his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Pursley, St. Clair, Mo., was also introduced in evidence. It said in part: "I guess this is it. Goodby and good luck."

Garlock told police Lindner attacked him and Mrs. Lindner with a knife in a course of a discussion at the Lindner home about his wife's friendship with Garlock. Lindner first stabbed his wife and then pursued Garlock to the front lawn where he stabbed the visitor eight times during a struggle. Lindner collapsed shortly thereafter and died.

CAMERA, EQUIPMENT VALUED AT $6393 STOLEN FROM CAR

Theft of a motion picture camera and other photographic equipment with a total value of $6393 was reported to police today by Bradford Whitney, vice president of Condor Films Inc.

Whitney said the equipment was stolen last night from his automobile, parked in front of his home at 5062 Westminster place. The car was locked but the thieves broke a ventilating window, he reported.

The motion picture camera, valued at $5300, would have a very limited market for sale by those who stole it, Whitney pointed out. Condor Films makes industrial motion pictures and television commercials.

ADMITS 13 ROBBERIES OF WEST END HOMES

Ex-Convict Confesses After He Is Identified by One Victim.

Wilbert Hutt, a former convict living in the 5200 block of Ridge avenue, today confessed he committed 13 burglaries of West End homes in recent weeks, after he was identified by one victim who surprised him in her home.

Mrs. Frances Turner, 5115 Palm street, gave a description of an intruder in her home to police last Wednesday. Officers arrested Hutt in the neighborhood a short time after he had fled empty-handed from the Turnr home.

Although Hutt denied entering the house at first, he admitted it after Mrs. Turner identified him. He then confessed 13 other burglaries and led police to about $4000 in loot he had taken. It consisted mostly of clothing, together with a few clocks and radios.

When arrested, Hutt was carrying a short length of slat from a venetian blind which he said he used to force locks on doors. He said he always conducted his operations in the daytime.

Hutt, who was once sentenced to a four-year term for burglary and then paroled, was named in a warrant issued yesterday. The arresting officers were Sgt. Edward Leonard and Patrolman Oswaldo Pucci.

FUND LIQUIDATION WOULD SPEED NEW SCHOOL PROJECTS

About $300,000 would become available immediately to the Board of Education for starting two urgently needed capital improvements if voters approve liquidation of a permanent fund of $4,370,760 in a special election May 16, it was reported yesterday by a school board committee.

The two improvements, which have been given top priority by the board, are construction of a new high school in north St. Louis and an addition to McKinley high school. Cost of both is estimated at $3,500,000.

The committee met yesterday with representatives of civic and labor organizations to discuss organizing a campaign for passage of the proposed fund liquidation. Concern over confusing wording of the ballot was expressed by several persons at the meeting.

Election Board offices at 208 South Twelfth street will be open until 9 o'clock tonight and until 5 p.m. tomorrow for St. Louisians who wish to register or to transfer their address to vote in the special election. The deadline for registering or transferring is Monday.

TWO INDICTED IN ROBBERY OF LIFE INSURANCE OFFICE

Robbery indictments were returned by a circuit court grand jury yesterday against Thomas M. Bayne and Theodore Arthur Larson in the $5318 robbery of the Prudential Life Insurance Co. branch office April 12. The office is at 5945 West Florissant avenue.

Bayne, an auditor for the company 18 years, and Larson were arrested the night of April 12 and admitted, police said, that they planned and executed the robbery.

Larson, an unemployed mechanic, came to St. Louis recently from Oklahoma and was living with Bayne in his apartment at 5602 Enright avenue.

BURGLARS BIND GUARD, HAMMER OPEN TWO SAFES

Work Three Hours to Obtain $300 After Gaining Entrance Through Ruse.

Lee Simpson, a watchman at the Cipco Corp., 2208 Cole street, was overpowered and bound with tape last night by burglars who worked three hours to batter open two safes, Simpson reported to police. They escaped with about $300.

Simpson, a Negro, of 1343 Arlington avenue, said he answered a knock at the front door of the company's building about 8:15 p.m. He unlocked the door when a man standing outside announced, "Western Union," he said.

The man drew a revolver and pushed his way into the building, Simpson said. The watchman told police he was ordered to the second-floor office, his hands and feet were bound with adhesive tape and a jacket was thrown over his head. He was forced to lie on the floor.

Two or three other burglars joined the first man, Simpson said. They shoved a large safe and a medium-sized safe out of the office into a factory section of the building and began battering the safes with sledge hammers.

One of the men spoke to Simpson several times, the watchman said, and once used his nickname, "Skip," in addressing him.

After three hours of work with the sledge hammers the burglars were able to obtain the contents of the safes. Simpson said he heard them leave the building. A few minutes later he worked himself loose from his bonds and called police.

Edward Rottmann, president of the firm, which manufactures hardware, made the $300 loss estimate.

CUSTOMER TRIES TO PAWN CLERK'S OWN HI-FI PLAYER

Silas Jordan Jr., an employe of Friedman Loan Co., 2718 Market street, had a special reason for examining carefully a high fidelity record player a customer attempted to pawn yesterday. It was Jordan's record player.

Jordan, unaware that his apartment at 2210 Cass avenue had been entered by burglars earlier in the day, made a quick double check of the serial number. He called police.

The customer, who identified himself as Thomas N. Cole, 22 years old, 2700 block of Dayton street, was arrested. He contended he was attempting to pawn the player for two other men waiting outside in an automobile.

Cole and the men in the car, all Negroes, were booked by police. All told different stories about how the record player came into their possession. Jordan, also a Negro, went home and found his apartment door had been forced.

BUILDING MATERIAL TRUCK DRIVERS OK PAY RISE PACT

Pay increases of 10 to 13 cents an hour were accepted last night by Teamsters' Local 682 from the St. Louis Material Dealers' Association. The local represents truck drivers employed in the building construction industry.

The contract, approved by 398 to 10 votes, will become effective May 1. It provides a 10-cent an hour increase for ready-mixed truck drivers to a minimum of $2.55 an hour, and an additional 10 cents effective May 1, 1958.

A 13-cent an hour increase was provided for drivers of dump trucks up to eight tons to $2.30, and an additional 12 cents effective May 1, 1958. The contract provided a 10-cent an hour increase for all other classifications to $2.74, and an additional 10 cents effective May 1, 1958.

Eruption of Mt. Etna Lessens.

CATANIA, Sicily, April 19 (AP)—Mount Etna's eruption lessened today and, at least for the time being, danger ended to hamlets far down on the volcano's side. Yesterday explosions from the crater shook the village of Zafferana, about 2000 feet up on the 10,758-foot volcano.

NEW LEGAL TEST HERE ON FORCING PHONE REMOVALS

Suit Involves Interpretation of Order on Devices Used for Gambling.

A legal test of a new approach to forcing removal of telephones suspected of being used for gambling was started yesterday when Circuit Judge James F. Nangle signed a consent order temporarily barring removal of four telephones from Laurel Tobacco Shop, 5860 Delmar boulevard.

The temporary restraining order against Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., which was prepared to remove the telephones today, was issued with the consent of Circuit Attorney Thomas F. Eagleton, who had requested the removal.

Judge Nangle's ruling stems from an interpretation of the Missouri Supreme Court's decision in the Pioneer News Service case seven years ago. In that case, the Supreme Court held that Judge Nangle erred in ordering Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. to restore telephone service to the racing news syndicate.

Original jurisdiction to determine if the telephone company may remove the phones is vested in the Missouri Public Service Commission and not in the courts, the Supreme Court ruled.

In the Pioneer News case, the phones had been removed when the matter was brought before Judge Nangle, but those in the Laurel Tobacco Shop are still in, it was pointed out.

Eagleton told a reporter that the circuit court apparently has authority only to preserve the status quo as of the time court proceedings are begun, and that final authority lies with the Public Service Commission.

The circuit attorney said a favorable decision by the commission, if upheld by the Supreme Court, would "strengthen my hand" in removing telephones from places in which gambling is suspected but the operators have not been convicted.

"I could then order removal of these phones without having the telephone company give prior notice to the establishments' operators," Eagleton stated. The burden would then be on the gambling suspects to get the phones re-installed, he said.

Under yesterday's ruling, Victor Padratzik, operator of the tobacco shop, has 15 days to file a complaint with the commission against the proposed removal of his phones. If he fails to do so, the temporary restraining order will be dissolved and the phones removed.

Padratzik has on numerous occasions been booked suspected of setting up and keeping a common gaming house following police raids on his tobacco shop. Records show he was fined $25 in 1946 for gambling with dice.

In seeking a court order to prevent removal of his phones, he contended they were being used for ordinary business purposes and not in connection with any unlawful activities.

ST. LOUIS WOMAN SEEKS DIVORCE FROM MOSLEM

Difficulties a St. Louis woman experienced when living in Iraq as the wife of a Moslem were described by Mrs. Shirley Mae Al-Sader, 5340 Delmar boulevard, in a divorce suit filed in circuit court today against Hussain M. Al-Sader. She alleged general indigities.

Mrs. Al-Sader, the former Shirley Amass, said her husband persuaded her to go to Baghdad to visit his family following their marriage here Sept. 18, 1954. He had been in this country as a student.

In her petition, Mrs. Al-Sader said she could not appear outdoors in Iraq without her husband. When she did, she had to wear "a very long" robe extending from her head to the ground. She stated she and her husband separated in March 1956 when he refused to return to the United States. Mrs. Al-Sader, 26 years old, is working here as a secretary.

$18,000,000 Assessment Rise To Set Realty Valuation Record

Scheduled Increase Would Push City Total to $1,222,000,000—12,000 Parcels Outside Downtown Affected.

An increase of $18,000,000 in St. Louis real estate assessments scheduled to be put into effect this year would raise total real estate valuations to a record of $1,222,000,000, a study of the assessor's records showed today.

The rises, however, amount to only about 1.5 per cent of last year's total real estate valuation of $1,204,000,000.

The boosts will be borne by some owners of downtown property and owners of about 12,000 parcels of real estate outside the downtown area.

Notices of the increases will be sent to those outside the downtown section beginning Monday. Property owners will be invited to go to the assessor's office before May 1 if they have any questions about their assessments. Owners of downtown property affected were notified of the increases earlier this year.

Subject to Appeal.

The rises on both groups of property are subject to appeal to the Board of Equalization, which will begin hearings May 20.

William B. Prose, acting city assessor, said the increases ordered this year are part of a continuing revaluation of real estate which the city started in 1946.

Prose said 45,939 parcels of real estate were studied by the assessor's office in the past year. Valuations were ordered increased in 20,281 cases, decreased in 7918 and left unchanged in 17,740 others.

The pieces of property on which increases were ordered for 1957 amount to about 14 per cent of the 150,000 parcels of real estate assessed by the city.

If last year's total tax rate of $3.27 on each $100 of assessed valuation is retained this year, the $18,000,000 valuation increase would result in additional tax revenue of about $588,600.

The city's share of this increase, based on the 1956 tax rate of $1.81, would amount to about $325,800.

Prose said valuations on buildings are based on the 1942 reproduction cost less depreciation at the rate of 2 per cent each year since their construction.

Tax Burden Discussed.

The need for increased city revenue and redistribution of the municipal tax burden here was stressed by Comptroller John Poelker and Alek A. Rozental, professor of economics at St. Louis University, in a television program last night.

Participating in a panel discussion on station KTVI, Poelker said some increase in the city tax levy may be needed if minimum municipal services are to be maintained. The tax load, he said, should be spread to cover as many groups and individuals as possible.

Rozental advocated a municipal income tax, which would provide exemptions, to replace the present city earnings tax.

Sidney Zagri, community relations director of Local 688, Teamsters Union, and moderator of the program, suggested consideration be given to increasing personal property assessments on commercial firms. The program is sponsored by Joint Council 13 of the Teamsters Union.

OLIVETTE LEVIES 5 PCT. TAX ON RECEIPTS OF UTILITIES

An ordinance levying a tax of 5 per cent on the gross receipts of public utilities was passed by the Olivette city council last night. The ordinance will become effective immediately and be collected semi-annually, in February and August. No estimate of the amount of money to be raised was announced.

The utility tax, on telephone, electricity, gas and water service, was authorized by Olivette's status as a third-class city, achieved by a vote of the residents last Jan. 22. It had been a town.

The municipality has been operating on an annual budget of $100,000, with a real estate and personal tax rate of 45 cents per $100 of valuation, merchant's licenses ranging from $25 to $200, and a gasoline tax of one-half cent a gallon.

EAST SIDE SCHOOL BOARD PICKS FIRST NEGRO PRESIDENT

Dr. Arthur M. Jackson Jr. became the first Negro to head the East St. Louis Board of Education when he was elected its president last night. He had previously been the first Negro member of the Board.

This is the second three-year term for the physician. He lives and has offices at 1324 Missouri avenue, East St. Louis.

James M. Fristoe was re-elected with Dr. Jackson to the seven-member board last Saturday, and Edward R. Cunningham was elected as a new member. Jackson succeeds Charles W. Hook as board president.

RAPIDLY-MOVING POLICE DECLARED BEST CRIME CURB

Consultant for St. Louis Force Advocates Placing Beat Men in Autos.

Effective crime prevention requires a fast-moving police force of qualified officers, O. W. Wilson, consultant in a reorganization study of the Police Department here, said yesterday.

"Hoodlums don't attack if a policeman is nearby," he told a luncheon meeting of the junior section of the Bar Association of St. Louis at Hotel York. H. Sam Priest, president of the Board of Police Commissioners, also addressed the gathering of about 50 lawyers and others.

Wilson, who is dean of the school of criminology at the University of California, advocated placing beat policemen in automobiles.

"A conspicuous patrol is the best way to lessen the opportunities for criminal offenses and to discourage lawbreakers," he asserted. "Police officers should appear frequently and unexpectedly.

"The element of surprise is emphasized when officers can move quickly from one spot to another. On the other hand, foot patrolmen are handicapped in getting rapidly to a crime committed on their beats and handling it once they arrive."

Motorized patrols of the kind advocated by Wilson were put into operation recently on some police beats here.

Wilson, a former patrolman and police chief, said the future of police protection in St. Louis depends on the resources made available to the department.

"That means getting qualified men. To do so, police service must be made attractive through adequate salaries. That is an expensive procedure.

"It reinforces the need to use manpower most effectively to reduce the crime rate, which has been rising in St. Louis as it has in other parts of the country."

Priest said the police board already is seeking some of the changes advocated by Wilson.

Wilson is serving as a consultant to the Governmental Research Institute, which last month announced plans for a detailed survey of the Police Department. The study is to serve as a policy yardstick for the police board.

Rackets Inquiry

Malloy, two of the Scranton union's business agents, are charged in an indictment with accepting $4200 from Bettendorf, who was providing warehouse pallets to the Army's Toby-Hanna Signal Corps depot near Scranton during construction work there in 1953-54.

"We were forced to pay," Bettendorf said, adding that the only way a truck could enter the depot was by paying the union.

McClellan has announced that under the committee's rules anyone named in derogatory fashion in the testimony can have a chance to reply—either as a witness or in a sworn statement—by asking for it.

The chairman, however, had left the city before Bettendorf's telegram arrived. So had chief counsel Robert F. Kennedy. A reply to Bettendorf's request presumably will be made when they return.

McHugh and Malloy, along with a third business agent, John Durkin, also are charged with accepting money from two subcontractors at the depot and with demanding money from another.

The special committee, conducting a nation-wide search for evidence of racketeering in labor and industry, wound up public hearings yesterday on alleged violence and terrorism on Scranton's labor scene. But testimony by the three business agents that they are waiting trial on payoff charges including extortion, opened the new field for inquiry as to what about those who allegedly paid the money.

Durkin, McHugh and Malloy entered vigorous denials that they dealt in terrorism, as alleged by convicted dynamiter Paul Bradshaw, who described himself as a former strong-arm man for the union.

McClellan said the Justice Department would be asked to determine whether anyone should be prosecuted for perjury.

"There is no question that perjury was committed," he said, as a special transcript of the testimony was sent to Attorney General Herbert Brownell.

The three business agents were excused from answering questions about the alleged pay-offs because they are awaiting trial on these charges, but McHugh volunteered a denial that he "ever took any bribes from anybody."

Bradshaw had testified he was offered $200 a week by "a fellow named Bettendorf" to waive a requirement that an extra driver be assigned to each Bettendorf truck driving to the Tobyhanna depot. He said he refused, referred the caller to McHugh, and the next day was told to be less strict with Bettendorf trucks.

Brownell to Suggest Laws on Labor Racketeering.

LOS ANGELES, April 19 (UP) — Attorney General Herbert Brownell said last night he would make recommendations to the special Senate committee for legislation to cope with labor racketeering.

Brownell said he was going to seek "legislation which I think would make it much easier for the Federal Government to step in" and act against any improper labor activities.

The Attorney General said in an interview that although the Justice Department has convicted more than 100 labor racketeers in the last three years, his office has been powerless to act in many cases because of the lack of empowering federal legislation.

"As an example, take when a labor union leader misuses his power and embezzles funds, say of a labor health and welfare fund," Brownell said. "For three years the Federal Government has been trying to get legislation making this a federal offense, but so far no action has been taken.

Portland Tape Recordings Played at Closed Session.

PORTLAND, Ore., April 19 (AP) — Attorneys for gambler James (Big Jim) Elkins got a chance yesterday to listen to the recorded conversations the Government says Elkins obtained through wire-tapping.

The press and the public were barred from the United States district courtroom while the tape recordings were played.

Elkins and his employe, Raymond F. Clark, 33 years old, former policeman, are accused of tapping phone conversations between District Attorney William Langley, Thomas Maloney of Seattle and Spokane, and others involved in a Portland vice investigation.

Langley was convicted in a state circuit court last week of failing to prosecute gamblers. He is under several other state indictments, as is Maloney, who has been accused of plotting with Langley to foster gambling in Portland.

Elkins, who also faces a number of state charges, was a witness against Langley in the trial last week.

District Judge William B. East earlier indicated the public would not be barred, but the jury would be removed when the tape recordings were played. But when the time came, the judge decided to bar both the public and the jury until the conversations were heard and points of law cleared up.

Radioactivity

called this "a definite possibility."

The "permissible maximum" is the highest level of radiation considered by scientists to be safe for human beings. Terrill emphasized, however, that this "hazard stage" had not been reached.

"Last fall, after a series of Russian tests, the combination of persistence and concentration (of radiation) was at a peak," he went on.

"A peak consistency of a week or more would be cause for concern," and the September period "was on that order," he added.

Other Factors Involved.

Terrill said, however, that other factors, including freak winds and unusual amounts of rainfall, could have contributed to the high September readings. Unusual winds and rains "conceivably" could have carried some remaining radioactive particles from the earlier American tests, he said.

At the 33 stations comprising the surveillance network, air is drawn through a filter and particles above a certain size are deposited on the filter. Terrill explained. The particles can then be analyzed for air contaminants, including "gross radiation."

Recalling the September episode, Rechen said he was awakened at 1 a.m. Sept. 6 by a telephone call from the station at Anchorage and informed that a reading there the previous day had been 5.27 micromicrocuries of Beta-emitting particles per cubic meter of air.

"They seemed pretty excited about it and wanted to know what to do," he related. "I told them there was nothing to do but get accurate records."

From then on, the high readings began coming in, showing a general west-to-east pattern as the radioactive air moved across the United States, Rechen said. On Sept. 5, there was a measurement of 10.9 micromicrocuries at Juneau, Alaska, a reading of 4.36 at Seattle and 3.00 at Portland, Ore.

By comparison, Anchorage had had measurements of 0.10 to 0.90 in the period immediately preceding Sept. 5. Juneau had measured 0.14 and 0.16; Portland had had 1.38, and Seattle had measured 0.12 to 1.04.

Jump in Readings.

In the following week, Sept. 7-13, Indianapolis had readings as high as 5.76, which Rechen called "very noticeable," and Lansing, Mich., had 5.25, also "very noticeable." Rechen said "higher than usual" measurements were decorded in New Orleans, Oklahoma City, Austin, Tex., and Denver that week.

The figures were higher in Honolulu, with one reading of 15.2, and in Las Vegas, Nev., with one measurement of 13.6.

In the next week, Sept. 14-20, Gastonia, N.C., had one reading of 20.1; which Rechen said was "undoubtedly the highest they had ever had there." Atlanta had a measurement of 11.8, Oklahoma City, 16.0, Austin, 16.9, Salt Lake City, 14.4.

In the final week, Sept. 21-27, Springfield, Ill., had one measurement of 24.1 micromicrocuries of Beta particles per cubic meter of air; Jacksonville, Fla., had a high of 13.62; Indianapolis reached 23.75, and Jefferson City had one reading of 18.5.

Rechen referred to weekly reports from these same stations and others to show that the usual measurement starts at about 0.10 micromicrocurie and ranges up to 2.00 or thereabouts. Seldom going higher than 3.00 except after weapons tests. A micromicrocurie is a unit measurement of radioactivity.

To constitute a health and biological hazard to human life, readings of about 100 micromicrocuries per cubic meter of air would have to be recorded over a prolonged period, and September's findings thus cannot be considered immediately dangerous, Rechen said.

'Fresh' Material Noted.

In addition, it was established that the September fallout contained largely "fresh" radioactive material, Rechen said. This, he explained, is considered less dangerous than older material in which harmful radioactive isotopes such as strontium-90 have had time to form.

Public Health Service scientists and sanitarians believe it will be necessary to study the levels of radioactivity for several years to determine the concentrations of older radioactive material in air, water and food.

If the amounts of dangerous isotopes with longer "half lives" grow steadily higher, the biologic and genetic consequences could be harmful, several scientific groups have said.

The joint committee set hearings May 27 through June 7 on the dangers of radioactive fallout, with Representative Chet Holifield (Dem.), California, as subcommittee chairman.

In a speech last week, Dr. Willard F. Libby, a member of the AEC, said radioactive strontium, an isotope produced in atomic bomb explosions and some hydrogen bomb detonations, "has a natural tendency to stay in our bones and thus to irradiate them."

"The effects of irradiation of bone," he continued, "are bone tumor and leukemia." As yet, however, "there is no evidence of any observable effect" in amounts sufficient to cause bone cancer, he added.

At the same time, Libby warned that "we must not deprecate or casually dismiss the possible results of a widespread, but low intensity, effect in causing these disabilities."

Rechen told the Post-Dispatch the health service report now being prepared would cover the period from April 15, when the 33-station network went into operation, to Dec. 31. He said he expected the report to be made public sometime this summer.

The surveillance network, manned principally by employes of state health departments and volunteer workers, was set up primarily to operate after periods of weapons testing and is not in full operation now, although the health service has informed state health officials it will measure any air samples they wish to send in, Terrill said.

Rechen said it was planned to put the network back in full operation sometime this spring. After the September period, fewer samples were taken, partly because of the strain on volunteers who had to work "almost around the clock," he added.

Another air surveillance network, composed of about 80 sampling stations, has been in operation for two years, as part of the health service's air polution program, Terrill said. Under this arrangement, air samples are taken once a week.

Both networks are included in the health service program to measure radioactivity in air, water and food. One phase of the program, a pilot study is underway to measure the amount of Strontium-90 in milk.

needs that far ahead. It is my opinion that the city would save money if a number of those channels were cut out."

Of the people who have to wait for their prescriptions to be filled, Kieffer said, perhaps one out of 100 pays for the medicine he gets.

"Even if you go to a private pharmacy to have some prescriptions filled, you would have to wait an hour," Kieffer said. "Of course, when you are paying for it at a drug store, you can get delivery service."

Drugs of High Quality.

The drugs given free, for the most part, by City Hospital to the people who wait for their prescriptions are high quality products, Kieffer said.

"I don't believe there is a charitable hospital anywhere in the United States that carries as good a line of drugs as our municipal hospitals," Kieffer said. "When penicillin was much costlier than it is now, we were issuing it while municipal hospitals in other cities were still using less expensive sulfa drugs."

It is regrettable that people have to wait to receive their prescriptions, Kieffer said, but with only five pharmacists authorized for the department and a sixth one badly needed, there is little chance to improve the situation.

He said that with the pharmacists working a 40-hour week, the department operated on a seven-day schedule. Vacations and sick leave make inroads on the staff's potential man-hours of work, Kieffer said.

"It requires 3½-hours' work a day by two men to prepare the trays of medicines and drugs ordered by the doctors for the patients in the hospital," he said. "And then we must take care of those people waiting at the window. Sometimes a person being discharged from the hospital will take as many as seven or eight prescriptions home. The pharmacists must fill, on the average, about 300 prescriptions a day."

Kieffer said the city starts its pharmacists at $354 a month, while a graduate of a pharmacy school can earn $100 a week from private employers.

"There's not much hope of improving the situation in the hospital pharmacy until the city can match the offers of private pharmacies," Kieffer said.

SPAIN IS WARNED ON JOINING NATO

LONDON, April 19 (AP) — Moscow radio warned the Spanish people last night against joining the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

"This entails terrible risks," said the Spanish language broadcast, which came just a week after the United States Congress urged Spain's admission to the Atlantic alliance.

The Kremlin station told the Spanish people in terms similar to recent warnings to NATO members and other United States allies that any soil used as a base for aggression would be subject to retaliation.

"The NATO military technicians want to widen the base of aggression on the two flanks," Moscow radio said, "using for this purpose the Scandinavian and Iberian (Spanish) peninsulas . . .

'Terrible Risks.'

"They think that in this way they will be able to multiply their number of aggressive bases while at the same time decreasing their density and therefore their vulnerability.

"This entails terrible risks which do not unduly worry the American Senators but which must worry the Spanish people as it is already worrying the French, British and so many other European peoples already enmeshed in the NATO net."

Congress completed action last Friday on a joint Senate-House resolution urging the State Department to continue its efforts to secure Spain's membership in NATO. The State Department has said it is trying to "create a climate favorable to eventual Spanish participation in NATO." The United States is building airfields in Spain for use in the defense of western Europe.

The Moscow radio also accused the NATO countries, and the United States in particular, of trying to pressure the Arab nations by holding naval exercises earlier this month in the Dardenelles area. United States, British and Turkish forces participated in a practice landing on Turkey's Gallipoli peninsula, on the north side of the outer gateway to the Black sea.

President at Desk Early.

Mr. Eisenhower, Hagerty said, was in his vacation office at the golf club at 8 a.m. today reading reports brought by plane from Washington this morning and dictating letters to a secretary. He expected to have his golfing finished by late afternoon, when he will welcome Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey and Mrs. Humphrey for a weekend visit at the presidential cottage on the club grounds.

Hagerty said the presidential invitation to the Humphreys was in repayment of the Secretary's hospitality at Milestone Plantation, Thomasville, Ga., where the President and Mrs. Eisenhower visited in February.

Asked whether Humphrey plays golf, Hagerty said no, adding, "Maybe we can convert him."

The Humphreys will come from Washington in the presidential plane Columbine III. A passenger on the plane will be Senator Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, who lives in nearby Aiken. Thurmond will not be a guest at the Eisenhower cottage.

No Delay About Golf.

Hagerty said Mr. Eisenhower played 18 holes of golf yesterday afternoon with the club professional, Ed Dudley and William Robinson, president of the Coca-Cola Co. Mr. Eisenhower was on the course an hour after his arrival from Washington for a spring vacation expected to last about 10 days.

The President played yesterday despite an occasional light drizzle. Weather prospects appeared somewhat brighter today.

Hagerty said he knew of no plans for Good Friday observance by the President.

Lodge Back From Europe.

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP) —Henry Cabot Lodge, permanent United States representative to the United Nations, returned today by air from a two-week visit to United Nations agencies in Paris, Geneva and Rome. He said he will report to the State Department next week on his trip.

Boost in Parcel Post Rates Is Sought in Petition to ICC

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP) —The Post Office Department asked the Interstate Commerce Commission today for authority to increase parcel post rates by about $4,300,000 a year.

The petition estimated the parcel post service was losing that amount annually, and said Postmasted General Summerfield would shortly submit specific proposals on how to apply the increase.

Authority was sought also to make such changes in the regulations covering zones, weights and parcel size as may be deemed necessary in connection with the rate revisions.

Abe Goff, the department's general counsel, filed the petition. He noted that under a 1951 law the department cannot withdraw its appropriated funds for any purpose unless parcel post is on a self-supporting basis, or showing can be made that the ICC has been asked for rate adjustments which will cover operating costs.

Parcel post or fourth-class mail rates and regulations are made by the Postmaster General with the "consent" of ICC. Congress fixes the rates for first-class, second-class and third-class mail, on which Summerfield is now seeking increases designed to yield more than $400,000,000 a year in additional revenue.

By the United Press.

Representative Chet Holifield (Dem.), California, said yesterday the Post Office Department was losing $21,486,000 a year in handling four nationally circulated magazines at current second-class postage rates.

He made the comment as the House Post Office Committee concluded month-long hearings on Summerfield's request for higher postal rates. The committee will start considering the rate increase bill April 30.

Holifield said the post office was losing $9,310,000 a year on Life magazine; $4,172,000 on Reader's Digest; $6,087,000 on Saturday Evening Post; and $1,917,000 on Ladies Home Journal.

He said he resented recent "attacks" on postal losses made by a Life officer and in a Reader's Digest article.

In concluding testimony before the committee, Deputy Postmaster General Maurice H. Stans said regular and airmail letters and third-class (advertising) mail would pay their way if Congress approves the increases in postal rates. But, he said, second-class rates would cover only 59 per cent of the total handling cost.

He said the Post Office would still have a $200,000,000 deficit next year if Congress approves the full increases.

Summerfield is asking for a penny increase in the charge for mailing regular and airmail letters and postcards. He proposed four annual 15 per cent hikes in second-class (newspaper and magazine) rates, and two 33 per cent increases for third class.

No increase were asked for second- and third-class mail of non-profit religous, educational and charitable organizations.

TEST OF AIR 40 MILES UP

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19 (AP)—The Navy yesterday announced development of a special rocket which can test the air as high as 40 miles up for radioactivity.

The instrument carries a radiation detector and a radio transmitter. The radio apparatus reports the readings of the radiation detector while the rocket is in flight.

TURKS LASH OUT AT HARRIMAN FOR BID TO MAKARIOS

ISTANBUL, April 19 (AP)—Protests were raised in Turkey today at Gov. Averell Harriman's invitation to Archbishop Makarios to visit New York.

The Union of Istanbul University Students said it cabled the New York Governor that the invitation to the Greek Cypriot leader was "a disgusting action."

The government news agency commented: "To invite Makarios, a chief of terrorists and assassins, to go to New York and to grasp his bloodstained hand has caused astonishment in Turkey."

Britain's release of the Greek Orthodox archbishop of Cyprus from detention in the Seychelle islands has aroused the ire of many Turks, who bitterly oppose the movement, led by Makarios, for union of the British island colony with Greece.

Turkish Premier Menderes said the public demonstrations and the Greek government's official reception of Makarios showed that the "responsibility of all Makarios's words and actions rests fully with all their weight upon the shoulders of the Greek government. . . . Greece may crown him, she may worship him. But to us, Makarios is a registered terrorist and will remain so."

IBEW ORDERS CLEVELAND LOCAL TO ADMIT NEGROES

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP) —AFL-CIO president George Meany said today the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers had given its Cleveland Local No. 38 until July 1 to revoke a policy of refusing union membership to Negroes.

Meany made the announcement after a conference with representatives of the national IBEW, the Cleveland local and Cleveland law enforcement authorities.

Racial discrimination practices are prohibited under terms of the AFL-CIO constitution.

Meany said the local faces suspension by the IBEW unless it ends racial discrimination. The AFL-CIO chief said the IBEW national president, Gordon Freeman, who attended the meeting, made a commitment to suspension unless the local changes its policy by July 1.

The local's policy was brought to a head when Theodore Pinkston, a Negro worker, was refused a city job because he held no union card.

1956 VA AID TO VETERANS IN MISSOURI $118,977,394

A total of $118,977,394 in cash benefits and services was paid to veterans and their families in Missouri during 1956, J. F. Kelley, manager of the St. Louis Veterans Administration office, said today.

Kelley said that the chief cash benefits for veterans are in the form of compensation for service-connected disabilities and pensions for total and permanent nonservice-connected disabilities.

"Benefits also are paid in the form of compensation to widows, children and dependent parents of veterans who die of service-connected disabilities," Kelley said. He added that pensions also are paid to widows and children of wartime veterans who die of nonservice-connected disabilities, provided the income of the widows and children does not exceed statutory limitations.

COUNTY POLICE TO DEPUTIZE 32 CLAYTON CITY OFFICERS

The 32 members of the Clayton Police Department will be deputized as St. Louis county police officers today at ceremonies in Clayton City Hall, County Police Superintendent, Ray W. Hensley announced.

With the Clayton deputies, the County police now have 117 deputized officers, Hensley said. Clayton is the eleventh county community to take part in the program.

CONGRESS QUITS FOR EASTER; OK'S RELIEF FUNDS

© New York Times News Service.

WASHINGTON, April 19 — Congress adjourned yesterday afternoon for a ten-day Easter holiday with most of its work still to be done.

At what probably is the halfway mark of the 1957 session, only two bills that could by most definitions be called major legislation had gone to the White House. Some of the greatest issues remained to be settled.

Congress will reconvene April 30 and try to wind up the year's business by July 31. The usual whirlwind finish is in prospect.

A Senate-House deadlock over an emergency supplemental appropriation bill was broken yesterday. This cleared an obstacle that for a time had threatened indefinite postponement of the traditional Easter recess.

Public Assistance Grants.

The bill's emergency feature, which itself was not in dispute, was an item for $275,000,000 of public assistance (relief) grants to states for May and June.

Federal funds for the program had been exhausted because of the liberalization last year of the federal-state matching formula. More money was needed by April 20 to process grants for May.

If Congress failed to act, needy aged, dependent children, blind persons and disabled workers on the public assistance rolls in some states would face the prospect of a payless month.

Until yesterday the Senate was insisting on an unrelated provision to finance federal purchases of tungsten and several other metals that have been removed from the strategic stockpile purchase program. The House was insisting on limitation of the amount of public assistance grants that the states could use for administrative purposes.

Subsidy Funds Deleted.

The Senate finally agreed to deletion of the subsidy funds when Senator George Malone, (Rep.), Nevada, failed to carry out a threat to talk until the snow was nine feet deep on Pennsylvania Avenue unless they were included. The House then backed down on the other issue.

Congressional action on the compromise was completed by voice vote in both chambers, and the bill went to the White House. Adjournment quickly followed.

The bill also carries $45,000,000 for small business loans and $90,000 for the customary $22,500 gratuities to widows of four House members who recently died.

Bills Enacted.

As the legislators left for home to rest and fresh contacts with their constituents, the record of major bills enacted was as follows:

1. The Middle East resolution pledging the use of United States troops in the region if requested by a victim of Communist aggression and authorizing a $200,000,000 program of military and economic aid to non-Communist middle eastern countries.

2. A bill to continue present corporation and excise (sales) tax rates for 15 months, or through June 30, 1958.

Among other comparatively minor measures sent to the White House in the session's first three and one-half months were bills to raise the interest rate on United States savings bonds, to continue the small business loan program and to authorize the Federal National Mortgage Association to borrow more money for the purchase of home mortgages.

Bills Facing Legislators.

Facing the legislators on their return are such issues as civil rights, foreign aid, removal of natural gas producers from federal regulation, federal aid for school construction, tax relief and higher postal rates.

The House Judiciary Committee has aproved a bill embodying President Eisenhower's Civil Rights program, but it has not been cleared by the Rules Committee. The Senate Judiciary Committee has not acted.

House committees have completed hearings on school construction and postal rates, but nothing has been done in the Senate.

Bills on foreign aid, natural gas and tax relief are yet to be taken up by comittees on both sides of the Capitol.

The battle of the $71,800,000,000 budget has slowed action on appropriations bills. The House has passed the first 8 of 14 money bills for the 1958 fiscal year which starts next July 1, but none has yet been reported by the Senate Appropriations Committee.

Although the congressional holiday officially ends a week from Easter Monday, Representative John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, House Democratic floor leader, informed his colleagues that nothing controversial would be called up before the following Wednesday and nothing was now in prospect for the remainder of that week.

Most members are likely to accept his implied invitation to rest an extra week and show up for work about May 6.

Action Averts Delay in State Welfare Payments.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 19 —A possible delay in the mailing of welfare checks for May to about 128,000 persons on the various welfare and relief rolls of the state was averted with the passage yesterday by Congress of the necessary appropriation bill to provide the federal share of the social security payments.

Proctor N. Carter, director of the state division of public welfare, had feared the May checks to welfare clients could not be issued at the usual time.

Release of the federal funds will make it possible to pay the May and June rolls for old-age pensions, aid to dependent children, blind persons and disabled persons without delay, Carter said.

The federal social security act provides administrative costs of such welfare programs shall be divided half and half between the Federal Government and the states.

Gov. James T. Blair today sent telegrams to the Missouri delegation in Congress thanking them for their assistance in obtaining timely passage of the bill releasing the federal funds.

Cincinnati Post 7 Cents.

CINCINNATI, April 19 (UP) — The Cincinnati Post announced today it would increase its price from five to seven cents, effective Monday. The boost was attributed to rising costs in material, labor and newsprint.

RELIGIOUS REVIVAL FOUND IN HUNGARY AFTER REVOLT

GENEVA, April 19 (AP)—Russia's suppression of the Hungarian uprising has led to a religious revival in Hungary, an officer of the World Council of Churches reported yesterday after a visit to Budapest.

Dr. Robert Mackie, chairman of the council's division of inter-church aid, said he was able to talk to numerous Hungarian Protestant pastors and bishops on his six-day visit, without being observed.

He said thees talks disclosed that "the events of last aututnn have led to larger attendance at church services and new opportunities for evangelization." Dr. Mackie said most of the Protestant churchmen arrested in and after the uprising had now been released.

DIZZY DEAN IS OFFERED CONTRACT TO ACT IN MOVIE

HOLLYWOOD, April 19 (AP) —Baseball announcer Dizzy Dean may soon be in the movies. C. V. Whitney, who heads a film producing company, said yesterday he has offered the onetime St. Louis Cardinals pitching ace a "four-week, five-figure" contract to appear in 'The Missouri Traveler."

Diz, who reportedly favors the deal, would play the part of a small town storekeeper, Whitney said.

Ben-Gurion

John Foster Dulles said the United States had no reason to believe Egypt would "discriminate against British, French and Israel shipping through the Suez canal" and that all shipping had the right to use the Gulf of Aqaba unless the International Court ruled otherwise.

Disregard of Rights Charged.

But the proposals for solution of the Suez question seem to "disregard Israel's rights completely," the officials said. Official sources said Washington appeared to pay lip service to these rights but refuses to ask Egypt to carry them out.

The Jerusalem Post accused the Arabs today of "creeping aggression" and attacked United Nations armistice officials for failing to concern themselves with the threats to Israel and the "drain of Israeli" lives which it said the armistice commission considered "normal and a matter to be passed in silence."

Such a stand encourages the Arabs to continue their infiltrations, it said.

An Israeli spokesman reported these incidents:

Yesterday morning nine Armed Jordanians penetrated Israel 200 yards and opened machinegun and rifle fire on an Israeli patrol. No casualties were reported.

The U.N. truce supervisory organization appealed for a cease-fire on the Israeli-Syrian border where Israeli and Syrian troops exchanged fire for two hours in the afternoon.

At Gaza, United Nations sources reported a brief exchange of fire last midnight between a group of "unidentified persons" on the Israeli side of the truce demarcation line and a Swedish outpost northeast of Gaza. No casualties were reported.

Concern Over Syrian Clashes.

By the Associated Press.

Israel took a particularly grave view of the continuing clashes along the Israeli-Syrian border. A Foreign Ministry official warned that trouble between Israel and Syria, if it keeps up, "may be very serious."

Yesterday's Israeli - Syrian clash was the ninth reported since March 20. It was the first time the U.N. intervened.

The Jordan-Israel Armistice Commission, meeting in Jerusalem with Israel absent, voted yesterday to censure Israel for an incident reported last Saturday. Jordan said an Israeli army patrol crossed into Jordan and fired on a farmer. He escaped injury.

EDWIN H. HESSE FUNERAL; CITY CLERK OF O'FALLON, ILL.

Funeral services for Edwin H. Hesse, city clerk of O'Fallon, Ill., who was re-elected for his fifth term last Tuesday, will be at 2 p.m. Monday at O'Fallon Evangelical and Reformed Church. Burial will be in O'Fallon Cemetery.

Mr. Hesse died of a cerebral hemorrhage last night at O'Fallon City Hall as he was preparing the official election vote canvass. He had been under the care of a physician for high blood pressure. He was 57 years old. Born on a farm near O'Fallon, he was a bookkeeper before being appointed to his job in 1938 to fill an unexpired term.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Edna Keck Hesse; a daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Johnson, Lebanon, Ill.; his mother, Mrs. Lena Hesse, and a brother, Walter Hesse.

MRS. KOELLING SWORN IN AS SBA OFFICE MANAGER

Mrs. Ruby H. Koelling, former city recorder of deeds, was sworn in today as manager of the St. Louis office of the Small Business Administration by C. I. Moyer, regional director of the agency, with offices in Kansas City.

The ceremony took place in the Federal Building at Twelfth boulevard and Market street, where the agency maintains an office. Moyer pointed out that Mrs. Koelling has the distinction of being the first woman to be appointed manager of any agency office.

The Small Business Administration was created as an iindependent federal organization by an act of Congress in 1953 for the purpose of serving small business enterprises throughout the nation.

RAINIER AND PRINCESS GRACE TO VISIT POPE THIS MONTH

MONTE CARLO, April 19 (AP)—Prince Rainier III and Princess Grace of Monaco said yesterday they would visit Pope Pius XII this month.

The former Grace Kelly will be the first American citizen ever received by the Pontiff under the circumstances of such a state visit. The couple will arrive in Rome by car and stay in a palace put at their disposal as reigning royalty.

They will pay their state call Tuesday. On Wednesday they will give a reception in their Rome palace quarters to return the courtesy. Because protocol forbids the Pope to visit, he will be represented at the reception by one or two cardinals.

Shoots Four in Crowd.

MONTREAL, April 19 (AP)—Police last night arrested an armed man who shot at rush hour crowds at a busy downtown intersection from his third story room in a tourist home. Four persons were wounded, one seriously.

THE OFFICIAL MISSOURI TANGLE TOWNS
TIE-BREAKING PUZZLE
Will Be Published in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch on Sunday, April 21, 1957

In order to break the existing tie, and in accordance with Rule 2 (c) of the Official Missouri Tangle Towns Rules which have appeared from time to time in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch now announces that an official Tie-Breaking Puzzle will be published on Sunday, April 21, 1957. Therefore, if you have CORRECTLY SOLVED (1) ALL OF THE 54 TANGLE TOWNS PUZZLES, submitted on or before 5 P.M., Saturday, March 23, 1957; (2) ALL OF THE 20 TIE-BREAKING PUZZLES, submitted on or before Monday, April 15, 1957; AND HAVE MADE NO MISTAKES in any of the answers, you may now submit the OFFICIAL TIE-BREAKING PUZZLE to compete for prizes in the tie. Both the SAMPLE TIE-BREAKING PUZZLE below, and the Official Tie-Breaking Puzzle to follow, are fascinating diversions and offer many hours of entertainment.

To reduce this coming Official Tie-Breaking Puzzle to its essentials, and also to acquaint players with its method of operation, we have prepared the SAMPLE TIE-BREAKING PUZZLE below. By working it and carefully following instructions, you will be better prepared to work the Official Tie-Breaking Puzzle when it appears.

You will note that Rule 2 (c) of the Official Tangle Towns Rules states:

"In the event of a tie or ties still remaining, those tied will be required to solve another tie-breaking puzzle. Accompanying this tie-breaking puzzle will be an official list of place names in the state of Missouri. From these, entrants will make up a list of place names in accordance with instructions to be given at that time, and the entrant who earns the highest score in so doing will be awarded the highest of the prizes tied for. The next highest prize will be awarded to the entrant earning the second highest score, and so on down through the list of reserved prizes that have been tied for."

For purposes of instruction in working this SAMPLE TIE-BREAKING PUZZLE, and to clarify its method of operation—we have selected 24 place names. Now look at the SAMPLE TIE-BREAKING PUZZLE BELOW!

DO NOT SEND IN THIS PUZZLE!

The Purpose of This Sample Tie-Breaking Puzzle Is to Explain the Operation of the Official Tie-Breaking Puzzle. Do NOT Send It In!

Here is a list of Eligible Place Names for the purpose of solving this Sample Tie-Breaking Puzzle.

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| ANABEL | FAIRPORT | PAINTON |
| BELLE | GERSTER | QUICK CITY |
| CARDWELL | HELENA | RAYVILLE |
| COLDWATER | HOLCOMB | SHELDON |
| DEERING | JAMESTOWN | TINA |
| DEFIANCE | KINDER | VERONA |
| DREXEL | LONEDELL | WHEELING |
| EDGERTON | MARSTON | ZION |

AAAAABBCCCDDEEEE
FGHIIIJKLLLMNNNN
OOOOPQRRSTTUVWXYZ

When the Official Tie-Breaking Puzzle is published, the object of the game will be to obtain a score as HIGH as POSSIBLE! You must be careful not to use any one letter more times than it appears in the series of letters provided. There will be certain points credited, and there will be certain points deducted—somewhat in this manner:

- There will be certain points credited for each place name used.
- There will be certain points credited if specified letter combinations are used.
- There will be a bonus of certain points given if all the letters provided are used.
- There will be certain points deducted for each of the letters provided that are NOT used in the place names selected.

SAMPLE SOLUTION FORM

|---|---|
| 1. ANABEL | 5. TINA |
| 2. DEFIANCE | 6. ZION |
| 3. COLDWATER | 7. |
| 4. HOLCOMB | 8. |

| | |
|---|---|
| Total Points for Place Names Used (3 points for each place name used) | 18 |
| Total Points for "AN" (5 points for each "AN" used) | 10 |
| Total Points for "OL" (6 points for each "OL" used) | 12 |
| Bonus allowed for using all letters (20 points if all letters are used) | 0 |
| TOTAL POINTS CREDITED (Add figures above) | 40 |
| Total Pts. Deducted for Letters Not Used. (Deduct 1 point for each of the letters not used) | 11 |
| MY NET SCORE | 29 |

Copyright 1957, Harry H. Hollister Tangle Towns®

REMEMBER — when the Official Tie-Breaking Puzzle is published, winners will be determined by highest scores.

PRACTICE ON THE SAMPLE PUZZLE

Now, for the purpose of working this SAMPLE TIE-BREAKING PUZZLE only, let us assume that:

- 3 points will be credited for each eligible place name used.
- 5 points will be credited each time an "A" and an "N" appear together in that order, "AN".
- 6 points will be credited each time an "O" and an "L" appear together in that order, "OL".
- 1 point will be deducted for each of the above letters NOT USED in the place names selected.
- 20 points will be given as a bonus if all the above letters are used in the place names selected. (This is in addition to all other credits listed above.)

How To Work The Sample Tie-Breaking Puzzle

Now—first count the letters in the series of letters! Remember—No letter may be used more times than that letter appears. You will find that there are 49 letters, in this order:

| | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| 5 . . A's | 1 . . F | 1 . . K | 1 . . P | 1 . . U |
| 2 . . B's | 1 . . G | 3 . . L's | 1 . . Q | 1 . . V |
| 3 . . C's | 1 . . H | 1 . . M | 2 . . R's | 1 . . W |
| 2 . . D's | 3 . . I's | 4 . . N's | 1 . . S | 1 . . X |
| 4 . . E's | 1 . . J | 4 . . O's | 2 . . T's | 1 . . Y |
| | | 1 . . Z | | |

The object, remember, is to get the HIGHEST POSSIBLE SCORE — so let's select the following place names from the list: ANABEL, DEFIANCE, COLDWATER, HOLCOMB, TINA, and ZION. We have used six place names — so at the rate of 3 points for each place name used, we get a total of 18 points for PLACE NAMES USED. We now write 18 on the line provided for "TOTAL POINTS FOR PLACE NAMES USED." We have also used two combinations of "AN." Since each combination of "AN" is worth 5 points, we now write 10 on the line provided for "TOTAL POINTS FOR 'AN'." The combination "OL" has a value of 6 points. Since we have used two combinations of "OL," we credit 12 points on the line provided for "TOTAL POINTS FOR 'OL'." Now we find that in using these six place names, we have used only 38 of the 49 letters. Therefore, we are not entitled to the 20-point bonus given if ALL of the letters are used. Instead, we must deduct 11 points (1 point for each of the 11 letters not used) — leaving us a total of 29 points. Now — You experiment with this Sample Tie-Breaking Puzzle and see if YOU can get a higher score.

FBI JOINS IN INQUIRY INTO MAILED THREAT

Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation joined Granite City police today in an investigation of a special delivery letter received last night by Cameron Van Buskirk, a member of the Granite City Board of Education, threatening harm to his family if he did not resign in 48 hours.

The letter was typewritten on plain white paper and was unsigned. Van Buskirk, who turned the letter over to police immediately after receiving it at 7:30 p.m., said: "Don't think it didn't scare me. I don't know whether it is a joke or the work of a mentally deranged person."

Asked if he had had any arguments with anyone on school board matters, Van Buskirk said he had been dissatisfied with various aspects of operation of the school system. He also said that he and another board member had suggested the school system "needed new blood" recently.

"There have been numerous little things in the school system that I have been dissatisfied with," Van Buskirk said, "but they should not result in a threatening letter."

Van Buskirk, who has operated a grocery store at Twenty-fourth and Benton street for 12 years, lives with his wife and son at 2618 Benton. He is serving the last year of a three-year term on the board.

CAT DID NOT HAVE RABIES

An examination yesterday by the St. Louis County Health Center disclosed that a cat which bit 6-year-old Nancy Gorceman of Moscow Mills, Mo., did not have rabies.

The body of the cat, which died Wednesday after biting the girl, was brought here yesterday for the tests.

NEWBURY TO RESIGN FROM DEFENSE POST

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP) —Secretary of Defense Wilson said today Frank D. Newbury would resign as assistant secretary for research and engineering within a month.

Wilson told a reporter there had been no decision yet as td when the resignation would take effect, but that Newbury had told him he wanted to leave.

Newbury, 76 years old, only recently became head of Pentagon research and engineering in a reorganization that merged separate offices for research and development and engineering.

The appointment aroused concern in some scientific groups that as an engineer Newbury would give greater emphasis to that phase of his job than he would to research. Newbury has denied any bias and has said the merged office would continue defense research on a high level of activity.

Newbury and Wilson are old friends. oBth got their starts in the industrial world with the Westinghouse Electric Corp. Wilson later moved to a company that eventually became part of General oMtors. Newbury remained with Westinghouse, becoming a vice president of that corporation.

The merging of the engineering and research offices at the Pentagon ended a three-year controversy over the boundary of responsibility between the two. Newbury contended that the engineering office, which he had headed since 1953, should have major authority over weapons development.

BIG-STORE SALES IN DOLLARS RISE 10 PCT. FOR WEEK

Department store sales in the St. Louis area for the week ended last Saturday were 10 per cent higher in dollar volume than in the same week a year ago, the Federal Reserve Bank of St. L uois reported today. "The increase reflected the comparison of pre-Easter sales this year with the post-Easter selling period last year," the bank said.

In the Eighth Federal Reserve District as a whole, sales were 9 per cent higher last week than in the corresponding period a year ago.

For the four-week period ended last Saturday, sales were up 4 per cent in the St. Louis area and up 2 per cent in the Eighth District. Sales for the year to date in both St. Louis and the district are down 1 per cent from last year.

Throughout the nation, department store sales averaged about 7 per cent above sales a year ago.

NEW FIVE-YEAR PROGRAM FOR AIR CONTROLS

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP) —The Commerce Department announced yesterday an "expanded and expedited" five-year program for modernizing the nation's air traffic control system.

Cost of the new equipment required is estimated by the Civil Aeronautics Administration at $810,045,000.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks said the program, "to meet jet age needs," has been submitted to Congress.

The program is a revision of the federal airway plan proposed a year ago which called for equipment expenditures of $246,000,000 from 1957 to 1961.

The plan emphasizes new and more effective radar facilities.

James T. Pyle, CAA administrator, said in a report on the program that radar is the best available solution to the air traffic control problem.

"Good Start" Made.

"Although the solution is neither simple nor cheap, it is necessary, practical and reasonable in cost," Pyle said.

Pyle said the original plan submitted a year ago was "well received," and added that Congress appropriated enough money to accomplish in the first year certain parts of the program which had been planned for five years.

"This is a good start . . but it can be only a beginning of the improvement necessary to handle a traffic which may well double, or more nearly treble, in the next 10 years," Pyle said.

"The 1957-1961 five-year plan has therefore been telescoped into the first three years of the plan revised for the period 1957-1962."

Weeks said the telescoping to prepare for jet transport operations, now only two years away, accounted in large part for the increased cost.

Indorsed by Curtis.

He added that Edward P. Curtis, presidential assistant for aviation planning, has indorsed the CAA equipment installation programs as being in line with long-range objectives and as a necessary immediate measure.

Pyle said the plan would provide CAA traffic control experts the "eyes" with which to handle airplanes in flight, landing and on the ground.

It calls for these facilities, among others:

Seventy-three long-range air route surveillance radars (of which 23 already have been purchased) at a total cost of $86,604,000.

Terminal area radars costing $56,547,000, including 115 airport surveillance radars with a range of 60 to 70 miles from an airport (47 of these already are operating or programmed with current funds); 43 precision approach radars, of which 23 already are in the program, and 74 units of airport surface detection equipment — radars for the control of traffic on the ground at major airports.

Other Items Included.

1230 vortac short range navigation system units; total cost, $255,486,000.

Instrument landing system improvements costing $58,526,000, including 20 units in addition to the 170 now in operation, and the incorporation of distance-measuring features into all. An additional 89 units combined with distance measuring components would be installed starting in 1959.

Two hundred thirty-one air traffic control radar beacons or secondary radar units, $24,122,000.

Seventy-seven additional airport traffic control towers, for a total of 271 by 1962, $7,334,000.

Three additional air route traffic control towers, costing $300,000 altogether, increasing the total to 34.

Action on Ending Hostilities.

TOKYO, April 19 (AP) — Japan's upper house today voted final ratification to agreements officially ending World War II hostilities with Poland and Czechoslovakia. Formal reopening of diplomatic relations awaits exchange of ratification documents. Poland has not yet ratified the end-of-war agreement.

Ben W. Hooper Dies.

NEWPORT, Tenn., April 19 (AP)—Ben W. Hooper, former Governor of Tennessee and Republican leader, died of pneumonia yesterday. He was 86 years old. A member of the United States Railway Labor Board appointed by President Harding in April 1921, Hooper was given credit for averting a nation-wide rail strike.

ACTOR'S SON ACCIDENTALLY SHOOTS HIMSELF TO DEATH

HASTINGS - ON - HUDSON, N. Y., April 19 (AP)—Jan Dekker, 16-year-old son of actor Albert Dekker, was found dead of a rifle bullet wound at his home here and his death was pronounced accidental by a medical examiner.

Young Dekker was found yesterday on the floor of his second-floor bedroom by his mother, Mrs. Edith Dekker. He was lying partly on a .22-caliber rifle and he clutched a piece of cloth in his left hand. A bullet had pierced his right eye.

The father is in Palm Beach, Fla., appearing in the play, "Witness for the Prosecution." Dekker said his son had been experimenting about a year on constructing a rifle silencer.

IMPERIAL WINS

SWEEPSTAKES VICTORY WITH AVERAGE OF 64.51 TON-MILES PER GALLON

TOPS ALL CARS IN MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN!

"Sweepstakes winner and Class D champion: The Imperial Crown driven by Mel Alsbury Jr. Ton-miles per gallon average 64.51. Mrs. Mel Alsbury topped all women drivers with 61.75 ton-miles per gallon also in a 1957 Imperial Crown."

SUN VALLEY, IDAHO—April 18, 1957—A 1957 Imperial automobile has just been announced as the winner of the 1957 Mobilgas Economy Run Sweepstakes, repeating last year's outstanding victory.

As the big winner swept over the finish line, first for the second straight year, the Imperial established itself as the most efficient car in America.

Imperial's first-place honors in the 1957 Mobilgas Economy Run were awarded by officials of the United States Automobile Club, which sanctioned the event.

In topping the performance of all other U.S. automobiles entered, the Imperial traveled the tortuous route from Los Angeles to Sun Valley at elevations ranging from 200 feet below sea level to 7,382 feet above sea level. This exacting test of Imperial's unsurpassed power plant included more variations in driving conditions than the average motorist encounters in a year of hard driving.

The Imperial is a luxury car, and has behind it this year the industry's most dramatic record of sales success. Its Sweepstakes victory for the second successive year proves it also a performance champion, a car that for all its distinction and beauty has a proved record of power efficiency and economy of operation.

"News flash mighty Chrysler Saratoga tops field in its class — completes big Chrysler sweep in 1957 economy run. Averages 56.72 ton-miles per gallon. Driven by George Alsbury of Mel Alsbury, Inc., Hollywood, Calif., Chrysler-Plymouth."

Grueling 1500-mile stretch from Los Angeles to Sun Valley measures economy of fuel consumption in ton-miles per gallon (miles per gallon multiplied by weight of car in tons). Imperial has again demonstrated superiority over all others with Pushbutton Torque-Flite transmission and airplane-type V-8 power plant.

26 SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS NAMED FOR TOP EXHIBITS AT SCIENCE FAIR

Awards to High School Seniors Are Valued at $31,000 — Formal Presentations Tonight at Field House.

Twenty-six high school seniors in the St. Louis area have been awarded college scholarships valued at $31,000 for outstanding exhibits at the 1957 Greater St. Louis Science Fair, Norman R. D. Jones, general chairman, announced today.

The scholarships are being made available by the various colleges and universities in the area. Formal presentation of the awards will take place in a ceremony at 7:15 o'clock tonight in the Washington University Field House on Big Bend boulevard north of Forsyth boulevard on the university campus.

Jones will also announce the names of two students who will represent the St. Louis area at the National Science Fair May 9 through 11 at Los Angeles. They will receive expense-paid trips.

High scholastic achievement as well as the exhibits prepared by the students formed the basis for the scholarship awards. Each exhibit was viewed separately by at least three of the 175 judges. Winners will enter college next fall.

This was the tenth annual fair in a series that began in 1948 under the sponsorship of the old St. Louis Star-Times. Since 1952 the fairs have been sponsored by the Post-Dispatch in co-operation with Washington University.

Four-Year Award

Frank Robert Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Cook, 14 Bellerive acres, Beverly Hills, will receive a four-year scholarship to Washington University for an exhibit entitled "Can Ferro Alloys Be Analyzed by Chromatography?"

Cook is a senior at Normandy High. His scholarship is valued at $3000. A brother, William Cook, is a former Science Fair scholarship winner now engaged in graduate studies.

Sharon Lee Sturgeon of Belleville Township High received a $3000, four-year scholarship offered jointly by Washington University and William Woods College, Fulton, Mo. She exhibited a study of the production of nylon from raw materials. She will spend the first two years at William Woods and the third and fourth years at Washington University. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Sturgeon of Belleville.

Mary Anita Weis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Weis, 209 Kingsville court, Webster Groves, won a full four-year scholarship to St. Louis University for her display of alpha tracks in a Wilson cloud chamber. She is a student at Nerinx Hall. Her grant is valued at $2400.

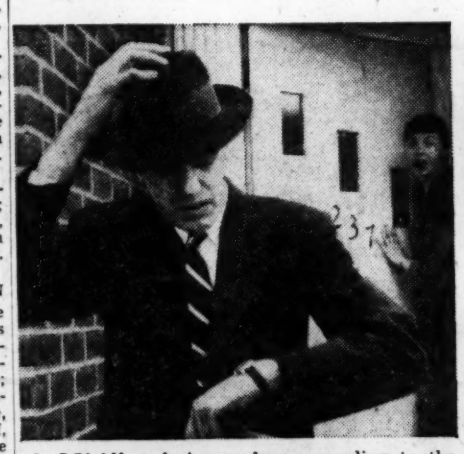
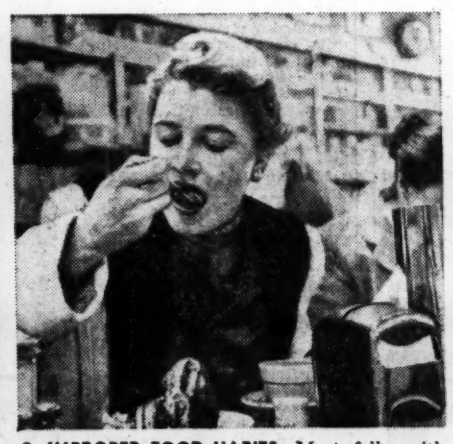
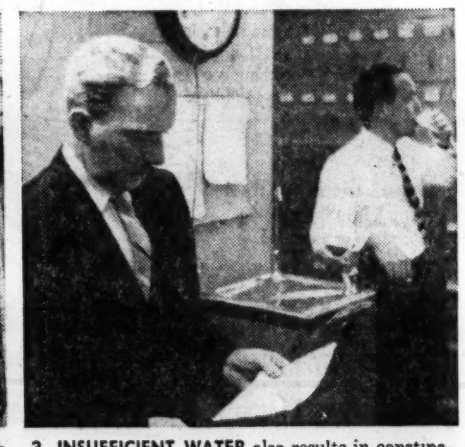
Are you a laxative addict?
If so, you may be guilty of one of these 6 causes of irregularity



1. DELAY or laziness when responding to the natural reflex action of the system, particularly after breakfast, may eventually cause constipation or irregularity.

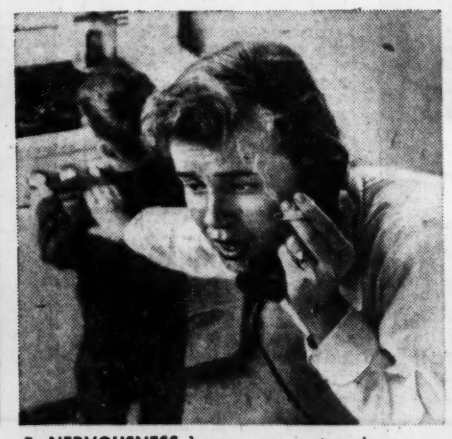


2. IMPROPER FOOD HABITS. Most folks with improper food habits have constipation. Missed meals, lack of roughage in your food or self-imposed soft diets lead to irregularity.



3. INSUFFICIENT WATER also results in constipation. If you drink too little water, remember you may be starving the system of moisture needed for healthy functioning.

4. INSUFFICIENT EXERCISE is still another cause of constipation. Obviously, don't become an athlete, but if you do sit behind a desk all day, the least you can do is take a walk after lunch.



5. NERVOUSNESS keeps your system in a constant state of contraction. Learn to relax in everything you do. When you're at ease, your system is at ease. This helps regular elimination.

6. LAXATIVE HABIT. Don't become a laxative addict. Taking laxatives habitually, causes the condition to linger. For effective overnight relief from common constipation, take NR Tablets.

Get gentle, effective overnight relief

Strange, how by the neglect of simple health habits, we abuse our stomachs and the function of digestion and elimination. Yes, we actually cause common constipation by our own carelessness. To correct the condition, many of us change diets. Others become "laxative addicts".

If you're in this "laxative habit" group, you're making a big mistake. Because, taking laxatives habitually, only irritates the reflex action of the bowel further. Your doctor will tell you it's the one thing not to do.

For the most part, common constipation is due to the six causes listed above. If you can follow these simple rules you'll help yourself tremendously. If however, you need overnight relief, NR Tablets—better known as Nature's Remedy—will prove wonderfully effective, or your money back.

This pure vegetable product has been helping thousands for over half a century. Just take one or two tablets before retiring. You'll be delighted with the way they relieve you in the morning. You'll feel better... look better. Ask for Nature's Remedy at drug counters everywhere.

10 PCT. RISE IN GRADUATES FROM TEACHING COURSES

© New York Times News Service.

WASHINGTON, April 19—Another slight increase in the number of college graduates of teaching courses was reported yesterday by the National Education Association.

In its annual report, the association said the gain in graduates of the teacher-training courses would amount to 10 per cent this year. There was also a 10 per cent increase last year. As of June 1957, the graduates will number 107,452. This would not fill the teacher shortage estimated as 120,000 as of now.

The report stresses that a five-year drop from 1950 to 1955 was entirely in men graduates. In 1950, some 330,000 men were graduated in teacher-training courses. Five years later the number was 183,000, a drop of 44.5 per cent. The number of women graduates remained constant in those years.

Basementless House in Sappington Purchased by Single Man

Harry Jentsch, single and a war veteran, has purchased this three-bedroom home at 2813 Robyn road, in Sappington, reports the Tom Williams Realty Co., which was agent in the transaction. The house was sold for George and Sadie Spicer. Spicer, formerly employed by the Terminal Railway Co., retired and went to Arizona, the agent said, where he took over operation of a trailer court. Jentsch is an employe of the Union Electric Co. His new home has a large utility room, two-car carport open to the south, a concrete patio, is across the road from the Thomas Jefferson School grounds.

Townhouse in Classic Design Purchased

Miss Marie Antoinette Mahler has purchased this three-story town house at 5296 Westminster Place (at the southwest corner of the Union avenue intersection) from Mrs. Edna Peper Morrison in a transaction negotiated by Ralph F. Piper, Inc. The house has 12 rooms, two baths and lavette.

Gain Day By Living Close In

WASHINGTON (UP)—Many Americans are finding a way to add an extra day to their week through their choice of a home.

In recent years many couples have found that the crack in the picture window of suburban living is commuting. By eliminating much of the time consumed in shuttling to and from work they have added eight or more hours to their leisure week.

Their solution is to purchase an old dwelling in the city and remodel it under the favorable programs set up by the federal government and local authorities for urban renewal.

Over the next few years the government expects to spend $250 million on polishing up our cities. Local interests will provide an additional $1.25 billion.

Good Investment.

Mortgage money, difficult to obtain in many suburban developments, is said to be relatively easy to get for the purchaser of a sound, older home. In addition, an attractive, government-guaranteed home improvement loan is readily available up to $3500.

Another alternative for the remodeler is to absorb the cost of revamping the house for modern living in the original purchase mortgage.

The idea of downtown living is particularly attractive to newlyweds, working couples or older persons whose children have grown up. A house in town cleverly remodeled also is usually a good rental investment in case the family outgrows it or tires of city life.

Housing experts concede the element of risk in buying and remodeling a town house. But they also point out that advice—and more advice—can virtually eliminate the aspect of chance.

If the prospective remodeler consults his banker, contractor, architect and realtor every step of the way, his path is smooth. He also must decide for himself, based on careful evaluation of all the factors, whether he will really prefer city living to the suburbs.

Attitude a Signpost.

Once decided, the most important consideration is location. The house he will buy has a past but it's up to him to see that it has a future—both structurally and as a part of an attractive, growing community.

The soundness of the house as a remodeling proposition is a question for the experts. Many banks provide an evaluation service for the buyer before they make the loan. A talk with a contractor or architect can often translate the formless plans of the buyer into dollars and cents.

Aside from the "arty" sections of larger cities where prices are very high for older homes, a signpost pointing toward the future of an urban neighborhood is the community attitude toward it.

In many towns there is a tremendous reawakening of interest in fringe downtown areas that have been bypassed in the rush to the suburbs. The purchase of a house in an area earmarked for redevelopment—or at least on the fringe of such an area—should be considered.

Steps to Take.

It also is wise to check municipal authorities on zoning regulations in the area of the prospective purchase. That vacant lot next door might be zoned for anything from a bowling alley to a boiler factory.

After the house has been carefully chosen housing experts advise the prospective owner to take these steps:

—Draw up your plans with the help of an architect or contractor if possible.

—Get an estimate of what you want done from at least two builders.

—Take your plans to the proper local authorities for a building permit.

—Submit your proposition, plans and all, to your banker for a loan consultation.

—Double check the plans for any modification in the light of cost estimates, building code or loan requirements.

—Get your loan.

—Hire your contractor on the basis of his price and his reputation, and begin your remodeling.

Bigger Deal, The Easier To Borrow

By ROBERT F. COLL
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D.C.—There are increasing signs throughout the nation that lending institutions are loosening their purse strings a little on home mortgage money.

But the "tight money" situation apparently still has the man with the modest income choked off from obtaining a mortgage.

Essentially the problem of obtaining a mortgage in today's strict market narrows down to how much you can pay for a home—the more you spend, the easier your mortgage problems.

The man in the middle is the modest income buyer, who is not likely to feel any softness in the mortgage market until the end of this year or early in 1958.

In addition to the price range of the buyer, there are certain specific conditions in scattered localities across the country that have kept mortgage money circulating even through the height of the credit squeeze.

Businessmen's Attitude.

As usual, the hardest areas in which to obtain mortgages are the South and the West. The Northeast remains the easiest.

Perhaps the biggest factor in the slight easing in the mortgage market in some areas is the recent attitude of businessmen toward borrowing.

There is evidence that business has put on the brakes in borrowing, partly due to spiraling interest rates. Some businessmen probably have heard so much talk of tight money that they simply have not sought loans.

Whatever the cause of the waning enthusiasm, it cannot be pinned on any slowdown in the booming economy over the first three months of the year.

Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks reported recently that business activity climbed to a new high during the quarter, although he did single out housing as a weak spot in an otherwise rosy picture.

Shrinking Discount Rates

The main indications of easing in home buying credit are shrinking discount rates in some areas and a growing supply of money to lend in banks and similar institutions.

Discounts, which are called points, normally are arranged through the builder. He will ask a bank to handle a mortgage for a prospective buyer.

If the lender agrees, it can charge a discount rate based on a percentage of the original loan. It then receives its normal interest rate on the remainder until the loan is paid off.

For example, a builder with a $10,000 house approaches a lending institution charging a five per cent discount. The discount is deducted at once, and the builder receives $9,500 for his house.

The buyer assumes the mortgage of $9,500 on which he pays his normal rate of interest for 20 years, or whatever the length of the mortgage.

Discounts have been running as high as 10 per cent in some areas. But there are mounting indications that these steep rates are a thing of the past.

When this leveling off will benefit the prospective home buyer is a matter of speculation. But barring a reversal of present economic conditions, an easing should be felt by the end of this year.

Buys Two West End Apartment Buildings

Two six-family apartments in University City, one at 6678 Washington boulevard and the other at the southwest corner of Washington and Kingsland, purchased by Albert and Maude Berger from interests holding title in the name of Goldie Russell. Larner-Diener Realty Co. was agent for the seller. Vernon Laux Realty Co. represented the buyer and is to manage the property.

Leased on Natural Bridge by New TV Firm

Building at 2525 Natural Bridge leased by Delta TV, Inc., which is owned and operated by Phil Pagano and Jerry Norber. The quarters were remodeled for the new tenant and adjoining parking facilities added. The company, organized last month, has been named franchise dealer for Muntz TV in the Greater St. Louis area.

Sells -- Buys -- Moves

Property at 712 Cass avenue (top photo) has been sold to Harry Kraus by the Carpenter Steel Co., which occupied the quarters for 15 years. Carpenter has purchased, modernized and moved to a building at 3942 Laclede avenue (bottom photo). Bokern Real Estate Co., which was agent for Carpenter in the two deals, reports total consideration for both sales was "about $80,000."

Loan League Elects Head

W. Franklin Morrison, Washington mortgage finance official who handled the first G.I. home loan in the nation, has been elected president of the National Savings and Loan League, it was reported by the League's election committee which also stated that James E. Bent, Hartford, Conn., savings and loan executive, had been elected vice president.

Morrison, executive vice president of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Washington, D.C., succeeds George W. Greenwood, president of the Topeka (Kansas) Savings Association.

In reporting results of the balloting, election committee chairman John J. Kempf, president of Erie Federal Savings and Loan Association of Buffalo, said that Morrison and Bent would assume their National League duties at the League's annual convention in Boston, June 16-20.

Morrison, manager of one of the largest savings associations in the country, has been associated with the savings and loan business for the past 30 years in Chicago and Washington.

He joined First Federal in 1943 as vice president in charge of the loan department and a year later negotiated the first G.I. home loan under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944.

Before his appointment with First Federal, Morrison was connected with Bell Savings and Loan Association in Chicago. An author and lecturer on savings and loan operations, Morrison was one of the earliest presidents of the Chicago chapter of the American Savings and Loan Institute. At present, he is vice president of the National League and chairman of the legislation committee.

Bent, who is president of the Hartford Federal Savings and Loan Association, has been active in savings and loan matters on the national level. Recently, he completed a comprehensive study on ways to improve the Federal Land Bank System.

He is a member of the Savings and Loan Advisory Council, a director of the Federal Home Land Bank of Boston and a member of the Advisory Council to the Connecticut State Banking Corp.

'Human Side of Housing' Theme of Women's Congress Planned in Washington, D.C.

The building materials industry is turning to the American housewife for advice on creating houses for more successful family living. It plans to invite homemakers from all sections of the country and various economic levels to Washington, D.C., in November to participate in a second Women's Housing Congress.

This distaff conference is intended to serve as a transition from the initial Women's Housing Congress, staged by the Federal Housing Agencies last year, which concerned itself primarily with space and design of a home.

The forthcoming congress intends to clarify the relationship between good house construction and family welfare and security. It will consider the components, materials and workmanship which give a house sound economic value and family well-being.

Five national trade associations are represented on the organizing committee of the congress. Franklin Greene, New York, executive director of the Better Heating-Cooling Council, is chairman. Other members are: David L. Chaney, Washington, D.C., Portland Cement Association; Douglas S. Steinberg, Washington, D.C., National Lumber Manufacturers Association; Carl Pihl, New York, Copper and Brass Research Association, and J. O. Hendrickson, Washington, D.C., National Association of Plumbing Contractors.

Support Pledged.

Support has been pledged by architects and other building professionals. Additional trade and manufacturing associations are being invited to join in sponsorship of the congress.

"The industry-sponsored congress is based on the concept that while industry builds the house, women make the home," Greene said. "The congress is primarily designed for research into the homemakers' thinking, needs and preferences. Out of the pool of their experience we believe there will be found substantial benefits for the homebuyer and a merchandising stimulant for increased house sales.

The discussions at the congress will touch emotional and moral values of successful home life, the human side of housing. It is well known that the strength and character in American life stem from the family and that the first need of the family is an adequate home. But it is not so commonly realized that the well being and stability of the family are powerfully influenced for better or worse, by the physical construction of the home—the house itself."

Thus, the committee indicated that a major objective is to take some searching looks into this fundamental, but little known, relationship. Among other aspects, the congress will seek to uncover the "hidden function" of good construction, building equipment, materials and services and to trace their effects on family life. It also will investigate the apparent connection between home construction and divorce, juvenile delinquency, mental illness and other critical social problems.

The organizing committee noted that plans for the Women's Congress were launched during a prolonged slump in the housing industry and at a time when there is unprecedented competition for the home budget dollar.

"The housewives, themselves," a committee statement reads, "will discuss why the home—as the fortress of the family—must be the prime item in a sensible family budget, and how the basic components of good building contribute to a stable budget and long-term security.

"Despite the decline in housing starts there is a trend to a better house. The industry, therefore, should take organized action to increase this tendency toward structural quality in all new houses. Armed with the relevant facts, we should take vigorous steps to stimulate the housing economy."

Technical experts, producers, builders and architects are planning to team up with home economic experts and psychologists in dicussions with the United States housewife at the 1957 congress.

Angus Cattle Farm In Shelby County Bought by Iowan

A 200-acre farm four miles north of Bethel in Shelby county has been sold by Joseph S. and Pearl P. Smith to Vernon Fishel of Rowley, Iowa, for $30,000, the Callison agency at Clarence, Mo., reports.

The Smiths had operated the farm the last 22 years, specializing in production of Angus cattle.

Fishel, his wife and six children, expect to move to the farm when possession is given May 6. Fishel recently sold a farm north of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and, in buying the Smith farm, also purchased cattle and machinery from the Smiths.

Callison said the J. C. Hoffman Agency at Walker, Iowa, was co-operating broker in the deal.

Realty Firm Moves To Larger Quarters

The southside office of the J. W. Wood Realty Co. has moved to larger quarters at 4648 Gravois from 4731 Morganford Road where it has been located for 17 years.

This is the second expansion of the organization. The first was the opening of its Overland office in 1946 at 9409 West Milton.

Anthony B. Wood, vice president, said that the new location enables the firm to give more efficient service to its clients. The company has been in the general real estate and insurance business for 27 years.

In Bridgeton Terrace

Five-room house at 38 St. Rita lane, Bridgeton Terrace, sold to Mr. and Mrs. Everett Mansell by Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Jackson through the John W. Burian Realty Co.

Home Builders' President Resigns---Herdlein Succeeds

John Herdlein, vice president of the Home Builders' Association of Greater St. Louis, is to become acting president for the remainder of the 1957 term on May 1, succeeding Gerald F. Borgschulte, resigned.

Borgschulte's resignation was accepted by the members of the association last Monday night. Borgschulte, native of St. Louis and long time member of the Home Builders Association, gave as his reason for his resignation, the need to move to a climate more agreeable to the health of his family.

During his membership in the association, Borgschulte has served continually in offices of substantial responsibility, and has made a very fine contribution to the association and to the home building industry in St. Louis, a spokesman for the association said.

Borgschulte's father, Fred G. Borgschulte, with whom he has been associated, will continue to operate the Borgschulte Realty Company at 8908 Lackland road.

In his letter of resignation, Borgschulte stated "It is extremely hard for me to pull up stakes and leave the multitude of friends that I now have as a result of my activities in this association. Friendships which I feel sure will not die, but will be renewed many times when the opportunity presents itself either here or down south in Florida. The Home Builders Association has been a wonderful experience for me and the memories will never be forgotten."

Bottom Farm Sold

A 228-acre farm, part of which lays in the Salt river bottom area, six and one-half miles northeast of Clarence, Mo., in Shelby county, has been sold to Arthur Taylor of Clarence for $47 an acre, reports the Harry Callison agency at Clarence.

Owners who sold the property were the heirs of Mrs. B. S. Collins: Mrs. A. B. Cappa, Cashmere, Wash.; Paul H. Collins, El Monte, Calif.; Mrs. Grace Garrison of Cascade county, Montana. The land lies in the area of a recently added three-mile drainage canal, which ties in with a 39-mile canal that was built about 1912.

Taylor plans to develop the farm for crops and cattle, Callison reported.

Elected Director

C. Gordon Heiss, president and general manager of the Mayfair and Lennox hotels, St. Louis, has been elected to the board of directors of the Hampton Bank of St. Louis. He is 32 years old and is said to be one of the youngest major hotel executives in the United States.

Emily Post

Says:
Upon the death of a friend you should go at once to the house, write "With Sympathy" on your card and leave it at the door. Or, you write a letter to the family. In either case you send flowers, addressed to the funeral (name of the deceased) or to the nearest relative. The latter method is preferable, if the relative is a friend. But the former method is followed if the deceased alone was known to you.

FBI NOTIFIED OF CANADA'S SECURITY STAND

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP) —The State Department disclosed today that the Federal Bureau of Investigation has been formally notified of Canada's request to withhold from Congress any security data from Canadian sources about Canadian citizens.

State Department press officer Lincoln White made public a copy of a note to the Canadian ambassador, A. D. P. Heeney. The not said the Canadian government's formal request April 10 was being brought "to the attention of the appropriate executive agencies."

Further, it said, "The matter will be pursued vigorously."

Canadian Request.

The Canadian request was that the Eisenhower Administration promise that, unless special consent is given by Canada, no security data about Canadian citizens will be passed on by the executive agency to any group in Congress or elsewhere over which the executive branch has no control.

"Unless such assurance can be given . . . the Canadian government must reserve the right in future not to supply security information concerning Canadian citizens to any United States Government agency," Foreign Minister Lester B. Pearson wrote.

The exchange arose out of the case of E. Herbert Norman.

Norman was accused last month by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee of having once had Communist ties. He killed himself in Cairo, where he was Canada's ambassador, April 4.

Canada's threat to withhold security information endangered an exchange system which had gone back many years. Despite Canada's insistence on assurance that such data would not be made public in such a way as to damage Canadian citizens, the State Department has never given any such assurance.

'Interim Reply.'

The note made public today was described by White as "an interim reply." All it said was that the Canadian views "are receiving the serious attention of the Department of State," which was calling it to the attention of "appropriate executive agencies."

White said he "assumed" the United States reply had been shown in advance to the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

When asked whether the phrase "appropriate executive agencies" included the FBI, he replied yes.

Chairman James O. Eastland (Dem.), Mississippi, of the Internal Security subcommittee has said the State Department checked with the FBI and passed along FBI corroboration of the subcommittee's information on Norman. The State Department has said it provided no information from any United States security agency.

Canadian officials have said they were sure the original source was a Canadian police report on Norman, but that the report was later discredited and the United States Government was so informed.

AIR-CONDITIONER WATER SURCHARGE IS POSTPONED

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 19 —The Missouri Public Service Commission yesterday extended for two months, to July 1, the effective date of an order authorizing St. Louis County Water Co. to collect a surcharge on water-cooled air-conditioning equipment which does not conserve water.

The proposed special rate, authorized by the commission in April 1955, to become effective May 1, 1957, is $40 a cooling season per ton of rated refrigeration capacity, if the cooler is not equipped to conserve water. This surcharge would be in addition to regular water rates.

Chairman Tyre Burton of the commission said the extension in the effective date was ordered because the commission has not completed action on a protest filed recently by about 25 customers of the company.

EARNINGS TAX WITHHOLDING BILL GETS TREASURY'S OK

A bill authorizing the government to withhold the St. Louis earnings tax from pay checks of the 21,000 federal employes in St. Louis has been approved by the Treasury Department, Representative Thomas B. Curtis (Rep.), Webster Groves, sponsor of the measure, said today.

"As a Republican, however, I cannot get the matter heard and passed out of the Ways and Means Committee, controlled as it is by Democrats," Curtis said. "I think if Mayor Raymond R. Tucker would give some words of persuasion to his party colleagues in the Congress, we could get this legislation, beneficial to the city of St. Louis, passed quite readily."

Withholding would save the city the expense of collecting the tax, estimated at between $300,000 and $400,000 annually.

THREE TORNADOES DAMAGE TEXAS HOMES AND PROPERTY

DALLAS, April 19 (AP) — Torrential rainstorms swept across Texas today and three tornadoes inflicted property damage.

A twister that dipped down into Eastland in north central Texas just before down unroofed business buildings and homes, demolished small barns and smashed windows and TV antennas. Two small twisters destroyed or damaged nine barns near San Antonio. Two small north Texas towns were hit by tornadoes late yesterday.

The downpours that ranged up to more than five inches swept the state from the Mexican border to the Red river.

BOHLEN RETURNS FROM RUSSIA WITH 'MIXED FEELINGS'

NEW YORK, April 19 (UP)— Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen, retiring from his post in Moscow after the longest tenure of any United States Ambassador there, returned to the United States today with his wife, two of his three children, 28 pieces of baggage and two poodles.

He declined to say anything about the Soviet Union until after he reports to the State Department on Monday.

Bohlen's name is before the Senate for appointment as Ambassador to the Philippines, but he has not yet been confirmed.

Smiling and relaxed after his flight from Frankfurt, Germany, Bohlen said he had left the Soviet Union "with mixed feelings."

As for a statement by Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev that he was sorry to see Bohlen leave, the Ambassador said: "I wouldn't attach too much significance to normal compliments because I am personally involved. This is the normal thing you would say."

After his arrival in Washington, he said, he will undergo a physical examination and testify before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

MAROONED SCOUTS WAIT OUT ANOTHER NIGHT ON ICY PEAK

WRIGHTWOOD, Calif., April 19 (AP)—Fifty-four Boy Scouts waited in the weather today to trudge down from Mount Baden-Powell in the San Gabriel mountains where they have been marooned by snow, ice and fog.

The scouts are believed to be the last of more than 159 who were caught on a mountain hike by a weather front. More than five feet of new snow clogged the trail.

The scouts and their leaders huddled in blankets and sleeping bags at 8600 feet in icy fog last night, said sheriff's posse members who climbed the mountain to guide them out.

At least two boys were listed as frostbitten or injured. Three deputies who helped in rescue operations were treated for forstbite.

The boys were marooned on the annual Silver Moccasin scout hike over the mountain named for the founder of the scout movement. The 65-mile hike from Sierra Madre to Big Pines is for first-class scouts only. The boys started last Saturday and Sunday. The storm hit Wednesday night.

CURTIS URGES FAST ACTION ON RIVERFRONT RAIL COSTS

Congressman Thomas B. Curtis (Rep.), Webster Groves, has urged the National Park Service to speed cost estimates for the relocation of railroad tracks on the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial area on the riverfront.

Senator Stuart Symington (Dem.), St. Louis county, asked for more speed recently and Curtis said today the same plea should be made to the City of St. Louis and the railroads involved. Even after the estimates are in, he added, the Park Service, the city and the railroads will have to agree on the pro rata costs to be borne by each.

"If, as a result of these negotiations," he said, "the federal payment is increased, it probably will be necessary to amend the law and the sooner a bill to effect this purpose is introduced in this session of Congress, the better chance it has of passing."

THREE BURGLARS KILLED IN CHICAGO POLICE AMBUSH

CHICAGO, April 19 (AP)— Three burglars were shot to death early today in a fight with seven detectives in a State street department store.

The gunmen, including a former policeman, walked into a police trap in Mandel Brothers store and were killed by police machine gun and shotgun bullets as they prepared to break open a vault containing $250,000.

The detectives had been hiding in the eleventh floor credit department for seven hours after receiving a tip on the planned burglary.

Lynch identified two of the men as having been arrested previously. He said one of them, Jimmy Rentner, had been released on bond recently on a robbery charge. He said James Wulf, also had been arrested several times. The third man was identified as James Betimio.

BULGARIA AIDS HUNGARY WITH $1,700,000 LOAN

VIENNA, April 19 (AP)— Communist-ruled Hungary has received a long-term loan from Bulgaria and is concluding negotiations for a Yugoslav credit, the Budapest radio reported today.

The broadcast said Bulgaria granted a 7,000,000-ruble loan (officially $1,700,000) after talks in Sofia. The loan has to be paid back from 1959 to 1963.

Hungary's Communist rulers, trying desperately to improve the country's economy, already had obtained loans from Russia and Poland. Radio Budapest said talks with a Yugoslav delegation in Budapest deal with a Yugoslav $2,000,000 credit for the purchase of goods.

PRIEST FREED BY CHINA DIES

HONG KONG, April 19 (AP) —Death took a Chinese Jesuit priest a few days after his release from almost four years in a Communist prison in Shanghai last month, the Catholic Examiner reported today.

The weekly paper said the Communists freed the Rev. Francis Xavier Wang, 37 years old, only to save them the "embarrassment of having to record the death of a priest on their prison records." The priest was arrested in June 1953. He died in Shanghai Hospital March 14 as a result of ill treatment in prison, the Examiner said.

'58 WHEAT PROP SET AT $1.78 A BUSHEL

WASHINGTON, April 19 (UP) —Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson today announced the national average support price for 1958 crop wheat will be $1.78 a bushel. This is 22 cents less than the support rate for the 1957 and 1956 crops.

The new rate reflects 75 per cent of parity. The 1957 support rate reflected 80 per cent of current parity.

On the basis of a crop roughly forecast at 580,000,000 bushels, the $1.78 rate would represent a total decrease of about $187,000,000 in subsidies to farmers, compared with what they will receive under the $2 rate for this year.

The 1958 support price will be contingent on results of a grower referendum June 20. If quotas are approved by two-thirds of those voting—as expected—the support rate will be $1.78. If they are not approved, the available support level will be at 50 per cent of parity, or about $1.18 a bushel.

Benson proclaimed also a national wheat acreage allotment of 55,000,000 acres, the minimum permitted by law. He said this allotment with average yields will produce a crop of about 800,000,000 bushels, after allowance for acreage placed in the acreage and conservation reserves of the soil bank.

This amount added to the estimated July 1, 1958, carryover of 875,000,000 bushels and estimated 1957-58 marketing year imports of 5,000,000 bushels would make a total supply of 1,680,000,000 bushels.

While this supply is considerably less than the 1,825,000,000 bushels estimated for the coming 1957-58 marketing year, it still is substantially larger than the estimated quantity needed for domestic consumption and exports during the 1958-59 marketing year.

Benson said that if the acreage allotment had been determined on the basis of the supply formula set by law, the 1958 acreage would have been 23,144,654 acres.

Wheat acreage allotments have been in effect now for years. Marketing quotas have been approved handily in each year.

In the 12 non-commercial wheat-growing states — those having allotments of 25,000 acres or less—the price support rate will be 75 per cent of the rate for the commercial area.

Missouri's allotment next year is 1,273,623 acres compared to 1,253,735 acres this year. In Illinois the allotment will be 1,386,663 acres, compared to 1,414,575 acres this year.

SECRET DECISION AT SECRET TRIAL ON ATOM SECRET

WASHINGTON, April 19 (UP) —A United States district judge who held a secret hearing on an inventor's suit involving a secret formula handed down a secret decision today.

The inventor, Jerome Spevack of New Rochelle, N.Y., filed a suit a week ago seeking an injunction to stop the Atomic Energy Commission from making public a method of "concentrating isotopes" which he said he invented 14 years ago when he worked for the Government.

Spevack said his contract gave him rights to his inventions. The whole subject of "heavy water," he said, was recently declassified by the Government. He said AEC now wants to make his invention public before he can get through all the red tape of patenting it.

That much of the case is public record. But since filing of the suit, everything has been secret.

Both sides asked for a secret hearing. The request was granted by Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy, who made the secret decision and pledged lawyers for both sides to secrecy. The judge then impounded the record of the original suit.

MOSCOW EASES CURB ON TRAVEL BY DIPLOMATS

MOSCOW, April 19 (AP) — The Soviet Union has relaxed somewhat restrictions placed recently on the travels of diplomats outside Moscow.

This became known today with word that the Norwegian Ambassador was given permission to travel to Kiev and British diplomatic personnel to Yasnaya Polyna, site of the old home of Leo Tolstoy not far from Moscow.

The British were still unable to get travel permits for the Crimea, and Canadians were barred from going to Tbilisi (Tiflis). Soviet spokesmen have said the restrictions weer imposed for reasons of a "temperary character," but have declined to elaborate. There was speculation the bar may have been imposed because of spring military maneuvers in southern Russia.

French officials said in Paris Friday they weer requesting their Moscow embassy to demand an explanation from the Kremlin on the restrictions applied to foreign diplomats seeking to leave Moscow for the Easter holiday.

IRAQ JOINS IN PROTEST TO U.S. ON TANKER TRIP

BAGHDAD, April 19 (AP)— Iraq said yesterday it had joined other Arab states in protesting against an American tanker's voyage to the Israeli port of Eilat in the Gulf of Aqaba.

A Foreign Ministry statement said a note handed to the United States ambassador here Monday asserted the Tiran strait is "Arab territorial water and the passage of the tanker suggests aggression on the Arab states' legal rights."

ARMCO STEEL CORP. PROduced a record 1,462,000 tons of ingots in the first three months of 1957, R. L. Gray, president, said. Armco operated at 99.7 per cent of its new rated capacity of nearly 6,000,000 tons, Gray said at the annual stockholders' meeting. "We expect an average operating rate for the year of something over 90 per cent," he said. Gray said that at the beginning of the year Armco forecast that in 1957 the steel industry would produce more steel than ever before — in excess of the 117,000,000 tons produced in 1955. "At this time we see no reason to change that forecast," he declared.

75 WOMEN TO CONDUCT PAGEDALE CANCER BRIGADE

Seevnty-five women volunteers in Pagedale will conduct a cancer crusade there Thursday, it was announced yesterday by the chairman, Mrs. Charles J. Simon.

The volunteers will call at each home in Pagedale and leave literature containing facts and warnings about the disease, and solicit funds to support a cancer control program in the St. Louis area.

Included in the control program are education, research and service to patients, which cost more than $250,000 annually in this area. The Pagedale crusade is part of a campaign to teach the facts about cancer and to raise $1300,000, and is sponsored by the St. Louis city and county unit, American Cancer Society.

FOR SECURITY REASONS

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND, N.M., April 19 (AP) —Scientists here have a penciled letter from an 11-year-old boy in Jasper, Ala. It requests "any information and pictures you can send me on rockets and guided missiles."

Then it explains: "I have asked my science teachers, but they don't know too much." Officials said the boy's name was withheld for "reasons of security—his!"

QUARTER'S DISBURSEMENTS ABOVE 1956

CORPORATIONS which issue public reports paid cash dividends of $2,800,000,000 in the first quarter of this year, the Commerce Department reports.

The total was 2½ per cent higher than for the first quarter of last year. Most of the increase was in March, with payments for that month 4 per cent higher than those of March 1956.

The first-quarter advance this year centered largely in manufacturing. Payments approaching or exceeding increases of 10 per cent over last year were reported by such industries as paper and printing, oil refining, chemicals and transportation equipment other than autos.

The only substantial decline, a 6 per cent drop by the electrical machinery industry, was attributed to a shift in payment dates.

Among nonmanufacturing industries, mining registered an advance of 8 per cent over the first quarter of 1956. Smaller increases were recorded for the electric and gas utilities and for the communications industry.

AS BUSINESS SEES IT

Business men are less optimistic about the immediate outlook than they were three months ago, a Dun & Bradstreet survey showed.

Of the executives polled, the number who forecast more business for their companies in the third quarter, as compared to a year ago, outnumbered those predicting declines by five to one. Three months ago, a similar survey based on the outlook for the second quarter found the "ups" outnumbering the "downs" by 12 to one, Dun & Bradstreet said.

Most optimistic in comparing probable third quarter sales with a year ago were manufacturers of non-durable or "soft" goods. They were also somewhat more optimistic as to profits.

For the group as a whole, 36 per cent said they expected higher profits in the third quarter than a year ago, while 54 predicted their earnings would be about the same and 10 per cent forecast smaller earnings.

On the subject of selling prices, the great majority said they expected prices of their products to be about the same as in the third quarter of last year. However, among the minority looking for a change, those anticipating higher prices outnumbered those looking for decreases ten to one.

Sixty per cent of the executives foresaw no change from a year ago in their third quarter inventories.

Executives representing approximately 1500 companies engaged in retailing, wholesaling or manufacturing responded to the Dun & Bradstreet poll.

STIX, BAER, FULLER SALES RECORD, INCOME RISES

Stix Baer & Fuller Co. reported 1956 net profit $1,624,755, equivalent to $2.27 a common share, compared with $1,606,637 or $2.24 a share for 1955. The 1956 net was reduced by approximately $68,000 by reason of "LIFO" inventory adjustment which was considerably larger this year than in previous years the company stated.

Net sales for the company's two stores were $60,345,298 a record high mark, compared with $55,843,096 in 1955. The full year's operations of the company's suburban stores was responsible for the relatively high increase in sales, it was said.

The figures represent operation of parent company only.

The wholly owned real estate subsidiaries showed net profit apart from the stores of $76,165. In 1955 a loss of $96,222 was reported.

During the year the company purchased 38 acres in north St. Louis county, where it expects to eventually build a second suburban branch and shopping center.

RESEARCH URGED TO PUT CROPS IN INDUSTRIAL USES

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP) —A government commission recommended today that Uncle Sam set up a broadened $100,000,000-a-year research program to put more farm products into industrial uses and to develope new crops to replace present surplus ones.

It said such a program was needed to help improve farm incomes and to bring about a "profitable" consumption of the output of a "free and efficient" agriculture.

The commission on increased industrial uses of agricultural products—authorized by Congress last year and its five members appointed by President Eisenhower—made its recommendations in a report to Congress. It had studied the problem of farm surpluses and potential industrial uses for the past eight months.

It declared that agriculture has been "researched" out of many of its markets by more aggressive industries and by lagging research in the field of utilization of farm commodities. As a result, it added, costly farm surpluses are piling up and the government is being forced to spend billions for farm aid.

Members of the commission are J. Leroy Welsh, Omaha, Nebr., grain operator and regent of the University of Nebraska, chairman; George Henry Coppers, Englewood, N.J., president National Biscuit Co.; Dr. Karl D. Butler, Ithaca, N.Y., farm counselor; Dr. Frank J. Welch, Lexington, Ky., dean of the College of Agriculture of the University of Kentucky, and Dr. Charles R. Sayre, Scott, Miss., president of Delta & Pine Land Co.

The commission report carried a broad list of possible research projects which, if initiated at once, would cost $211,000,000 a year. It turned thumbs down, however, on long-discussed proposals that grains be used to produce alcohol for motor fuel and for producing synthetic rubber. It said these proposals were not economically feasible.

The commission said its recommendations would create important and enduring added markets for agriculture as well as new areas of activity for industry and labor. It said they would provide opportunities for consumers to enjoy new and better products. It also said, as to cost:

"The commission is convinced that the investment in public funds for carrying out its recommendations will return to the national economy and eventually to the Federal Treasury many times the outlay required; and that further, the investment may substantially reduce and may eventually help alleviate the present demand for many of the current costly aids to agriculture."

2 FIRMS TO BUILD VACUUM CLEANER FOR JET AIRFIELDS

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP) —Two companies have announced plans to build a giant vacuum sweeper to keep airfields clean for jet airplanes.

The announcement, by Coleman Engineering Co. of Los Angeles and Fruehauf Trailer Co. of Detroit, said Boeing Airplane Co. of Seattle has purchased the first commercial production model.

Coleman developed the cleaner in an Air Force competition for a solution to the problem of airfield debris. The Air Force has estimated that the suction of stones, bits of metal and other objects into jet engines causes $25,000,000 worth of damage a year and creates a hazard for pilots.

Mounted on a standard truck body and powered by a regular truck engine, the Coleman device was designed to clean as much as 1,000,000 square feet of airfield an hour.

KANGAROO RAT A THREAT TO CALIFORNIA RANCHERS

DAVIS, Calif., April 19 (UP) —California ranchers face a growing menace in the kangaroo rat, a small rodent with eyes bigger than its stomach.

Walter E. Howard, a University of California agriculture specialist, said he turned one of the small animals loose in a room with thousands of tiny rose clover seeds. The kangaroo rat ate an average of 3500 seeds a day but also picked up an additional 16,000 seeds to store in its nest.

On the range the rats cache the extra food underground for the rest of the year. Unfortunately, Howard said, the animal buries it too deeply to germinate.

Howard warned that without control measures the kangaroo rats and other rodents could quickly gather most of the seed scattered on newly seeded rangeland.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS DABBLE IN STOCK MARKET

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 19 (UP) — Some 90 members in consumer education classes at nearby Dillsburg Northern Joint High School recently became investors as part of an unusual class project.

The class members collected $32, delegated three students as representatives, and invested the money in the stock market. The stocks were purchased in the name of Robert Habig, head of the school's business department because the students are minors and not legally permitted to purchase stocks.

The stocks will be held until May when they will be sold and the principal and any accrued dividends redistributed among the class members. Habig originated the project as a means of demonstrating the workings of the stock market to his students.

Tests of B-58 Medium Bomber So Successful Air Force May Substitute It for Heavy B-52

That Is First Reason Given for Announced Leveling Off of B-52 Production at 15 Per Month Instead of 20 as Previously Planned.

By BRIG. GEN. THOMAS R. PHILLIPS, U.S.A. (Ret.)
Military Analyst of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 19.

THE AIR FORCE announced yesterday that the production rate of the B-52 eight-jet heavy bomber would be leveled off at substantially the present rate of production, which has reached 15 a month. It previously had been planned to build up production to 20 per month. The K-135 jet tanker program also is scheduled to be leveled off when it reaches 15 a month.

The announcement was the principal topic of questioning at the news conference held yesterday in the Pentagon by Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson and Secretary of the Air Force Donald A. Quarles. The latter will take office as Under Secretary of Defense next week.

Wilson and Quarles declared that the number of B-52s on order had not been changed. The Boeing plants at Seattle, Wash., and Wichita, Kans., have orders for a total of 603 of the big bombers.

The change will stretch out production of the total on order by about eight months.

Possible Substitution.

The first reason given for the change is that early tests of the new B-58 medium bomber have been so strikingly successful that it may be desirable eventually to substitute some of the more modern B-58s for the B-52.

The B-58 is the first medium bomber in the world to travel faster than the speed of sound. Its performance is secret but it is known to be able to travel more than match one and one-half, or one and one-half times the speed of sound, or more than 1000 miles an hour.

While its range is shorter than that of the B-52, the B-58 can be made intercontinental by in-flight refueling. With the development and mass production of supersonic interceptors by the Soviet Union, the B-58 may be a better answer to the bomber requirement of the Strategic Air Command than the B-52.

Enough handmade prototypes have been built and are on order for extensive flight testing. If continuing tests are as successful as is indicated by early test flights, the B-58 can be put into production in the 1959 fiscal year, either as a replacement for the B-47 medium bomber, now the main reliance of SAC, or for the B-52.

Improved Model Devised.

The second reason for the slow-down in B-52 production is that a greatly improved model, the so-called wet wing version, B-52D, has been devised. The slow-down will permit its earlier entry into the production line than if all-out production were reached and maintained. Consequently, the change will mean that of the total of B-52s to be produced, a much larger percentage will be of the improved version.

The nature of the changes is secret, but it is reported that performance and range have both been greatly increased.

The announcement created very little stir in the Congress where previously great concern has been indicated over slow delivery of the B-52. The production troubles that the Russians are having with their heavy bomber and new intelligence that they will not be able to proceed as fast as had previously been estimated may have something to do with the lack of protest.

Not to Save Money.

Then, too, the justification for the slow-down is agreed to wholeheartedly within the Air Force. It is not a device for saving money at the expense of defense. Wilson said that the change in schedule would not result in any savings in the 1958 fiscal year, but that some would show in the 1959 budget.

If the B-58 fails to prove as acceptable as its early tests indicate, it will be possible to increase B-52 production almost overnight to 20 a month.

Wilson was asked whether the press would be allowed to observe the firing of the earth satellite at Patrick Air Force Base, Fla., next month. He replied that the Defense Department was in favor of having the press present and he thought it could be worked out. The difficulty is that a number of secret missiles are on launching pads at the base and there is a problem of security that must be worked out first.

Won't Reveal Date.

Wilson said that half a dozen satellites would be launched and he hoped that with good luck at least one of them would be successful. He refused to name a date for the launching, but indicated that he intended to go to Patrick shortly.

It was indicated in response to questions that the three services, without review by the Defense Department, had provided Representative George H. Mahon (Dem.), Texas, with information of what effect a reduction of Defense Department appropriations of $3,500,000,000 for fiscal year 1958 would have on them. Information was also supplied as to what use could be made of additional money.

Quarles said they "did not advocate getting more money, and certainly do not favor getting less."

Wilson said with reference to missiles that 40 different types were under development. Edgar Murphree, his special assistant for guided missiles, has recommended that some be dropped, others be pushed and a careful watch kept on those of a doubtful category.

Of the still secret "chemical heavy bomber," Wilson said that "we may contract with General Electric or Allison for chemical engines."

The chemical heavy bomber is still in the research stage. Chemical fuels under consideration produce a great deal more heat and power than petroleum products. If the chemical engines are successful, they would increase both the performance and range of aircraft powered with them. Experts consider this to be the next great advance in aircraft.

Vandenberg Dead Six Years, Foreign Policy Role Unfilled

Lyndon Johnson Is Trying Where Others Have Failed but Knowland's Opposition May Prove Insurmountable.

By JAMES RESTON

WASHINGTON, April 19.

SENATOR ARTHUR H. VANDENBERG of Michigan died six years ago yesterday, and this is a reminder that the gap in foreign policy leadership in Congress has not been filled since his death.

Former Senator Walter F. George of Georgia tried for a while, and succeeded periodically, but he was too tired and preoccupied with his own impending political defeat in Georgia to give a steady lead.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon has worked effectively behind the scenes in his own party on the Hill, and has steadily increased his stature and experience overseas, but his role of Republican heir apparent makes it difficult, if not impossible, to serve effectively as an instrument of bipartisan leadership.

Senators J. William Fulbright of Arkansas and Mike Mansfield of Montana have moved up in the Democratic hierarchy in the Senate, but neither can yet command the kind of support enjoyed on both sides of the aisle by Vandenberg in the latter years of his career.

Now it is Senator Lyndon Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader, who is trying to give a coherent lead and preserve the bipartisan spirit in foreign policy, but he is working under immense political and physical handicaps.

No Help From Leaders.

It might have been expected that Johnson would be able to count on the chairman and ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee and on the Senate Republican leader for powerful support in the foreign policy field, but this is precisely where he is not finding it.

Senator William F. Knowland of California, the Republican spokesman in the Senate, is drifting deeper into opposition against major aspects of the President's foreign policy. Chairman Francis Green of Rhode Island, at 89, is presiding ineffectually over a divided committee, and while Senator Alexander Wiley, the ranking Republican on the committee, is willing, his authority in the Senate is, to put it mildly, somewhat limited.

The President is engaged in a great gamble in Eastern Europe. He is trying to help Poland break away from its rigid Sovietized policy on the farms by providing loans for agricultural products. Johnson is trying to help him, but Knowland is conducting an open campaign against it, and has told the State Department that he intends to carry his battle not only to the floor of the Senate but into the country.

Similarly, Knowland is openly opposing the President's foreign aid and United Nations policies, and while the President is visibly trying to calm things down in eastern Europe, Knowland is implying publicly that in the next uprising against the Soviet army in that area, the United States should drop arms to the people.

By-Passing Knowland.

This opposition by Knowland to the President's policies has now reached the point where the State Department is working through Senator Everett Dirksen of Illinois on many foreign policy questions rather than through the two leading Senate Republicans, Knowland and Bridges of New Hampshire.

Beyond this, Johnson is finding that the pace of his job is an ever-present danger to his health. Like the President, he is recovering from a heart attack. Unlike the President, he cannot put an effective rein on his immense and restless energy when he is in the Capital

Consequently, his wife and his doctors have finally persuaded him that he must spend far more time in the future away from here. He has been away from the Senate on his Texas ranch since April 10 and won't be back until the end of the Easter recess at the end of the month.

This is a grievous handicap not only to the conduct of the public business in the Senate but to the Senator himself. He is an ambitious man. He has not only been working hard to move the legislative program along, but has been writing letters to northern liberals urging

140 Generals Will Be Shifted By Air Force

Twining's Promotion Touches Off Changes Among Third of Officers.

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP). PRESIDENT EISENHOWER'S selection of Gen. Nathan F. Twining to head the Joint Chiefs of Staff has touched off one of the greatest shifts among Air Force brass.

Informed sources said today that before the changes now under way are completed, more than 140 air force generals will have taken new assignments. That is almost one third of the generals in the air service, which now lists almost 470 officers with one or more stars.

Adding to the upheaval among the air generals was an authoritative report that the chiefs of at least four major Air Force commands have expressed their intention to retire.

They are Gen. O. P. Weyland, chief of the Tactical Air Command; Gen. Earle (Pat) Partridge, head of the Continental Air Defense Command; Lt. Gen. Joseph Smith, commander of the Military Air Transport Service, and Lt. Gen. Charles Stone, commander of the Continental Air Command.

The shift was started by the promotion of Twining from Air Force chief of staff to chairman of the joint chiefs of staff. He will take his new post in mid-August, succeeding Adm. Arthur W. Radford.

Gen. Thomas D. White, the Air Force vice chief of staff, was promoted to Twining's old job and Gen. Curtis Lemay, commander of the Strategic Air Command, was named to become vice chief of staff in White's place.

Appointment of a successor to Lemay at the Strategic Air Command is expected soon. Prominently mentioned for that post are Lt. Gen. Frank Everest, deputy chief of staff for operations; Lt. Gen. Emmett O'Donnell, deputy chief of personnel, and Lt. Gen. Thomas Power, chief of the Air Research and Development Command.

Among others mentioned for promotions are Lt. Gen. Francis Griswold, deputy commander of SAC, considered likely to succeed Weyland at TAC, and Lt. Gen. William Tunner, commander in chief of the United States Air Force in Europe, mentioned as likely to succeed Smith at MATS.

U.S. Officials Very Hopeful Of Arms Accord With Russia

Some Degree of Reduction Said to Be Real Possibility, With Inspection on Both Sides of Iron Curtain.

By MARQUIS W. CHILDS
A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

(Copyright 1957, The Pulitzer Publishing Co.)

WASHINGTON, April 19.

NOT IN A LONG TIME has such a spirit of optimism pervaded the top ranks of the State Department over the prospect of an agreement with Soviet Russia providing some degree of disarmament with inspection on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

The present determination is to use restraint in public so that hopes which might later prove false will not be raised. Privately, officials are saying that confidential reports received by the department from London and Moscow in recent days take an extraordinarily optimistic line.

Harold E. Stassen, President Eisenhower's special assistant on disarmament, is returning from London to report on the talks that have been going on in the United Nations disarmament subcommittee. He is said to be hopeful that a firm agreement with Russia is possible in the near future providing for aerial inspection not only in western Europe and the satellite states in eastern Europe but over at least a part of Russian territory as well.

Members of the subcommittee besides the United States and Russia are Canada, Britain and France.

Valerian A. Zorin, chief of the Soviet delegation and a Soviet deputy foreign minister, is also going to Moscow for the Easter recess. The commission will resume its discussions next Wednesday.

May Report to President.

Stassen will report to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, under whose immediate jurisdiction he now is. It is believed that he may also go to Augusta, Ga., to report directly to President Eisenhower, who is enjoying a golfing vacation there.

The proposal for aerial inspection was first made by Mr. Eisenhower at the summit conference in Geneva in the summer of 1955. It was rejected by Soviet Premier Bulganin and Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev, head of the Soviet delegation at that conference. Later, Soviet propaganda was turned against the "open skies" concept which the President had said must precede any disarmament agreement.

Before this latest session of the U.N. disarmament subcommittee, however, Moscow came out with a limited form of aerial inspection covering a belt of several hundred miles on both sides of the curtain that divides East and West in Europe. American negotiators felt that this was too restricted in its scope. In the latest talks it is believed the Russians have agreed to expand the belt.

If this should eventually be proved true it is the most important news since the talks at the United Nations looking to an agreement on control of atomic weapons broke down in 1947. No one, of course, can be sure that the seeming Soviet willingness is not just another move in the now-hot-now-cold campaign Moscow has long been waging.

Threats From Moscow.

At the same time that in recent days Zorin has been indicating Moscow's willingness to enter into what might prove to be a long step toward disarmament Moscow has been threatening western European powers with atomic retaliation if they permit American missile bases on their territory. The Atomic Energy Commission reported yesterday that the Soviet Union had set off the largest nuclear blast in a current series of tests that have thus far brought five explosions.

Even when they add all the qualifiers, State Department officials still are impressed by the fact that in London the Soviets seem to have gone farther than ever before in a tentative move toward inspection that can mean substantial disarmament. The tentative understanding seems to cover both conventional and nuclear weapons in a sliding scale of cutbacks.

Given the zigs and zags of Soviet policy, this can be completely reversed next week when Zorin comes back after talks in the Kremlin. But for the time being in the State Department there is the unusual experience of optimism.

USIA FINDS $100,000 PUT INTO ANTI-RED MOVIE WELL SPENT

WASHINGTON, April 19 (UP)—The United States Information Agency said yesterday that an anti-Communist movie it subsidized secretly not only is doing fine at the box office but is having a "most useful impact" on foreign thinking.

The agency defended its action in putting $100,000 of tax funds into the production as well as its insistence that the name of the film be kept under wraps.

It also denied earlier reports, from a House Appropriations subcommittee, that the film was a box office flop. It predicted the film will be seen by millions and that it "probably will show a modest profit" when all the returns are in.

An appropriations subcommittee headed by Representative John J. Rooney (Dem.), New York, took the USIA to task recently for alleged attempts to "propagandize" Americans by showing the film in theaters in the United States.

AEC TO DEVELOP NEW AREA TO TEST ROCKET ENGINES

LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 19 (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission took the first step yesterday toward developing a new area for testing the first nuclear rocket engines.

Bids were received on 19 miles of roads for a technical area at Jackass Flats, a site 12 by 39 miles in area adjacent to and west of the Nevada test site where many atomic devices have been exploded.

Initial work for the new test area is part of the nuclear rocket propulsion studies in progress at Los Alamos, N. M. Engineering work for the test site is being done by the Burns-McDonnell Engineering Co., Kansas City, Mo.

Apparent low bidder on the roadway job was the firm of Fred Galante and L. B. Wells, Visalia, Calif., which bid $890,345. It is expected that the road and subsequent water well work will cost about $2,000,000.

LOWER RANKING POLISH REDS TO BE SENT INTO FACTORIES

WARSAW, April 19 (AP)—The Polish Communist leadership has ordered a major shakeup in the party's lower ranks. Party employes are to be transferred wholesale from office jobs to full-time political tasks in factories and other places of work.

The aim is "primarily to bring employes of the party apparatus closer to problems of party work in industrial establishments and to the problems of the worker class."

Other apparent aims are to tighten control of "factory cells," which in some plants have not met for months.

BUDAPEST, April 19 (AP)—More than 22,000 Hungarian civil servants have been fired and sent to work in the factories, the government economic publication Gazdasagi Figyeloe said yesterday.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Where to Put Our Money

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I want to join in the applause for Mrs. Peters Rodewald's letter deploring the way our Government spends our money.

I, too, resent the fact that Congress is willing to appropriate something like 43 billion dollars for military and defense-related purposes, but tries to economize on items like foreign economic aid and school construction. The Pentagon really has the ear of Congress.

According to Walter Lippmann, out of the $3,700,000,000 appropriated for foreign aid this year only 16 per cent went for other than military purposes.

I think we should spend some meaningful sums on projects designed to help solve some real problems in this world. And I think we should do it out of concern for people in need, not just as part of our cold war tactics.

To most of us Americans—parents, farmers, business men—the challenge of converting a desert into productive land is far more exciting, and such accomplishments far more gratifying, than the development of pushbutton warfare which seems to fascinate our powerful military leaders. JOY C. GUZE.

Do Americans Care?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

How interesting to see the reaction in Canada to the slander slaying of Herbert Norman. Curious, isn't it, that nothing comparable to this outcry arises from our press or our people with regard to our own citizens who are mercflessly subjected to the verbal guillotine of these irresponsible congressional committees? We seem to have a shocking insensitiveness to the rights of "free" people. CITIZEN.

Party Fight

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I recall hearing, several years ago, a statement attributed to an important politician, that went, "If you can't run the party, wreck it." Judging by Grover Dalton's recent unwarranted blast at Congressman Tom Curtis, this thinking seems to be coming to the fore once again.

Tom Curtis, as a Congressman, has served all the people of Missouri with honesty and integrity, and enjoys the respect of his colleagues in Congress on both sides of the aisle. We never read of his participation in any free rides, any junkets. He has been a great credit to all of Missouri. He may not be a Senator. He is a statesman. I am proud to call him my Congressman. He has an honest desire, a sincere desire, to elect more Republicans in Missouri, thereby rehabilitating the two-party system.

His record on the floor of the Congress, his record in making prompt and forthright replies to mail reaching him from his constituents, his public speeches, whether we agree with all he says or not, reflect the fact that he is a public servant whose position is always unequivocally known.

This is the record of the Congressman whom Grover Dalton and company apparently have set out to destroy by smear and innuendoes and association with the dead "Dump Nixon" movement—an expression which the Dalton company has revived in an effort to divide, conquer, wreck and ruin the remnants of the Republican party of Missouri.

SAMUEL C. KLEIN.

Clayton.

'Studying and Stalling'

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

The recent letter by Grace Conahan, and your editorial, "Who Would Oppose It," commenting on humane slaughter, were of great interest.

It seems unbelievable that any one would be opposed to humane slaughter of our meat animals. But the answer is the vast majority of the meat packers themselves are opposed, despite the fact that their outmoded, hideously cruel methods bring unnecessary brutality to the animals and hazards uncalled for to the workers in that industry. Also the cost of the bruised meat that is rejected would very soon pay for improved methods.

Since 1929 the industry has been studying and stalling about improved methods. In most of the civilized world, except the United States, humane slaughter has been used since the turn of the century.

Free enterprise built our great country, and government should be kept out of industry as much as possible, but this industry has had ample time, and legislation is badly needed. BETTY LONG.

No Choice in Kirkwood

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Some two weeks ago, the people of Kirkwood failed to pass an increased tax levy by the necessary two-thirds majority. A special election will be held again on April 30 and again and again until the levy passes. This is all added expense to the taxpayer.

A clever trick is being pulled here. The people are required to vote either for or against a rate of $3.96, which is an increase of 49 cents to an already high rate. The people do not have a choice of voting to retain last year's rate of $3.47 or for the increased rate. It's either the increased rate or nothing.

The School Board is trying to scare the people into believing a defeat for the increase will result in no levy at all—the school system will crumble—our children will be illiterate. What hogwash!

Let's have a fair election. Let's have a choice between voting for an increase or voting to retain last year's rate. But, let's have a choice.

Kirkwood. CHARLES KOCH.

Toward Safety in the Air

Some idea of the problems and turmoil that beset the airways of the nation may be gained from considering the Civil Aeronautics Board's latest report on the probable cause of the collision of two airliners over the Grand Canyon last June which killed all 128 persons aboard. Factors behind the report are more important than the report.

This report does little more than to round up the several assorted theories that were advanced by various investigating agencies, including Congressmen, the airlines and the Air Line Pilots Association, within a few days after the accident. It concludes that the collision was caused by the pilots not seeing each other in time, but adds it was impossible to determine just why they did not. Clouds, sightseeing and insufficient information due to lack of equipment and personnel are mentioned as possible reasons why the pilots failed to see each other.

All this emphasizes the fact that the CAB, an independent agency, establishes the air safety policies which are supposed to be carried out by the Commerce Department's agency, the Civil Aeronautics Administration. Thus, in effect, the CAB really is judge and jury and investigates itself when it looks into any accident. That is why the A.L.P.A., several years ago, issued a statement saying:

> At the root of our whole air safety picture today is the inexorable cycle into which air safety has fallen—crashes followed by investigations where people investigate themselves, and then do-nothing periods that lull us into a false sense of security. There is a period when there are no crashes and we pat ourselves on the back with statistics that talk about the number of miles that have been flown without accidents. Suddenly we have more terrible crashes and we again go through the same meaningless cycle.

Why has the United States, the wealthiest of all nations, allowed its airways to lag so far behind in aviation progress that perils of the sky are increased rather than lessened? Answers are to be found in the report of the Aviation Facilities Study Group headed by William Barclay Harding, which 15 months ago completed a long and detailed study of the airways and in the interim report last week of President Eisenhower's special assistant for aviation facilities planning, Edward P. Curtis.

Mr. Harding put it this way: When any agreement was reached by civil and military agencies and private groups on what was best to do, the budgetary support and executive decision to put it into effect was frequently lacking.

Mr. Curtis, who proposes an Airways Modernization Board "for developing and consolidating the requirements for future systems . . . to accommodate the future air traffic," also cites the fact there has been "no one agency with specific authority and capability."

What can be done to remedy the present situation and also to aid in preparing the way for the long-range jet airliner era toward which Mr. Curtis is looking? Right now the CAA has requests before Congress for appropriations needed to provide airways and navigation electronic equipment that are essential to safe operations.

The first thing to do is to get the funds needed for this vital equipment. Current deficiencies can be counteracted at the same time that plans for the future are in the making.

For It "in Principle"

President Eisenhower's press conference approval of the natural gas bill reveals nothing new about that measure except that the President has not read it.

Mr. Eisenhower said he favored the "objectives" of the gas bill last year when he vetoed it only because of arrogant lobbying by the oil and gas industry. Now he has told reporters he favors the bill "in principle." Last year's bill would have exempted natural gas producers from federal rate regulation, while this year's bill merely makes regulation ineffective, but the goal is the same and so is the Administration's position.

The President did tell reporters that what he knew about the bill came from his assistants, and that he had not studied it himself. This falls short of the all-out informed indorsement which might put the gas grab through Congress. On the other hand, if the President did study the bill, his indorsement of its "principles" might be even less enthusiastic.

The Test on the Budget

President Eisenhower's new statement on the budget is as inconclusive as most of the discussion, both in Congress and the Executive branch, up to now. Responding to the highly political congressional resolution which asked him to point out where budget cuts could be made, he says in effect that Congress can juggle the bookkeeping if it likes, but he doubts if actual expenditures can be cut by more than $300,000,000 to $450,000,000. The talk in Congress has been of total cuts ranging from two billions upward.

There is only one way to settle the point and that is for Congress to go ahead and complete action on the appropriation bills, and see where it comes out. The House has trimmed a billion dollars off the bills it has already handled, but if precedent is any guide we can expect the Senate to restore a good deal of the reduction.

Even if the final figures agreed on by both houses show lower totals than those projected in the Executive budget, the full story will not be written until next spring, the season for passing deficiency appropriations to make up for inadequate appropriation bills of the year before. The odds are that when all the returns are in, the President will prove to have been more nearly right.

In belatedly taking the stand that a big budget is necessary to carry out the programs a majority of the people want carried out, the President is behaving as a responsible Chief Executive should behave—and far more responsibly than he did at the outset when, after presenting this budget, he sided for a while with some of its leading critics. His record would be cleaner, however, if he had talked this way while running for office, both in 1952 and 1956, instead of promising meat-ax budget cuts and setting afloat roseate dreams of drastically lower taxes.

Not to be outdone by Speaker Rayburn, who is flatly predicting a tax cut for next year, Mr. Eisenhower in his latest statement pays the usual obeisance to the political Holy Grail of lower taxes. But this time he talks in the broadest generalities and bases the hope for reduction, not on predicted feats of derring-do by way of economizing, but on the projected growth of the country. Instead of promising to whack the budget, he is now urging the country to outgrow it.

This is not the most politically attractive situation for a President to occupy, but it happens to accord with the facts of life.

Bring on the Fight!

It is suggested from Washington that there may be a move in the Senate to trade off opposition to the Scott McLeod appointment for support for the Charles E. Bohlen appointment. That is, those who want Mr. Bohlen confirmed as President Eisenhower's Ambassador to the Philippines may feel it expedient not to oppose confirmation of Mr. McLeod as Ambassador to Ireland.

There could hardly be a more unnecessary trade. Almost exactly four years ago an all-out fight was made by the irreconcilables in the Senate against the President's appointment of Mr. Bohlen to be Ambassador to Russia. For one critical month the nomination was held up. Finally the Foreign Relations Committee appointed a special two-member committee to review the allegations that the secret files contained information disqualifying Mr. Bohlen.

That committee consisted of the late Senator Taft of Ohio and Senator Sparkman of Alabama—a Republican and a Democrat. They inspected the FBI report and told the Senate that it contained nothing to cast doubt on Mr. Bohlen's loyalty. Secretary of State Dulles had previously made the same announcement.

When the vote was taken the grand total of opposition votes was 13—two Democrats and 11 Republicans. The Democrats were the late Pat McCarran of Nevada and Ed C. Johnson of Colorado, who retired from the Senate three years ago. One of the Republicans is also out of the Senate—Welker of Idaho, defeated last November.

That leaves 10 sitting Republicans as the presumed maximum of votes against Mr. Bohlen if there is a fight and roll call. They are: Bricker of Ohio, Bridges of New Hampshire, Dirksen of Illinois, Dworshak of Idaho, Goldwater of Arizona, Hickenlooper of Iowa, Malone of Nevada, McCarthy of Wisconsin, Mundt of South Dakota and Schoeppel of Kansas.

But it is unlikely that all 10 will repeat their 1953 mistake. Surely Senators Dirksen, Hickenlooper and Schoeppel, to select three, would not vote now as they voted four years ago when McCarthyism was in full swing in the Senate. The probability is that the anti-Bohlen hard core would be cut to a scant half-dozen.

Thus it would be preposterous to confirm the many-times disqualified Scott McLeod merely not to have a fight against Mr. Bohlen. If the Bridges cabal wants a fight let them have it. Let them see what a miserable little gang of last ditchers they are!

Four Years of Dawdling

For four years, Congress has temporized irresponsibly with the growing power requirements of the Tennessee Valley served by TVA, including those of the Government's own Atomic Energy Commission. It has been unwilling either to supply these needs with appropriations or to permit TVA to finance itself through sale of bonds. This double obstructionism has closed every avenue to doing what everyone is agreed must be done.

Alternative proposals to enable TVA to finance itself through bond sales have been placed before Congress. The measure desired by TVA has been introduced by Senator Kerr of Oklahoma and a group of colleagues from Tennessee Valley states. A more restrictive measure has been offered by Senator Cooper of Kentucky. There would seem to remain little if any excuse for Congress to procrastinate longer in doing its plain duty to make financing for normal plant growth available through appropriations or to let TVA do it through bond sales.

Done in the Dark

Behind the screen of legislative secrecy, the Missouri State Senate's Judiciary Committee has just killed again a long-overdue reform in the Missouri criminal code. But it was a close vote this time, 6 to 4, and it presages the day when the people of Missouri will win over the lawyer clique which is more interested in a multiplicity of trials for the criminal element than in justice under law.

The vote was on the meritorious proposal of Senator Avery of Troy to give trial judges discretion in ordering jointly indicted defendants to trial either singly or together, depending on the circumstances. The law now is that whenever defendants ask for separate trials they can obtain severance, with the result that witnesses are often required to appear in two, three or four different trials when one trial would have sufficed. Long delayed trials often frustrate justice, as witnesses die, move away or otherwise become unavailable.

Because the Senate rules do not require committees to reveal the line-up of their members, Missourians cannot tell how the members of the Judiciary Committee divided. But this much is known: 11 of the 13 Senators were present. These were Senators Kinney and Joynt of St. Louis, Crain and Davidson of St. Louis county, Keating of Kansas City and six outstate members, Gibson, Spradling, Avery, Waters, Rozier and Frieze. One of those present did not vote, and two members were absent, Jones and Noble. Thus the three who did not vote could have turned a 6-to-4 defeat into a 7-to-6 victory.

Senator Avery is to be applauded for his fight. Disappointing as the vote to table is, it was close enough to amount to a marked advance. In the next session or the next after that this battle for the people of Missouri will be won. When it is, the victory will be a rebuke and a reproach to all the selfish members of the bar who opposed a needed reform of the law.

Aged 8 Years

Disorder is being caused in the distilling industry by an excess of bonded whisky stored in warehouses and about to reach the age at which the $10.50 a gallon federal excise tax must be paid. The burning question is whether to extend from eight to 12 years the deadline when the tax must be paid regardless of whether the whisky has been sold. The present heavy stocks were laid in after the outbreak of the Korean war in 1950, when the industry expected a curtailment of grain and an increase in demand for whisky.

Pressure of bonded gallons against the tax deadline has already led to disturbed conditions in the industry. Distressed distillers say that unless relief is afforded, great quantities of whisky will have to be destroyed. The consumer has perhaps profited in lower prices for aged whisky as a result of all this, but unstable circumstances are particularly undesirable in an industry which must exercise restraints in the public interest. An extension of the deadline to 12 years would appear the most orderly solution all around.

A Neighbor, a Critic, a Challenge

The Mirror of Public Opinion

Latin America is all these things, writes St. Louisan just returned from long tour; he found Latins who had been in United States friendly, others more critical, all seeking help and confidence; United States does much—but does not explain itself.

A Letter to the Editor of the Post-Dispatch

Your editorial, "Look Southward, Washington," commenting on the Senate committee study of foreign aid to Central America and the Caribbean, was very impressive. In December, I wrote you from South America thanking you on behalf of South American friends for another editorial which showed a sympathetic understanding of the problems of Americans below the Rio Grande. Since writing you, Mrs. Saigh and I have traveled some 13,000 miles observing and talking with people there.

You are correct in stating many "Latin Americans feel an air of condescension pervades the attitude of the United States toward their cultural and economic importance. From this comes 'the rich uncle, poor relations' complex."

But we found out one important underlying exception. South Americans who know us understand us. And it's best illustrated by this incident: On Christmas eve we were invited to the circles of a large, prosperous family in Rio. The conversation ultimately was "North Americans," (as they call us), and more particularly, "dollar diplomacy," because everywhere we visited there was tremendous curiosity as to America.

We listened more than we talked because about one third of those present had spent some time in the United States or were educated here. They were our defense.

It was remarkable how the "house" was immediately divided. Without exception those who had been in the U.S. were on one side and the stay-at-homes were on the other. The stay-at-homes vehemently denounced the North American because of dollars spent everywhere in the world to win friends—but very little in South America. It boiled down to the one side loudly raking over many aspects of American condescension:

"Instead of treating us as one of you, as equal partners, we find Uncle Sam looking down his nose at us. Money is unimportant for purchasing our respect; we want America's confidence. We want them to help develop our vast resources. Everything the States need is plentiful in South America—oil, timber, iron ore, every metal known, precious and semi-precious stones, vast undeveloped farm lands, markets for your vast production, and a people that are your kind of people with the same democratic aims and the same reasons for improving their culture and way of life.

"You spend billions to make people of Europe and Asia hate you more but comparatively few dollars to develop the resources of your friends. While you are so busy with your dollars everywhere, Canada, England, Germany, Italy and Russia are making markets and investing 'know-how.'" And so it goes on.

The pro-Americans defended the United States: "If you ever visited the U.S. you would know what a wholesome attitude they have. Americans do not have ulterior motives. We like their way of life, we like the way they treat us. When an American gets to South America everyone from the porter to the shopkeeper, from the taxi driver to our government officials, everyone high and low tries to pry money loose from our friends.

"When we go to America everyone leans backward to see that we get more than our money's worth, that we are comfortable. We know that they are our friends. You are envious, you are jealous, for you cannot understand generosity, generosity without motive."

So I concluded that we do a very poor job of public relations. We "do" but we do not explain. I told them that American "dollar diplomacy" has only one underlying reason for existence and justification: to save lives—North American and South American; to save lives that would have to be expended in ultimately defending the democratic way of life if Communism was permitted to spread country by country and continent by continent.

I said that we Americans would try dollars as long as that was, in our opinion, the defense for both North and South Americans. Dollars help improve the standards of others, it helps educate them; education helps them understand they are human beings and not chattels. Once they understand that they will appreciate that our interest is the sanctity of man, and then and only then will they look on Americans as being devoid of imperialistic motives.

I said further that I did not believe that our government has forgotten the importance of their friendship, that we owe them the technical knowledge and capital for development, but the urgency to expend all our resources in trouble spots of the present only postpones the day when America's eyes turn South in peace with the necessary help. I feel I won over many friends; and so if we can't do what we should be doing we should explain and keep our friends. They want to understand; they have the capacity.

But talking with others, not in the influential class, I was and am very much disturbed about the extent of latent Communism; the rich are very rich, the poor, very poor; and the middle class, which is the "balance wheel" of any country, is practically non-existent.

When all hope is lost and when degradation of the human being reaches a point where there is nothing to lose, human beings turn away from the system under which they exist. Communist Russia's arms are always present to receive them. And therein lies the danger of postponing the day of help and understanding to our gracious and receptive neighbors to the South.

Fish: Beware!

From The Kansas City Star

I have laid aside business, and gone a-fishing.—From "The Compleat Angler" by Isaac Walton (1653).

Angling was already an ancient art when Walton penned those words more than three centuries ago. Long before the dawn of recorded history man began his intense pursuit of fish.

Through the ages he has employed every device his brain could concoct to trap his watery friend—from the crude flint-headed spear of stone age man to the most elaborate equipment of Madison avenue's gray flannel fishermen.

This spring, as for centuries, men like Walton have "laid aside business, and gone a-fishing." It's the season from Puget Sound to Pensacola, from Pasadena to Plymouth Rock. Today fishing, along with the allied sports of boating and hunting, is probably America's favorite pastime. At least, it's the most expensive.

A recent survey by U. S. News & World Report predicts that Americans will spend more than 4 billion dollars in 1957 on rod and reel and rifle, along with boats and the travel these sports involve.

Missouri, too, is feeling the surge. In March at the state trout parks the sale of fishing tags was unprecedented. At Bennett Springs fishermen bought 6385 tags, compared to 5656 last March. Increases were registered also at Roaring River and Montauk.

It's springtime in America and the contest of wits, man vs. fish, has begun. Trout and tuna, bass and barracuda and all the rest: Beware!

Between Book Ends

Greatest Since Bismarck

ADENAUER: HIS AUTHORIZED BIOGRAPHY, by Paul Weymar. Translated from the German by Peter De Mendelssohn. (Dutton, 509 pgs., $5.95.)

Regardless of the outcome of the forthcoming Sept. 15 election in the West German Federal Republic, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, whose personal prestige will be challenged, can take pride in the role he has played in his country's revitalization and international politics since the end of World War II.

An outspoken anti-Nazi and anti-Communist, he was the moving force behind the political reorganization of his nation, twice defeated in world wars, and in molding the shapeless mass of Germany into its present position as a self-sustaining state and ally of the Western democracies.

The 81-year-old Chancellor, a devout Catholic and leader of the Christian Democrats, has sought in his career of professional politics to translate the spirit of the Gospel into terms of political practice. He states his philosophy thus: "We have reason, and we have a conscience, and both are a gift of God. In using them, as a politician, I make my contribution toward the establishment of the order willed by God even here, in this world."

Adenauer

Unlike the Socialists who also seek to re-unite Germany, he has aligned his political thinking and his country with the West, militarily and otherwise, as a means of accomplishing this end. Adenauer, who from the first opposed Hitler's totalitarian doctrines and suffered under the Nazis as a result, fosters the ideals of Germany integrated into a United States of Europe by advocating the European Coal and Steel Community and the European Defense Community. The latter never got to the experimental stage because of the French fear of a "militaristic" Germany.

It is ironic that Chancellor Adenauer, whom Sir Winston Churchill has referred to as the greatest German statesman since Bismarck, was dismissed for incompetence from his office as Lord Mayor of Cologne by the Nazis and after the war by the British Military Government in October 1945.

The author, Paul Weymar, who also was dismissed as editor of the Berlin Vossichen Zeitung, Germany's oldest democratic newspaper, during the advent of Hitler's Third Reich, has divided this volume into what he refers to as "the three lives of Adenauer." The first deals with the Chancellor's early family life, training and career to the year 1917. The second comprises his activities as Chief Mayor of Cologne, his native city. The third is contemporary, beginning after the German collapse.

Mr. Weymar has consulted friends, the Adenauer family and members of both major political parties for first hand accounts of the Chancellor's life and career. Portions of the book have been contributed by Adenauer himself.

The result of the author's "Adenauer," begun in 1953, provides not only interesting and dramatic reading material but a deep insight into the man whose capacity for work, love of freedom and compassion for his countrymen have caused him, at times, to forsake both popularity and the easy way out rather than compromise his principles. JOHN H. HICKS.

WALTER LIPPMANN

Europe Distrusts U.S. Leaders

ROME.

ONE OF THE THINGS that has impressed me in Great Britain and again in Italy is that in foreign affairs there are no clear and sharp issues.

There was, of course, a deep division of feeling over the Suez affair. But now that the intervention has failed and has been liquidated, there does not seem to be anywhere a definite difference of view as to what the Western world or the United States should do next. My impression is that here in Italy there is a feeling of solidarity with the British and the French but that this feeling is checked by a strong practical sense that it is the national interest of Italy to go along with the United States.

Dulles

Dulles in Unreal World.

In moving about and talking to a variety of people from the countries of Western Europe, I have found a remarkable amount of agreement, almost a consensus, about the Soviet Union, about the Middle East, and about the United States.

I have seen no one who thinks the Soviet Union is planning and is preparing for a general war. For that reason the resounding declarations of the so-called Eisenhower Doctrine are received with puzzled incredulity.

Some think that the President and Mr. Dulles are living in an unreal world, emphasizing dangers that will probably not come and not dealing with dangers that do in fact exist. Others think that they must mean something deep, so deep that nobody understands it.

I have seen no one who thinks that the Soviet Union is at present willing or able to negotiate a general German or European settlement. The commonly accepted view is that the Soviet Union cannot afford to withdraw the Red Army from Eastern Germany and from Poland.

This would mean the fall of the East German Communist regime, and along with that a turning of Poland and Hungary against Russia.

Russia Wins in Egypt.

Some whom I have seen think that there is nothing for the West to do but to back up Dr. Adenauer and accept the fact that Europe is partitioned.

Others, who are, I believe, more farsighted, think the West should keep on trying to negotiate, offering the Soviet Union terms which Moscow, were it less frightened and suspicious, could find reasonable.

There is a general view, I found, that in the rivalry for the so-called uncommitted nations of Africa, the Middle East, and South Asia, the Soviet Union has an easier hand to play than has the United States.

There is a feeling that the Soviet Union has won the game in Nasser's Egypt. Certainly it would be a pleasant surprise in Europe if Eisenhower and Dulles are able to hold their own in the game.

Afraid of Eisenhower.

Although I have not encountered it myself, there is obviously wide anti-American feeling. There is, on the one hand, a big distaste for the manners and the bearing of Americans traveling abroad or talking to the outer world.

The comforts and the conveniences of the American way of life are popular. But the talk that goes with them, be it from tourists, itinerant Congressmen, or other officials is definitely unpopular.

There is in the anti-American feeling a general disillusionment with President Eisenhower himself. There is an extraordinary lack of confidence in Secretary Dulles. There is a general underlying anxiety that the fate of Europe should so much depend upon them.

Increase in Solidarity.

The feeling seems to be unanimous as one learns not only in private conversation but also in blunt correspondence in the responsible European press, that the President is a tired man living in a kind of semi-retirement.

All this tends to strengthen the feeling in favor of projects, like the common market, of European solidarity. I have no doubt that the brilliant reception of Queen Elizabeth in Paris reflects in some considerable measure this new feeling of European solidarity.

Yet I am unable to judge, nor is anyone I have talked with, whether the general feeling of European solidarity is strong enough to overcome the national feelings and the vested interests which kept Europe divided.

It will be years before we know. But in the meantime the common effort to work at these common projects is in itself a healthy manifestation of European solidarity.

SUNRISE SERVICES FOR EASTER HERE

One of Largest to Be in Forest Park—Egg Hunts for Children.

Many sunrise services will be held in the St. Louis area Sunday in the traditional observance of Easter, commemorating the resurrection of Christ.

In addition, there will be Easter egg hunts for children, sponsored by civic, fraternal and religious organizations later in the day.

Hundreds of St. Louisans attended Good Friday services in their churches today from noon until 3 p.m. Last night Maunday Thursday services were held in churches.

One of the largest sunrise services will be at the Municipal Opera in Forest Park, under auspices of the Metropolitan Church Federation. This service will start at 6:15 a.m. and will be broadcast by Post-Dispatch Station KSD from 6:30 to 7 a.m.

The Rev. Dr. Franc L. McCluer, president of Lindenwood College, St. Charles, will deliver the sermon. A choir composed of 125 grade school boys, under the direction of Miss Helen Louise Graves, will sing. Other music will be provided by the Beaumont High School orchestra, directed by John W. Young. Boy Scouts will act as ushers.

At St. Louis Cathedral, Easter services will begin at 5:30 a.m. and continue through 11 a.m. At noon, Archbishop Joseph E. Ritter will conduct a solemn pontifical mass, which will be telecast by KSD-TV.

There will be three communion services at Christ Church Cathedral beginning at 8 a.m. The other two will be at 9:20 and 11 o'clock. The 9:20 service will include an Easter greeting by Canon Early Poindexter. Dean of the Cathedral Ned Cole will conduct the other two services.

The story of Easter has been told symbolically by draping a 10-foot cross on the lawn of the Mizpah Lutheran Church, 1706 McLaren avenue. The cross was placed on the lawn Ash Wednesday evening. Tonight, Good Friday, it will be draped in black. On Easter, it will be covered with flowers.

Shaw's Garden, the Board of Education greenhouses at Field and Blow streets, and the Jewel Box in Forest Park have special Easter flower arrangements on display.

Among the Easter egg hunts will be one at 2 p.m. at Baden Recreation Field, 8600 North Broadway, sponsored by the Baden Memorial Amvet Post No. 13; another at the same hour in Gravois Park, Compton avenue and Potomac street, sponsored by the Tenth Ward Regular & Jefferson Democratic Club and another at 1:30 p.m. at Chain of Rocks Amusement Park, sponsored by the West End Lions Club.

Other Easter egg hunts will be in Carondelet Park at 2 p.m.; Forest Park at 1 p.m.; O'Fallon Park in the morning; Christy Park at 2:30 p.m. and 3 p.m.; Bellerive Park at 2 p.m.; Dakota Park in the afternoon; Laclede and Penrose Parks at 2 p.m. and at Tilles Park in St. Louis county in the afternoon.

Fluoridation Benefit Cited.

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y., April 19 (AP)—The city health commissioner has reported that there has been a decrease of more than 50 per cent in tooth decay among children in certain age groups since fluoridation was started here in 1951.

View of City in 1854 Lithograph

"View of St. Louis, Mo.," a lithograph executed by Julius Hutawa in 1854, which was presented to Missouri Historical Society by Arthur E. Woerheide. Hutawa was one of city's first lithographers.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY GETS CATLIN PRINTS

Original Drawings Intended to Show Varied Uses of Colt Arms.

Five lithograph prints created by the famed Nineteenth Century artist, George Catlin, to display varied uses of Colt arms, were acquired recently by the Missouri Historical Society and added to the Olin Galleries in the west wing of Jefferson Memorial, it was announced today.

Charles Van Ravenswaay, director of the society, said the original drawings were commissioned by the Colt Firearms Co. in the 1860 and were printed in England. Catlin created artistic and dramatic situations for depicting the weapons.

Each print shows different section of wilderness in the Americas. Catlin traveled and painted before the white man's influence brought too many changes in the country.

"Although Catlin was a prolific painter," Van Ravenswaay said, "few of his works can be found in this area. The Missouri Historical Society is proud to add the prints to its Catlin painting, 'A View of St. Louis, 1832,' already in the collections."

The new prints include these subjects: Shooting buffalo, deer hunting on the Susquehanna, a scene on the Rio Trombutos in Brazil, firing a rifle before the Carib Indians in South America, and saving a companion from a charge of peccaries.

The society also announced addition of a formerly unknown lithograph print, "View of St. Louis, Mo.," by Julius Hutawa, circa 1854. Hutawa, one of the city's first lithographers, emigrated from Prussia in the 1830s. The lithograph measures 22 by 34 inches.

The lithograph, added to the Pictorial History collections, was contributed by Arthur E. Woerheide.

The society has purchased a colored Currier and Ives print, "Bombardment of Island No. 10," from the Heritage Fund. The print, which shows a Mississippi river island near New Madrid, Mo., will be displayed in the Pictorial History Gallery later.

Three framed Currier and Ives prints, the gift of Mrs. Charles K. Belknap, have been placed in the Steamboat Gallery. They are entitled "High Water in the Mississippi," "Low Water in the Mississippi" and "Midnight Race on the Mississippi." All were printed in the 1860s.

DESCRIBES WASHINGTON U.'S WORK IN PROTEIN RESEARCH

Recent advances at Washington University in science's efforts to solve the mystery of protein synthesis were described before the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology in Chicago today by Dr. Paul Berg, assistant professor of microbiology at the university's School of Medicine.

Dr. Berg reported evidence for the existence and activity of substances intermediate between nucleotides, which make up nucleic acid, and the amino acids that are assembled into proteins. Proteins are highly complex combinations of amino acids that are essential to all living cells.

Devotions of Many Faiths Overshadow Holy Land Tension

Eastern and Western Christians Observing Easter—Also Sacred Time for Moslems, Jews and Samaritans.

JERUSALEM, Jordan Sector, April 19 (AP)—Religious devotions of many different faiths overshadowed political crises in the Holy Land this Good Friday.

It was the Easter season for both Western and Eastern Christians. But it also was a holy time for Moslems and Samaritans. Across the frontier in Israel, Jews were completing their Passover holidays.

Jordan Prime Minister Khalidi, installed this week after his nation's acute political crisis, went to his home in Jericho to observe the Moslem day of rest. The Arab country as a whole appeared momentarily more interested in religion than politics.

Pilgrims Jam Hotels.

In Arab Jerusalem, scene of most of the holy places, hotels were jammed with visiting pilgrims. The tourist bureau estimated 4000 visitors arrived this week.

Only about 400 pilgrims crossed the Palestine armistice frontier from Israel, and few Westerners were among them. Most of the visitors in the Jordan sector were Arab Christians who had come by other routes from Egypt, Cyprus and Syria.

Because of calendar differences the Eastern and Western Easter usually fall on different dates. However, this year they coincide.

Moslem visitors also crowded into the city. This is Ramadan—a fasting month for Moslems—and the devout like to come to Jerusalem every Friday in Ramadan to pray in the Dome of the Rock, third most holy place in the world to Moslems. The prophet Mohammed is said to have risen into heaven on his horse from the rock.

A few miles to the north on Mount Gerizim, near Nablus, the last 300 survivors of the Biblical Samaritan community gathered for their Saturday Passover feast, unchanged in any detail since the exodus from Egypt.

The few hundred pilgrims from the Israeli sector of Jerusalem contrasted with several thousand who crossed the city's dividing line last year.

(The United Press said Jordan border authorities refused to admit three Russian nuns into the Jordanian section of Jerusalem, apparently in a switch of policy decreed by the new Amman government.

Services in Rome.

(The nuns were the only Russians who tried to cross the holy city's frontier. The only reason the Jordan border guards gave for stopping them was that they carried Soviet passports.)

In Vatican City, Roman Christians and pilgrims from many countries gathered in St. Peter's Basilica for services commemorating Christ's death on the cross.

The highlight of the services, which were also held in other churches throughout Rome, was the slow extinguishing of all but one of the 15 altar candles. The single burning candle, symbolic of Christ, then was hidden momentarily behind the altar as a loud noise reminded the worshipers of the convulsions of nature at the moment the Savior died.

Among the crowds thronging Rome's streets were thousands of foreign pilgrims, including many from West Germany, France, the Scandinavian countries, Ireland and the United States.

Cardinals Turn Home Opener Into Comedy, Lose to Cubs

BASEBALL by Bob Broeg

Cardinal Twinbills To Begin at 1 p.m.

GENERAL MANAGER Frank Lane announced at the Cardinals' home opener that all doubleheaders would begin at 1 o'clock, a result of a trend in the big leagues, a desire to avoid encroaching too late into Sunday evenings and a warm response to a test last weekend against Kansas City. "The fans liked it, especially the out-of-town folks," said Lane, "so beginning this Sunday against the Cubs, all our doubleheaders will begin at 1."

Moe Drabowsky, who checked the Cardinals on four hits, is a sturdy good-looking blond with wavy hair. "I was stiff, couldn't loosen up in the first inning," said the 21-year-old Trinity College senior, who migrated from Poland with his parents when he was just four years old. Drabowsky issued two of his three passes in the first frame, but a good stop by far-ranging rookie Second Baseman Casey Wise eased the situation.

Both Fred Hutchinson and Bob Scheffing, the rival managers, scheduled open-date workouts today at Busch Stadium. . . . Young righthanders Don Kaiser of the Cubs and Lindy McDaniel of the Cards will be the opposing pitchers in Saturday's 1:30 Ladies day game. . . . "I've got three kid starting pitchers who can really fire," said St. Louisan Scheffing, referring to Drabowsky, Kaiser and Dick Drott, a rookie scheduled to hurl one game of Sunday's twinbill.

The Cubs have altered their uniform, giving it, in some respects, a touch reminiscent of the rival White Sox suit of some years ago. That is, they now wear blue caps with white stripes and the letter "C." Other changes include the red-lettered words "Chicago Cubs" on the uniform shirt and blue-striped white stockings.

Veep Grimm to Look After Farm System.

CHARLEY GRIMM, St. Louisan, now back with the Cubs as a vice president, watched the game with his wife, Lillian. Grimm, trim and healthy-looking, said he'd travel mostly to concern himself primarily with the Chicago farm system. "Grumpy (Scheffing) is going with a young team," said Jolly Cholly. "That's the only way we can build."

The late-afternoon rain prevented practice and also kept the Belleville Black Knights from performing, but the crack drum and bugle corps will strut its stuff between games of the Easter twinbill. . . . There was a Hollywood flair to the opener. The park was blacked out and a spotlight singled out players as Manager Hutchinson introduced them individually in brief ceremonies. . . . Fannie Cusanelli, of the Muny Opera chorus, sang the National Anthem.

Fog-horned George Wyatt, former Washington infielder and White Sox assistant, coached at third base and Fred Fitzsimmons at first. Scheffing's other coach, also new to the Cubs, is Ray Mueller, former National League catcher, who was on the Giants' coaching staff last year. . . . Owners and coaches of the National Basketball Association, here for their spring meeting, were guests of the Cardinals and were introduced. Ben Kerner, owner of the Hawks, drew a warm ovation.

The biggest hand was given Stan Musial, playing his 776th consecutive game, when the injured Redbird star batted in the first inning. He walked. . . . Murry Dickson, obviously having difficulty controlling his knuckler, issued a walk and uncorked a wild pitch in the second inning, but the Cubs needed two pop singles and a passed ball for their two runs. In the third, however, the ancient righthander was routed with three straight solid safeties.

'The Kid' Tags Ball.

THE Cardinals' two runs resulted in the fifth from Hal Smith's second single, a double by Bobby Gene Smith and pinch-hitter Joe Cunningham's basehit. "The kid (B. G. Smith) tagged that ball real good all three times up," Hutchinson observed. . . . When Robert G. Smith took over as the third Redbird pitcher in the sixth, the last three St. Louis players in the lineup were Smiths.

Gene Baker, switching from second base to third this season for the Cubs, hammered across four runs with three hits, one of them a triple; Dee Fondy had a triple and two singles, and Ernie Banks belted two doubles. . . . Wise, the rookie second baseman, a lefthanded batter, used an old-fashioned choked-grip at the plate.

Ken Boyer, hitless in the first two games, failed twice with men on base. . . . St. Louis-area athletes with the Cubs, in addition to Manager Scheffing, include rookie Catcher Cal Neeman, reserve First Baseman Ed Mickelson and former Redbird Pitcher Tom Poholsky, who resides here. . . . Drabowsky drove in two runs with scratch hits, a bloop to center in the second and a tap along the third-base line in the fifth.

Banks scored on a passed ball in the sixth when Hal Smith couldn't seem to locate a low pitch he had blocked only partly with his glove. . . . Backing out of the batter's box after R. G. Smith was set on the mound in the sixth, Bob Will, bespectacled young Chicago center fielder from Tulsa, was assessed a strike as Smith came through with the pitch.

17,255 See Redbirds Get Only Four Hits

By Bob Broeg

The least Jim Conzelman could do, after the Cardinals took him too literally by "kicking off" their home season, would be for the old football coach to set the baseball club straight on one of the first rules of the gridiron.

"Don't fumble," the D'Arcy Demosthenes could tell the red-faced Redbirds, "but if you do, don't try to pick up the ball. Fall on it."

Just by dropping on the ball, rather than drop-kicking it, the Cards could have saved themselves embarrassment if not the unreasonable facsimile of a ball game they played last night at Busch Stadium before a 17,255 crowd that was alternately astonished, annoyed and then amused by the imposters in St. Louis uniforms.

If the 10-2 fiasco with the grateful Chicago Cubs doesn't go down in history as the poorest home opener the Redbirds ever have played—and they've gummed up some good ones before—it'll have to do until some April night or day they make four errors in succession, not just three.

One Good Catch, At Least.

The only time the first-division Cardinals were ahead of the last-place Cubs, speaking of 1956 standings, came when Conzelman, a member of their board of directors and opening-game master of manipulations, became the first to touch home plate — in pre-contest ceremonies. The last ball the Redbirds caught cleanly, it seemed, was Mayor Raymond R. Tucker's first pitch.

Hal Smith, the cherubic sophomore catcher, latched onto His Honor's delivery, but poor Smitty was in trouble thereafter, committing two passed balls, a throwing error and having the misfortune of being an accessory before or after the fact in just about every defensive crime the Cardinals committed.

Stan Musial, playing with his aching back taped, was second in defensive difficulties, denying stoutly afterward, however, that his injury had handicapped him either at bat or afield. He was hitless in three official trips.

"I felt all right and had no excuse," The Man said, a light smile then appearing as, remembering the bunt he tried repeatedly to pick up without success, he commented:

"That crazy ball kept spinning and slipping off my fingers every time I'd grab for it. I must have looked like a kid out on an Easter egg hunt."

"Room for Improvement."

Even frozen-faced Fred Hutchinson, a hard loser, couldn't resist cracking, "as (Walker) Cooper said, 'At least there's room for improvement."

While the Cardinals were limited to four hits by Moe Drabowsky, power-pitching 21-year-old bonus righthander, the Cubs collected 15 off loser Murry Dickson and four replacements. However, no fewer than seven of Chicago's safeties either were swaybacked singles just over the infield or topped rollers that eluded Redbirds who skidded on the greased grass diamond.

The most trouble staying upright on the rain-soaked infield was experienced by Willard Schmidt, who took more pratfalls in his short stay on the mound than a burlesque comedian. On one, a bunt right back to him, Schmidt sat down hard and as his feet flew out from under him, his spikes soccer-kicked the ball directly back to batterymate Smith, whose quick-thinking throw to Musial probably would have retired the batter if Stan had held the ball.

For a capsule idea of what kind of game it was, however, here's what happened in the eighth inning when the Cards donated four final unearned runs to two officially unwarranted earlier and a couple more that were tainted because as Hutchinson expressed it, the Cubs "didn't hit the ball as far as I can spit."

Ball Had No Handle.

Making his first National League appearance, rookie southpaw Robert G. Smith was the victim of fol-de-rol that began on Dee Fondy's slow tap toward third for a scratch hit. Bob Will, young Chicago center fielder bunted, and it was here Musial couldn't find a handle on the ball. Fondy quickly stole third and when Ernie Banks grounded to Al Dark, the shortstop's throw trapped Fondy trying to score. In a rundown, however, Hal Smith threw low to third and the bases were loaded.

Next up, Walt Moryn grounded to Don Blasingame, who had an easy force play at the plate, but the second baseman skipped the ball near the catcher's feet for an error. And when Gene Baker cleared the bases with a triple, Hutchinson decided the pitching Smith, still seeking the first out when he had hurled well enough to have retired the side twice, had suffered enough for one night.

Come to think of it, so had the first-nighters in the stands, too.

Umpire Summers Hit By Bottle Thrown by Fan After Game's End

DETROIT, April 19 (UP)—Umpire Bill Summers was bowled over at the end of the Detroit Tigers-Cleveland Indians baseball opener here yesterday when a person in the upper deck hit the veteran arbiter with a bottle as the game ended.

Summers suffered a bruise on his right leg, the mark an almost-perfect impression of the bottle. The thrower was not caught.

Cleveland rookie manager Kerby Farrell was thrown out in the eighth inning for arguing with plate umpire Jim Honochick over a strike call. Farrell didn't leave the bench until a half-inning after he was ejected. He said he didn't know Honochick meant he was to leave.

Sports Club to Use Veterans In Rugby Game With Canadiens

By Neal Russo

Coach Rich White of the Sports Club will bank on a veteran lineup for the inter-city rugby match with the Irish-Canadians of Toronto tomorrow at Forest Park.

The Sports' backfield for the 3 o'clock match on the grounds east of the handball courts will feature Art Streb, the redhead, who stood out in the Sports' triumph here over the Toronto Barbarians last year, and Don Spicer, ace kicker who is second in scoring with 28 points in the Missouri Rugby Football Union. Romer Hodges of the Thurmers leads with 32.

White, a longtime standout in rugby until he was injured in a college football game last fall, has been on the sidelines all season. The Sports have begun to miss him, too. They were beaten in league matches by the Washington U. Hawks and the Thurmers the past two Sundays after going three seasons without a defeat.

Of the Irish-Canadian starters, six are natives of Belfast, three hail from Dublin and three others come from Ireland. Only two members of the Toronto team are native Canadians.

The Irish club, whose uniforms are green and white, had its beginning as the result of the heavy immigration following World War II. The team was not scored upon in 1951 and yielded only three penalty goals the following year in gaining successive titles.

The same Irish - Canadian team will be host to the Missouri season winner—either the Sports or the Thurmers, who are now in first place—in Toronto in mid-May.

Ted Kleifisch will be one of the touch-line judges for the match here. Eric Bole will referee.

Remember? 5...15...25 YEARS AGO

1952—Les Moss hit another homer and Duane Pillette limited the White Sox to five hits as the Browns made it four straight with a 7-1 victory before 12,573 in their home opener. . . . Harry Brecheen, who had pitched only eight innings total in spring training, held his Chicago cousins to two hits until the ninth at Wrigley Field, then was lifted by Manager Eddie Stanky after giving up two straight safeties. Dick Bokelmann and Al Brazle failed in relief and the Cubs scored four runs for a 5-4 triumph.

1942—The Browns and Cardinals ran into shutouts. Detroit rookie Hal White blanked the Browns here, 4-0, and Peruque's Ken Heintzelman held the Redbirds scoreless at Pittsburgh, 3-0. . . . Adolf Kiefer of Chicago clipped two full seconds off his own 100-meter backstroke record by swimming the event in 1:02.8 at Detroit.

1932 — Young Joe Ghnouly outpointed the veteran Johnny Kaiser at the Coliseum on a card on which Joe Parks, weighing 144, made his professional debut with a second-round knockout over one Jack London of Chillicothe, Mo. . . . Chick Hafey, signing a one-year contract at Cincinnati, joined former Cardinal teammates Andy High, Wally Roettger and Taylor Douthit.

Furgol Tied for Lead; Harrison Gets 80 Score

LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 19 (UP)—A pair of "opposites" in the world of golf teed off in the second round of the $40,000 tournament of champions today holding a one-stroke lead over a closely-bunched field of 23.

Battling for the $10,000 first prize were Ed Furgol, the lame-armed swinger from St. Andrews, Ill., who missed eight putts of less than four feet yesterday and still came in with an even-par 72; and the picture-swinger, young Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa.

The weather was so bad that their 72s were regarded classics in the world of championship golf. But for all their efforts they held only a one-stroke lead over defending champion Gene Littler, former champion Art Wall, the Texas wind player; Fred Hawkins, and Jimmy Demaret, who never has been known to post a poor score in rugged weather.

E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of St. Louis, finished the round with an 80.

The weather forecast for today was for calm and sunny. That would be a vast difference from yesterday. The gales blew sand across the desert at 30 miles an hour and the north wind brought in cold, chilling rains later.

Despite this type of competition the golf was good. The only bad score was by Jay Hebert, a fine golfer from Sanford, Fla. Jay posted an 83—brought about by a disastrous 11 on the par-four eight golf. He hit three drives there that the wind carried out of bounds and took an torrendous 11.

Close on the heels of the leaders came Masters Champion Doug Ford and the veteran Pete Cooper with 74s. Don Finsterwald, Billy Casper and national open champion Cary Middlecoff, the 5-1 tournament favorite, each had 75. At 76 were Mike Souchak, Billy Maxwell, Peter Thomson and Mike Fetchick. Don January and Dick Mayer had 78; Ted Kroll and Bobby Rosburg 79; and Bo Wininger and Doug Sanders 81.

Marines Plan Six Medals in Olympic Events

A bigger and better Olympic Fund track meet was seen at an organization meeting last night the University Club. Lt. Col. Ted Spiker of the Marine Corps Reserve presided.

A new event, the 180-yard low hurdles, will be added to the three-day program, May 28, 30 and 31 at the Public Schools Stadium. Also it was decided to award six medals instead of the customary three to stimulate interest of high school athletes in the event.

In addition, there will be a dinner for the contestants, their coaches and high school principals May 27. It is planned to have a sports celebrity, preferably from the 1956 Olympic games, to come here for the get-together. There also is a possibility films of the Olympic games in Australia will be shown.

As in the past two meets here, profits will be turned over to the Olympic Fund committee.

Three Eastern Teams, Two From West Coast In Wheelchair Tourney

St. Louis Rolling Rams and the Illinois Gizz Kids are two of eight teams, from coast to coast, entered in the ninth annual National wheelchair basketball tournament at Belleville April 26-28. Other squads will come from Garden Grove, Calif.; New York City, Hackinsack, N.J.; Kansas City, Brooklyn and Los Angeles, Calif.

The Rams, with seven victories and two defeats in Wheelchair conference play, are expected to be strong contenders for the United States championship.

All visiting teams will be flown to Belleville by the United States Air Force and will be billeted at Scott Air Force Base. Some games will be played at Scott and others at Belleville Township High gym.

The Illinois contingent will include a group of girl cheerleaders, also confined to wheelchairs.

No Major League Games Today; Three Racing Tracks Idle

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP).

GOOD FRIDAY was to be "Quiet Friday" on the sports front with all major league baseball teams and three major racing tracks idle today.

It is an open date on the schedules of both the American and National Leagues. Horse bettors eager to get a few $2 bets down will find gates closed at Laurel, Lincoln Downs and Bay Meadows.

Racing will be held as usual at Jamaica, Gulfstream and Keeneland.

But the Boston Marathon —traditionally held on Patriot's day, April 19 — has been moved to Saturday instead.

Bigger, Better Scores.

THERE was quite a bit of speculation going on in Fort Worth, site of the A.B.C. tournament, concerning the reasons for the abnormally high scores this year. It might be said that, as in most other sports, the participants just are getting better. The number of bowlers competing at Fort Worth is only about half the total entered in many other recent A.B.C. tournaments, and many expected the small total to bring a lower trend in scores.

No figures are available to show what the 1957 field has averaged in comparison to other years, but the fact that the 54-year record for 3000 totals has already been smashed is an indication that the tenpin people have good cause to wonder. At last count, 24 team scores of 3000 or better had been shot. The previous record was just 17.

The team high three score of 3092 that won last year at Rochester has been beaten twice, with the current leader at 3126. Last year's top doubles total of 1331 doesn't compare with the 1369 at Fort Worth. The 2018 all-events score that won at Rochester was left far behind when an all-time high of 2088 was rolled last Friday.

Yet the entry list at Rochester was 5845 teams, compared to 3056 at Fort Worth.

* * *

Whatever the cause for the higher scores, one must certainly assume that it is "legal." The American Bowling Congress tournament, of all things, must be living up to American Bowling Congress standards.

More than a few people suspect that the adoption of automatic pinspotters has something to do with the bigger scores. The automatics have had a reputation, whether deserved or not, for causing lower totals. Some say that in order to kill this idea, the company that has charge of the installation and maintenance of the pinspotters and all other equipment at this A.B.C. did everything possible to aid the scoring.

That would be a perfectly normal thing to do, but if so, one must wonder what was done at Fort Worth that was not done at the other tournaments.

* * *

Lighter Pins Used Early in Tournament.

THE weight of the pins at Fort Worth is apparently the same as in other years. We learned reliably that the weight during the first few weeks was three pounds, two ounces, and since then the sets have been in the 3-4 to 3-6 range. The 3-2 is considered the best weight in the high-scoring houses in St. Louis, and some bowlers may be surprised that such light wood was used at the A.B.C.

Bowlers who compete at the A.B.C. during the early weeks are at a disadvantage because they have to shoot on brand-new alleys, however, and it apparently is common practice to try to equalize this situation by letting them use pins that will fly around a little easier.

This is the first year that laminated pins have been used at the A.B.C. A laminated pin is one made of numerous strips of wood bonded together, rather than a solid block of wood. It is simple to obtain any desired weight with the laminated type, but there has been some prejudice against them because they were believed to reduce scores. This is another theory that is taking a good kicking at Fort Worth.

Anyone who wishes to disregard what is supposed to have been shown at Fort Worth has a reasonable case. Some say that conditions in an A.B.C. meet are so far different from those in a normal bowling establishment that no comparison is possible.

For instance, pins are replaced after surviving only 51 lines. When one six-man team has shot against a new set of pins for the five-man event, singles and doubles (a total of 51), a crew of 10 mechanics swings into action on the 32 lanes, changing the pins.

Extra care is taken of the alleys, with the top expert of a multi-million-dollar corporation available to work on them after each session.

Nevertheless, the scores being turned in at Fort Worth are impressive. The weather is not the cold, crisp type that is supposed to induce greater pin action—and there goes another theory. Bowlers get one shadow ball on each alley before the team event, and from then on every ball thrown goes into the records.

* * *

When the "St. Louis in '59" team, composed of press, radio and TV people, took the lanes at 8:15 one morning last week, bowler Joe Garagiola looked up at the three lone spectators sitting amid the thousands of empty seats and said, "This reminds me of playing at Forbes Field."

Illinois Track Team Beats Ohio Wesleyan

DELAWARE, O., April 19 (UP)—Illinois won all but the 440-yard run to defeat Ohio Wesleyan, 109½ to 48½, in a dual track meet which was the visitors' warmup for Saturday's Ohio Relays at Columbus.

Illinois's Al Urbanakass set a field record in the high jump with a 6-ft., 5½-inch leap. Ohio Wesleyan's Robert Davis set a net time of 49.3 seconds in the 400 to give the Bishops their only win.

In the two-mile run, Ole Jonnson of Illinois, beat Ohio Wesleyan's Bill Gutnecht by two inches in the hard-fought last-lap battle.

N.B.A. Dreams of Coast-to-Coast Loop as Meetings End

TV Given Credit by Podoloff

By Robert Morrison

Everything seemed rosy as the National Basketball Association concluded its draft and business meeting here. The players, through their representatives, were satisfied, the owners were gay, and the league president envisioned great growth.

Ed Macauley, Hawk veteran, acting as spokesman for player representatives, hailed new league agreements as a culmination of 11 years of many players' dreams.

Specifically, a player with a grievance or dispute now may appeal from a league president's decision to an arbitration board of three members of the league governors, who are chosen by the player himself. "We think this extremely fair," Macauley said.

Maurice Podoloff, president of the league, made it plain that the N.B.A. in this instance does not want to rock the boat which shows signs of carrying professional basketball to all corners of America as the people's winter game.

Even the coaches appeared happy at the moment. Johnny Kundla of the Minneapolis Lakers talked with Webster Groves's Jim Krebs, the Southern Methodist All-America, and got the impression that the Laker draft choice would not be too tough to sign.

Charley Eckman, coach of the Pistons now of Detroit, formerly Fort Wayne, put the rosy feeling in a few words, with a reference to Wednesday's draft of college players.

'No Deals Now, But—'

"There probably won't be many player deals right now," he said. "Everybody thinks they have what they need. Just wait until three days after fall training starts. That's when things will happen."

The players' presentation of their desires required a day-long session yesterday at Hotel Chase but the outcome was something less than sensational. The players could hardly have had too many critical demands to make of the owners because most player representatives were absent, including Bob Cousy, whose attempt to fly here brought him here too late.

Accords reached by the players, who had the help of Boston attorney C. Keefe Hurley but who have not affiliated with any union group, Macauley said, included the following points:

—No fines during games are to be imposed on players unless a technical foul also imposed. Macauley said this does away with the "whispering" fine, which may be restored by the league if to much bickering returns to this situation.

—The playoff pool ($50,000) will be increased. How much will be determined after a study that includes this year's successful final series between Boston and St. Louis.

—Regular players won't have to report to training camp until four weeks prior to the club's first regular season game. The schedule, incidentally, will open next fall on Oct. 22, and close March 12.

—Players won't be required to play exhibition games three days before the season opener, or the day before a regular season game. Exhibitions during the regular season will not exceed three in number.

Other league actions included:

A club may carry a returned service man player for 60 days, instead of 30, in excess of the roster limit, which will be 10 players after Dec. 15 (previously Dec. 1).

Method of selection of players for the All-Star game, to be played in St. Louis next Jan. 21, is changed so that the four coaches in each division will select half of each division squad of 10 men. The other half is selected by vote of press representatives, as before.

Fewer Tie-Breakers.

If a tie results in either division at the end of the regular season—as happened this year with St. Louis, Minneapolis and Fort Wayne—the playoff position will be determined by the season series won-and-lost record of the teams involved. If there is a tie in the series record, a playoff game will be held as before.

League president Podoloff said he believed league expansion was possible in about three years and credited television's national network of some 175 outlets with spreading the gospel of pro basketball.

"Cleveland, Pittsburgh and Chicago are yawning, and I don't mean with boredom," he said, with reference to possible new franchise spots. He said he didn't believe the limit would be reached until pro basketball is operating from coast to coast.

Cincinnati and Detroit will add to the big-city aspect of pro basketball next year. Detroit was given the state of Michigan as a draft territory (usually it's only a 50-mile radius) to help the Pistons consolidate their position in a town where hockey and football ride high.

Illinois Wins, 21-6.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 19 (UP)—Illinois stunned Memphis State with a nine-run outburst in the third inning yesterday and coasted to an easy 21-6 victory behind the relief pitching of Ron Richards. Bobby Klaus, brother of the Boston Red Sox's Billy Klaus, hit a three-run homer in the third inning to pace the uprising. Klaus scored three runs and drove in three more in leading the Illini to their second win over Memphis State.

Fast Steppers on Sloppy Maplewood Track

—By a Post-Dispatch Photographer.

In spite of adverse conditions which included a track soaked by a thundershower, athletes in the annual Maplewood relays turned in some pretty good times. One of the trials in the Class A 100-yard dash shown here, resulted in a victory for Southwest's DENNIS CROWELL, second from left, in 10.3 seconds. Others from left are JOHN MARS, John Burroughs; BRUCE CLARK, McKinley, and ROGER TRASK, Maplewood. Finger pointers at right are finish judges and timers.

Soldan Runners Ignore Rain To Set 2 Maplewood Marks

By Harold Tuthill

Neither rain nor snow keeps the Maplewood relays from going their appointed rounds year after year. For yesterday's trials there was a terrific thunderstorm which drenched the track, then it became so dark near the close that the floodlights on the football field had to be turned on so the boys running the relays could see their partners well enough to pass the baton.

"Seems like everything happens to us," meet manager Fred Moseley said glumly as he tried to keep his records dry. "It was so nice at 3 o'clock when we finished dressing up the track. Now look."

And Moseley pointed at the sloppy track the athletes were running on. The marvel was that any records were broken, but two in Class A fell as representatives of some 29 schools qualiifed for tomorrow's finals.

Soldan, looking like the team to beat in A, figured in both new marks. W. O. Sanders's Tigers were clocked in 45.7 seconds in the 440-yard relay, lowering the record of 46.2 set last year by Ladue's quartet of John Camie, John Smith, Mike Bottom and Denny Griffin.

The winning Soldan team—Tyler Jackson, Don Thompson, Terry Turner and Phil Toledo—was anchored by Toledo who captured the 100-yard dash in 10.3 seconds, a record. The former mark, 10.6 seconds, was recorded last year by Julian Tate, also of Soldan, who recently withdrew from the West End school. Tate last month won the 60-yard dash in the state indoor meet at Columbia.

Principia Academy, runner-up to Ladue in last Saturday's Clayton invitational meet, should battle it out with Granite City for the Class AA title in tomorrow's finals.

Principia's Panthers showed the way in the half-mile relay and Granite City, fresh from its Southwestern Conference relays championship, had the best time in the mile relay.

University City showed the way in the 440-yard relay in a program abbreviated by the downpour.

Acting as a placing judge was Gerry Wilkes, now at Notre Dame, who set a shot put record of 55-10 in the 1956 Maplewood meet.

Trials in hurdle races and the shot put will be held tomorrow morning starting at 9:30. Finals in all events will take place in the afternoon, beginning at 1:30.

Bernie Wefers Dies; Once Held Sprint Record

NEW YORK, April 19 (UP)—Bernard J. (Bernie) Wefers, world record holding sprinter before the turn of the century and later coach of numerous National A.A.U. champion track and field teams for the New York Athletic Club, died here yesterday at the age of 84.

Wefers, who remained coach emeritus of the New York A.C., had been ill for more than a year.

As a sprinter for the same club in 1895, 1896, and 1897 Wefers won many national championships, equaled the world record of 9.8 seconds for the 100-yard dash, and set a world record of 21.4 seconds for the 220 yard dash.

Wefers once was clocked by three timers in 9.4 seconds for the 100, but officials refused to accept the time as a record on the grounds that "no man can run that fast." The present world record is 9.3 seconds, and Wefer's time of 21.4 for the 220 has been lowered only 1.4 seconds in the last 60 years.

Wefers, who lost only one scratch race in his career, was born in Lawrence, Kans., Feb. 19, 1873.

Omaha Gets Diering.

MONTREAL, April 19 (UP) — Veteran outfielder Chuck Diering, who saw major league service with the St. Louis Cards, New York Giants and Baltimore Orioles, has been sold by the Montreal Royals of the International League to Omaha of the American Association.

No Game for Kutis Sunday

National Open Cup champions Kutis soccer team will turn to practice sessions this weekend, unable to book a match with Chicago Schwaben club. Manager Nick Jost said today that he could not make suitable arrangements for a park for the Amateur Cup, western final. It is not clear now just when the match will be played.

The National Junior championship tournament has also reached the western final round. Local Kriegshausers and Chicago's Fichte Rams will meet at an early date, the victor to advance to the national final round.

All Kutis training plans now are pointed toward the May 8 match with Kaiserslautern of Germany, to be at Public Schools Stadium. Kaiserslautern is the champion of Germany and Kutis is the Open Cup champion of the United States.

Player Sold for $182,000.

LEEDS, England, April 19 (UP)—Britain's top soccer star, Welsh international center forward John Charles, today agreed to transfer from his club, Leeds United, to Juventus of Turin, Italy.

The announcement was made by the chairman of the Leeds club, Sam Bolton, who did not disclose the amount of the transfer fee involved, but it is believed to be in the region of 55,000 sterling ($154,000) plus a 10,000 sterling ($28,000) "signing on" fee for Charles, a total of $182,000.

These figures would constitute a new all-time record for the transfer of a British player.

College Tryouts Cause Ineligibility of Six Indiana Prep Stars

INDIANAPOLIS, April 19 (UP)—Six Indiana high school basketball stars have been declared ineligible for spring sports because they took illegal college tryouts.

Ruled ineligible by their schools were Ted Luckenbill, Kenny Hudkins and Max Edy, all of Elkhart; Larry Lakins, Nappanee; Jim Rody, Peru, and Ronnie Horn, Mississippi.

They were declared ineligible for accepting paid trips to the campuses of Houston University and Western Michigan College in violation of high school rules.

L. V. Phillips, Indiana High School Athletic Association commissioner, said he advised N.C.A.A. secretary Walter Byers of the violations.

Under the revised N.C.A.A. code, colleges may pay a boy's expenses for a round-trip, Byers said. But they are not permitted to hold workouts on the campus.

Mims Favored Over Beecham On TV Tonight

MIAMI BEACH, April 19 (INS) — Holly Mims, rugged Washington, (D. C.), middleweight, was favored to stop Miami's Jimmy Beecham, welterweight, tonight in a nationally-televised bout at the Miami Beach Auditorium. (On KSD-TV, Channel 5, at 9 o'clock.)

Beecham, who has lost only three of his 28 fights, dropped a close decision to Mims in the same arena last Nov. 13.

The more experienced easterner has had 62 professional bouts, winning 42, losing 15 and breaking even three times.

Beecham expects to weigh in around 150 pounds. The local boy said he was "too heavy" at 160 in his last go with Mims.

The Washington fighter hasn't stepped through the ropes since his last battle with Beecham. Mims expects to weigh about 157.

Women's Pin Tourney.

DAYTON, O., April 19 (AP) —McCook's No. 96 of Dayton today is in third place in division No. 2 of the team event (650-750 averages) in the Women's International Bowling Congress tournament here. The team rolled 2284 last night, Geneva Recreation, also of Dayton, continues to lead the division with 2322, followed by Happy-Go-Lucky, Gary, Ind., 2299; McCook's 96 and Ray Kline, Dayton, and Harris, Rochester, N.Y., in a tie for fourth place with 2282 each.

McCook's No. 77 rolled a 2076 to take over fifth place in division No. 3 of the teams event (650 and under averages).

Giles Won't Act on 'Spitter' Charge Without Proof

Angry Tebbetts Accuses Burdette of 'Cheating'

MILWAUKEE, April 19 (AP)—Here we go again. Lew Burdette says he doesn't throw a spitter. Birdie Tebbetts insists he does—"a cheating spitballer," says the Cincinnati manager. But Warren Giles says "you have to prove it to me."

Whatever Burdette, Milwaukee's shutout ace, does when he spins his stuff for the Braves, old Satch Paige had a term for it—"out-psychologizin' the hitter."

That's what Burdette had in mind when he said "It's the best pitch I've got—and I don't throw it," in reply to Tebbetts' renewed cry after the Redlegs lost to the big righthander 1-0 yesterday. It was the eighth successive time Burdette, who led the National League with six shutouts midst similar "spitter" charges last season, has whipped Cincinnati and Tebbets is "pretty tired of him getting away with murder."

Birdie, who insists Burdette "went to his mouth before every pitch," chirped so loud his boss, General Manager Gabe Paul, decided to lodge an official protest today and ask Giles, the league president, for a clarification of rule 8:02, which states a pitcher can not "apply a foreign substance of any kind to the ball" under penalty of a 10-day suspension.

Where's the Evidence?

"Until someone — the umpires or someone—presents evidence that Burdette is using the spitter, I'll do nothing about it," said Giles, adding that "a lot of pitchers make a hitter think they're throwing a spitter, but there's nothing illegal about it."

Legal or not, Burdette's victory, fashioned on Hank Aaron's first home run of the year in the sixth inning off loser Hal Jeffcoat, handed the winless Redlegs a second defeat and left the Braves and Brooklyn Dodgers the only unbeaten clubs in the league.

The Dodgers, with Sal Maglie throwing a four-hitter, knocked off Pittsburgh 6-1. The New York Giants kept Philadelphia winless 6-2.

In the American, the winless Detroit Tigers lost their third in a row, this time to Cleveland 8-3 in 11 innings. The New York Yankees again had to rally in the ninth, beating Boston 3-2. Chicago's White Sox handed Kansas City its first defeat, 6-2, behind Jack Harshman's four-hitter. And Washington finally became a winner with a 6-4 job on Baltimore.

Maglie Over Arroyo.

Maglie, who will be 40 a week from today, struck out five, walked three, gaining a 23-5 lifetime record against the Pirates in his 200th major league start. The Lone Pirate run was unearned. Duke Snider, the N.L.'s defending home run king, smacked his first of the year and Gil Hodges hit his second for the Brooks, who cracked Southpaw Luis Arroyo and three reliefers for 14 hits.

Ruben Gomez, backed up by Hank Sauer's 250th home run, and a three-run homer by Gail Harris, beat the Phils and Curt Simmons with an eight-hitter.

Rookie Roger Maris made his first major league home run the major's first grand slammer of the season, capping a five-run eleventh for the Tribe. Bobby Avila's sacrifice fly scored the run that broke a 3-all tie. Ray Narleski won it with Al Aber the loser, both in relief.

Pete Ramos gave up only three hits in six and one-third innings to win for the Senators. The Nats pushed across three sixth-inning runs on RBI singles by Pete Runnels and Eddie Yost to beat Ray Moore, who walked 10.

The Yankees needed a pop-fly RBI triple by Gil McDougald and Elston Howard's single for two ninth-inning runs in edging the Red Sox and Frank Sullivan, who retired 19 in a row at one point. Bob Grim won in relief.

Harshman rode in on back-to-back homers by Minnie Minoso and Sherm Lollar, good for three seventh-inning runs and a solo shot of his own in the eighth. Loser Alex Kellner and Joe DeMaestri homered for the Athletics.

Billikens Rout Drake for 3rd Straight Time

DES MOINES, Ia., April 19 (AP) — St. Louis University wrapped up a three-game Missouri Valley Conference baseball series with Drake yesterday, winning 8-2.

The Bulldogs held 1-0 and 2-1 leads by virtue of first- and fourth-inning runs before a home run by Chuck Barbaglia put St. Louis in front to stay in the fifth.

Three more runs in the sixth, scored on two hits, three walks and an error, put the Billikens far out of reach.

Frank Anderson, Drake right-hander, who worked nine innings in Wednesday's 2-1 series opener defeat, was the victim of most of the damage after holding his own against the Billis for five innings.

St. Louis righthander, Charley Waldo, went the distance and scattered seven hits, while yielding two unearned tallies.

Barbaglia had a triple and a homer to pace the eight-hit St. Louis attack, which included another triple by John McCartney.

Bradley Routs Detroit.

DETROIT, April 19 (UP)—The Bradley University baseball team took a doubleheader from the University of Detroit, 10-2 and 10-3. In the second game, the Titans had only one pitcher, John O'Donnell, who had to take a pasting the entire seven innings. Winning pitchers for Bradley were John Burnham and Dick Novicki.

New Coaches At Duchesne And Clayton

Two varsity coaching changes were made in St. Louis area high schools today, with Glenn Murphy of DeAndreis High taking the head basketball and baseball positions at Duchesne, in St. Charles, Mo., and Bob Murrey of Columbia's Hickman High moving in as head basketball coach at Clayton.

Murphy replaces Don Anielak, who announced he will resign at the end of the current school year in order to take another coaching position.

Wally Geisz has been head basketball coach at Clayton. He will move from Wydown Junior High, where he has been teaching, to the mathematics department of Clayton Senior High. Geisz will continue as a member of the Clayton coaching staff.

A graduate of McBride High and Spring Hill College, in Mobile, Ala., Murphy coached teams while in the Army before attending college. He was on the varsity basketball and baseball teams for four years at Spring Hill, being named to the Gulf State Conference all-star team three times.

Murphy is 29 years old, married and the father of two sons.

Anielak was involved in a controversy last January concerning a student who transferred to Duchesne in mid-semester and played basketball without being properly certified. Duchesne was suspended by the state high school athletic association for the remainder of the basketball season.

Murrey has been coaching at Hickman for three years. He is a former University of Missouri player, who coached at Troy before going to the Columbia school. He has a master's degree from the university.

Moore Told to Fight or Lose Championship

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., April 19 (UP) — Lightheavyweight Champion Archie Moore feinted with his left last night and National Boxing Association President Floyd Stevens threw a haymaker right back, saying Moore must fight Tony Anthony or lose his title.

"Moore will fight for the title on the day he's signed to fight for it or we'll take the title away from him, that's all," Stevens said.

Moore, who is as handy or handier with words than he is with his aging arms, said in Essen, Germany, that he is demanding a $100,000 guarantee to meet Anthony. He added that he hasn't signed to fight the Harlemite.

But a contract was exhibited to newsmen in Detroit, March 25, which Moore—on hand—had purportedly signed to meet the winner of the Anthony-Chuck Spieser fight June 7 at Detroit Olympia.

The pact is on file with the Michigan Commission and witnesses to it were Bill Matney, commission secretary, board member Abe Kotzen, promoter Nick Londes and Moore and his manager, Charley Johnston.

The NBA already has given Moore an extension. He was supposed to defend his title in March and the extension was to give him time to pare his 210 pounds down to the 175 limit.

"We've been very patient with him," Stevens said. "As far as we're concerned he signed a binding contract."

"I don't want to be rude, just diplomatic," Moore said in Essen. "I will stand my ground and bargain for what I think is fair."

Saratoga Tournament.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Guenzler lead the husband-wife bowling tournament at Saratoga Lanes with 1238. Mr. and Mrs. John Johns are second with 1223 and Mr. and Mrs. Al Tyler third with 1222. The tourney will end this weekend.

Football Browns Send Six to the Packers for Garrett and Zatkoff

CLEVELAND, April 19 (UP)—Coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns today tagged Quarterback Bobby Garrett the key man in the eight-player deal between Cleveland and the Green Bay Packers yesterday.

The Browns gave up Quarterback Vito (Babe) Parilli and five others to obtain Garrett and linebacker Roger Zatkoff from the Packers. The other Cleveland players were defensive halfbacks John Petitbon and Billy Kinard, offensive guard John Macerelli, defensive end Carlton Massey and linebacker Sam Palumbo.

Brown indicated that he was counting heavily on Garrett to solve the Cleveland quarterback problem that has existed since the retirement of Otto Graham after the 1955 season and was a major factor in the Browns' loss of their Eastern Division N.F.L. crown.

Brown said, "Garrett is the key figure in the deal for us, due to our wide-open quarterback post. We always did wonder what we could do with Garrett and now we have the chance to find out."

The deal reversed a 1954 swap in which Brown sent Garrett, a former Stanford passing star to the Packers for Parilli. Garrett served as understudy to Tobin Rote during the 1954 campaign before entering the Air Force. He will be discharged before the 1957 training period begins.

The trade was made possible when Rote, one of the league's best quarterbacks, shelved retirement plans and signed for his eighth season with the Packers. What's more, Rote is backed up on the Packer squad by Qaurterbacks Bart Starr and Paul Hornung, the Notre Dame whiz, who was the No. 1 choice in last year's player draft.

X-Ray Treatments For Ted Kluszewski

MILWAUKEE, April 19 (UP)—Slugger Ted Kluszewski undergoes a second deep X-ray treatment today that may return him to the Cincinnati Redlegs' lineup over the weekend.

The treatment is designed to dissolve a calcium deposit about the size of a pea in Kluszewski's left hip. The deposit has caused the big firstbaseman severe pain since early last season. He appeared as a pinch-hitter in yesterday's 1-0 loss to the Milwaukee Braves and hit into a double play.

Drs. Herbert Boehner and George Ballou, the Redlegs' physicians, prescribed the X-ray treatments after Ted experienced severe pains on opening day. The doctors said the treatments will be given on an every-other-day basis up to six with a delay of 60 days if the first half dozen treatments do not clear up the ailment.

From Denver to Montreal.

MONTREAL, April 19 (UP)—The Montreal Alouettes have signed two former Denver U. linemen, tackle Ed Stuart and Larry Ross, bringing to 10 the number of new United States players the big four football club has under contract for 1957.

Ross was drafted by the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League last year, but failed to stick with them. Denver Coach Bob Blackman called Stuart one of the finest linemen he has ever coached.

Amateur Notes.

The Lloyds, Khoury midget baseball team, will hold tryouts tomorrow at 1 p.m. at O'Fallon Park. Catchers are especially needed. Call Larry Faulkner, CHestnut 1-6947.

Webster Wins; Ferguson and Wellston Tie

Webster Groves finally broke into the Suburban League victory column, beating St. Charles, 6-3, yesterday on the Pirate diamond. Meanwhile, Ferguson and Wellston battled to a nine-inning 1-1 tie despite the rain. As a result, that Suburban game will have to be played over at a later date.

Jim Card, Webster sophomore, steadied after a rough start which saw St. Charles take a 3-0 lead. Froebel Gaines's Statesmen went ahead with a five-run splurge in the third inning.

A hit batsman, three singles and a walk tied the score and put runners on first and third. With two gone, Rusty Williams doubled home two more runs.

Webster added its final run in the seevnth when Williams doubled home two more runs.

Webster added its final run in the seventh when Williams singled home Jim Hanlon.

Ferguson got nine hits off Wellston hurlers Bob Ollerman and Jerry Cebe, but left 3 men on base.

Wellston gained a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Jim Radtke reached first on an error, went to second on a flubbed pick-off attempt, was sacrificed to third and scored on Ferguson's third error of the inning.

Ferguson tied it in the sixth on a single by Dave Spadoni and a double by Bob Tippett.

Ray Elliott, who allowed Wellston only two singles, has now yielded only one earned run in 27 innings this season. He was credited with two Ferguson victories prior to yesterday's tie.

Four other Suburban League games were postponed because of rain.

them to come and compose their differences with him.

All this, however is a great drain on his energies, and he is having to curb his ambitions and his vast talents for political tactics in order to avoid another collapse.

Little Done in Congress.

Meanwhile, four months of the current session have pasesd, and only two major pieces of legislation have gone through the Senate: The Eisenhower doctrine for the Middle East and the excise-corporate tax extension.

Thus, when the atmosphere and progress of foreign policy debate are discussed, the human and political problems on the Hill, as well as the leadership of the Executive, have to be considered.

President Truman and Secretaries of State George Marshall and Dean Acheson had Senator Vandenberg to turn to for counsel and leadership in the Senate. President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles have not been so fortunate.

They have reached the end of the postwar phase of policy. They are confronted by a period of great transition in the Allied world, the Communist world, and the world between. They know that major changes are ahead which require the greatest confidence between the Executive and the Legislative branches, but the gap on Capitol Hill is both wide and deep. And the prospect is that both the President and the Senate Majority Leader will have to be away from here more, rather than less.

CONTEMPT ACTION DROPPED IN SCHOOL DOOR INQUIRY

The St. Clair county grand jury was in recess today after dismissing a petition for a contempt citation against Zeno B. Middleton, East St. Louis attorney, who was questioned in the investigation of changes in specifications for doors in a proposed new East St. Louis high school.

When Middleton appeared last Tuesday before the jury to answer questions concerning authorship of two anonymous letters, he invoked the Fifth Amendment. The letters charged there were payoffs as a result of changing from wooden to steel doors and back to wooden doors again for the school. Middleton answered two specific questions yesterday and the petition for a citation was dismissed.

The grand jury will be in recess until next Thursday. State's Attorney John Hoban said it probably would be sometime in May before the jurors will be able to question more witnesses in the high school door inquiry. The substituting of steel for wooden doors in the new high school added about $147,000 to the cost. Hoban said suppliers of doors told the jury there is very little difference in cost between wooden and steel doors.

JAMES B. MILLER ESTATE INVENTORIED AT $379,846

The estate of James B. Miller, St. Louis industrialist who gave nearly $1,000,000 to St. Louis University during his lifetime, was valued at $379,846 in an inventory filed yesterday in probate court. Miller, who lived at 1845 South Spring avenue, died March 13 at the age of 79.

Principal assets in his estate were listed as stocks valued at $292,382; bonds, $33,822; cash, $28,635, and real estate, $20,000. Under terms of his will, filed earlier, he left $20,000 in trust for a granddaughter and the residue in trust for the benefit of his wife, Mrs. Ethel Dinkgrave Miller. On her death the estate passes to trust funds for the benefit of seven grandchildren.

Miller was founder and president of the old Mines Equipment Co. His gifts to St. Louis University included the James B. and Ethel D. Miller Pulmonary Laboratories and Miller Hall at Firmin Desloge Hospital. In 1949 he and Joseph Desloge received the annual St. Louis University Fleur de Lis award "in recognition of true merit and unselfish achievement."

CLOSING OF JEDBURG STATION BY MO. PAC. IS AUTHORIZED

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 19—Closing of the open agency station of the Missouri Pacific Railroad Co. at Jedburg, St. Louis county, effective April 30, was authorized today by the Missouri Public Service Commission.

The station is about 13 miles west of Valley Park, on the Missouri Pacific main line between St. Louis and Kansas City. The commission found public convenience did not require continued operation of the station.

CUTTING SPENDING CAN BE EXPENSIVE, SENATOR LEARNS

© New York Times News Service.

WASHINGTON, April 19—A Senator who did not use all the money allowed him for office expense told the Senate yesterday that he might be penalized for being frugal.

Senator John J. Williams (Rep.), Delaware, said that he had a credit of $1508.26 in his stationery account when the 1956 fiscal year ended last June 30. So he advised Robert A. Brenkworth, the Senate's financial clerk, to give the money back to the Treasury.

Williams explained that he did not want the money, that it was not needed and that even a driblet of $1508.26 might be welcomed at the Treasury.

But Senator Williams told the Senate, this could not be done under a new Treasury ruling unless he paid personal income taxes on the unspent funds. Then, apparently, he would be free to do whatever he pleased with the money. If the money were tied to other gifts, he said, he might be subjected to a gift tax in addition to the income levy.

Perhaps, Senator Williams suggested, he could order the unneeded $1508.26 in stationery and have it hauled to the city dump.

"The Government could get rid of the money, I would be subjected to no penalty and everybody but the taxpayers would be happy," he said.

WHITE VIRGINIAN HITS AT BIAS, WILL NOT ATTEND DINNER

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—A white Virginian has rejected Gov. Thomas B. Stanley's invitation to a dinner for distinguished Virginians with a condemnation of the the governor's stand on racial issues.

Lambert Davis, direcor of the University of North Carolina press at Chapel Hill, N. C., said in an open letter to Stanley: "You have succeeded in making the leadership of the Commonwealth both a stench and a laughing stock in the nation."

A copy of the letter was sent to the Washington Post and the Times Herald here.

Davis is among 1200 native Virginians listed in "Who's Who in America" and invited by Stanley to the State Chamber of Commerce dinner May 17. The dinner is part of the Jamestown festival.

Three Virginia-born negroes listed in the book also received invitations, but the Chamber said this was a mistake and the invitations had been withdrawn. A chamber spokesman said yesterday, however, that if any of the negroes showed up they would be treated courteously and seated.

POLICEMAN JOINS SEARCH FOR KILLER OF HIS SISTER

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP)—A Manhattan policeman has joined in the search for the assailant who fatally beat his 19-year-old sister and left her on a Brooklyn street.

The victim, Patricia Ruland, had been battered about the head and face with a blunt instrument. Found unconscious shortly after midnight Wednesday, she died about two hours later.

The girl had left her parents' Brooklyn home to go to a soda shop. An anonymous telephone call by a woman led police to Patricia, an employe of an insurance company.

Police believe she was beaten elsewhere and then pushed from a car. Authorities said she had not been raped.

BAD HOUSING FACTOR IN LEAD POISONING

Inadequate housing will continue to cause death and injury to children from lead poisoning unless better methods of enforcing standards are found, Dr. Park J. White, St. Louis pediatrician, wrote in the April issue of the magazine Today's Health.

Dr. White said the nationwide problem of lead poisoning in children, which typically occurs when children in slum areas eat plaster and paint, could be attributed to poverty and the fact that municipalities do not force owners to keep old houses in good repairs.

His article in the American Medical Association magazine said accidents, including poisoning, were the leading cause of death among children between 1 and 14 years old. Accidents involving burns and poisoning, it was emphasized, are most frequent in poor families.

Dr. White, director of pediatrics at Homer G. Phillips Hospital, said St. Louis had eliminated one cause of lead poisoning in 1948 by an ordinance regulating the handling of cast-off storage battery casings. Previously, he said, people burned such boxes as fuel, unaware that the fumes were poisonous.

Staffs of city-operated hospitals in St. Louis are alert for signs of lead poisoning because so many of their patients come from blighted areas, Dr. White said. The poison can be counteracted by giving EDTA, a deleading agent, if the medicine is given in time.

Dr. White said that in many old houses, 70 to 80 years old, the plaster and painted surfaces are likely to be impregnated with lead. Small children pick up crumbling bits and put it in their mouths, particularly if they are so-called "pica babies" who tend to eat anything and everything.

"One has but to go next door from one tumble-down, overcrowded, rat-infested house to another to see the same sordid picture and to hear the same story," he wrote.

"Not only is it amazing that our city hospitals have had to treat so few young children with lead poisoning, but it is reasonably certain that we shall have to treat more and more of them if intelligent, drastic and swift preventive measures are not taken, beginning at the lowest level."

Dr. White referred to recent improvement in the economic status of Negroes and pointed out that in St. Louis marked progress had been made in clearing out slums and building low-rent public housing projects.

He suggested that the St. Louis Division of Health be given more authority in connection with correcting health hazards in old buildings. Dr. J. Earl Smith, City Health Commissioner, and his staff are doing the best they can under present circumstances, he said.

D.A.R. INDORSES DEMAND FOR CURBS ON IMMIGRATION

© New York Times News Service.

WASHINGTON, April 19—The Daughters of the American Revolution yesterday solidly backed Richard Arens, director of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, in demanding that the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act be left intact.

The sixty-sixth Continental Congress, applauding wildly, rose in tribute to Arens, at the close of an address in which he charged subversion and Communism among refugees admitted to this country and denounced "liberal groups" seeking to lower immigration bars.

The Daughters voted a resolution indorsing Arens's speech.

FCC AUTHORIZES TESTS FOR PHONE SERVICE IN PLANES

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission yesterday took the first step toward providing radio telephone service for air travelers.

The commission authorized the Bell Telephone Companies of Michigan and Illinois to establish such a service on a limited and strictly "developmental" basis in the Detroit and Chicago areas.

The commission said the trials there would develop valuable data for FCC in acting on a petition by American Telephone & Telegraph Co. The firm is asking for a regular allocation of radio frequencies to be used for communication between airplane passengers and persons on the ground in any part of the country.

The phone company plans to make the service available to commercial airlines which desire it and also to private planes. The rates for a three-minute call will range between $1.50 and $5.25.

JOINED TWINS' SEPARATION TO BE TRIED IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, April 19 (AP)—Surgery will be performed soon at Children's Hospital in an effort to separate joined twins Terry and Larry Powell. Neurosurgeons said yesterday that several operations might be necessary to achieve the separation.

Doctors have said the twins will have only a slight chance of surviving surgery if they have common brain tissue, but Mr. and Mrs. Jack Powell, parents of the babies, have consented to the surgery.

Terry and Larry, born March 10, are joined by a skull fusion 3½ inches wide. Tests have shown they have major vein connections.

BILL ON HIGHWAY ACCESS SAID TO HAVE BEEN SHELVED

A bill that would force the State Highway Department to permit "reasonable" access to state highways running through municipalities is being allowed to die in committee at Jefferson City for lack of interest, its author, State Senator E. Gary Davidson (Rep.), of St. Louis county, said today.

He said he introduced it at the request of a friend who was concerned over possible lack of access to a highway in the Kansas City area with the result that fire, police and other emergency vehicles would have to go too far to get across it.

Anxiety over that possibility has subsided, however, and no hearing on the bill has been requested, Davidson said.

REPUBLICAN OFFERS NEW HOUSING BILL

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP) —A Republican-backed federal housing bill omitting veterans' home loan preferences and lowering down-payment requirements on higher priced homes was introduced yesterday by Representative Henry O. Talle of Iowa.

Talle, senior Republican on the House Banking Committee, drafted the measure as a substitute for a committee bill creating a special veterans' housing program within the Federal Housing Administration, authorizing use of military life insurance funds for veterans' home financing, and controlling discounts on G.I. mortgage loans.

The veterans provisions have come under fire of the House Veterans Committee, which contends it has sole jurisdiction over the veterans' housing program.

Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole said the Talle bill "removes the major objections" which the Administration has to the Banking Committee bill.

Talle's bill calls for "further liberalization" of FHA down-payment terms in the middle-cost bracket for $10,000 to $16,000 homes.

Both his bill and the committee bill permit FHA to insure loans up to 96 per cent of the first $10,000 value. But Talle's bill increases from 80 to 90 per cent the loan-to-value ratio on the next $6000.

Talle's bill also increases the amount of lending authority proposed for the Federal National Mortgage Association from the one billion dollars proposed by the committee to $1,500,000,000.

BRITAIN TO ADJUST RED TRADE POLICIES

© New York Times News Service

LONDON, April 19—Britain intends to adjust its present controls on trade with Communist China to conform with those applying to commerce with the Soviet Union, the government said yesterday.

Ian Harvey, under secretary in the foreign office, told the House of Commons the United States had been informed at the Bermuda conference that the British Government believed the two sets of controls should be reconciled.

It was clearly stated, Harvey said, that Britain considered the existence of two sets of controls, one for the Soviet Union and one for China, did not make sense.

At present many items, including industrial products, exported by Britain and other European nations to the Soviet Union are barred from the China trade by agreement among the Western powers.

Harvey, in the sharpest Parliamentary comment on the situation since the Macmillan government took office, said the United States had been told that the two controls should be brought "into line."

"It is, in fact, our intention to take that course," he said, "and to reach an agreement between us and the United States of America on the taking of it."

Harvey said that the United States had been asked for its views on the subject and that these were expected in the near future.

PAY HIKE FOR LEGISLATORS BEATEN BY 86,973 VOTES

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 19 — A proposed constitutional amendment to raise the salaries of Missouri legislators was defeated by 86,973 votes, with approval in only four counties and the city of St. Louis, the official canvass of the April 2 election showed today.

The vote was 192,856 for and 279,829 against. The total of 472,685 was greater than generally expected, with outstate voting unusually heavy.

The counties in which the proposal carried were Boone, Jackson, New Madrid and Pemiscot.

WESTMINSTER STUDENTS INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Oliver C. Waeltz, 1374 North Thirty-fifth street, East St. Louis, and Kenneth Eugene Bradley, Fulton, Mo., students at Westminster College in Fulton, were seriously injured today when they were thrown from an automobile in which they were riding, the Highway Patrol reported. The accident occurred on Highway 54 near Jefferson City.

Waeltz was driving the car which went out of control after it ran off the right shoulder of the highway and skidded back off the left shoulder of the road, the Highway Patrol reported. Waeltz suffered body and chest injuries.

AVALANCHE

Masses of snow are on the move in background as avalanche which took two lives starts to rumble down Berthoud pass in Colorado. Avalanche was started by Colorado Highway Department workers who fired three rounds from a 75mm. howitzer into snow which was considered a hazard to motorists.

ROCK 'N ROLL IN BLOOM

Lace trimmed bloomers from a more sedate age are on display as Susan Hampshire whirls through a bit of rock 'n roll action with Michael Spring-Rice at a London jazz club, the Star Chamber. The club, which also dates from a distant past, still is lighted by candles in ancient bronze chandeliers. Operated by the Marchioness of Donegal, it is open only once a week.

Building up force with terrifying speed, the avalanche sweeps down the mountainside. In its path was photographer John Hermann of Salt Lake City who was recording the scene for a Hollywood movie producer.

MOTHER-IN-LAW ON HONEYMOON

Newlyweds at the age of 77, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Linville are accompanied by the bride's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Hiers, 102, on arrival at Los Angeles following their marriage at Detroit. Linville, a retired salesman, sought out his childhood sweetheart following the death of his first wife three years ago and found her living with her mother, who was quoted as beginning to fear Rachel might turn out to be an old maid.

Praising British Food At a Paris Luncheon

By Art Buchwald

PARIS.

THE Queen's visit, the anniversary of the Entente Cordiale, and the pro-British spirit that is now part of the Paris scene has gone to some Britishers' heads. Just the other day at a luncheon sponsored by a group of British firms promoting British scotch, milk products and tourism, an English lady said to us: "Next to French food the best food in the world is English food."

ART BUCHWALD

Everyone at the table was a little startled, but because of the Queen being in Paris and everything, no one said anything.

"It's far superior to Italian, or Spanish or German cooking," she said, encouraged by the silence, and all the British flags hanging in the room, "and in some cases it's better than French food."

"Which case would you say?" a French gastronome asked, his face becoming visibly red under his Entente Cordiale.

"Well, for one thing," the lady said, "there is nothing in the world better than our Welsh lamb, and I don't know where you'll find better beef. And our vegetables are first class. Our food is so good, in fact, that we don't have to invent fancy sauces to disguise the taste of our dishes. I think you will find English cooking first rate."

★ ★ ★

"WHERE DOES ONE find this first-rate cooking?" another Frenchman asked.

"That's the trouble," the lady said. "It's very hard to find. People who visit England rarely find it in the hotels or the restaurants. It's the fault of lazy cooks. One must find good cooking in the English home."

Being an American, and not part of the Entente Cordiale, we asked why good English food was hard to find in public eating places. The lady, to her credit, was very frank. "The English will put up with mediocrity. They don't like to make a fuss. The restaurants know their clientele will swallow anything. It's a shame, because tourists get the wrong idea about English cooking. On the other hand, the educated people of England know good food and love it for its intrinsic goodness. I admit you have to be rather hungry for it, and it is on occasion on the stodgy side, but at least it's honest food and it goes down easily."

★ ★ ★

"WHY," SOMEONE ASKED politely, "doesn't English food travel? You rarely see an English restaurant outside of England."

"Because," the lady said, "English food is for English people. You have to have English home-grown ingredients or you can't have an English restaurant. On the other hand, French restaurants outside of France rarely make use of French food. They use French recipes, but the food is not French. That's the difference."

The French gastronome was so perturbed he drank his glass of wine in one slug.

★ ★ ★

A FRENCHMAN at the table said: "You people make very good custard, don't you?"

The lady replied: "It depends. I think people get the wrong idea of English custard because of the powdered custard that is so popular. Good home-made English custard is hard to beat."

All of us tried to remember a great custard we had had at one time or another in England, except for the French gastronome, who was looking rather seriously at a piece of Yorkshire pudding.

"I remember once," another Frenchman added, "a wonderful haggis I had in England."

"What is haggis?" the gastronome asked.

"Sheep's stomach," the English lady replied. "It's rather good, but it's not English, it's Scottish."

"The English do a good eel, don't they?" we added, trying to help the conversation along.

"First rate," the English lady replied. "We probably do better with eels than anyone else."

"And," a Frenchman said, "let's not forget your wonderful puddings."

"Good pud," the lady said, "can only be found in England."

"I don't like pudding," the gastronome said.

It was the first discordant note of the lunch and someone immediately proposed a toast to the Queen. It seemed the only right thing to do.

A Needless Worry

By Peter J. Steincrohn, M. D.

DEAR DR. STEINCROHN: I cannot lie on my left side without quickly having to shift to my right side or lie on my back or stomach. I have been told that it is all in my mind. Nevertheless, it is true that on my left side I feel my heart beating hard and it upsets me.

DR. PETER STEINCROHN

I become too conscious of what might happen if it skipped a few beats and decided not to start beating again. Silly or not, I always go to sleep on my right side. What I should like to know is this; is there any real danger in sleeping on the left side? Sincerely, Mr. E. O.

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: "Does it make any difference what side I sleep on, doctor?" is not an unusual question. Doctors hear it every day. Sometimes it is asked just out of curiosity. Most often, however, we are dealing with a patient who is a cardiophobe. Such are the sufferers from Imaginary Heart Trouble who ascribe every untoward sensation in their left chest as being due to heart disease.

When you lie on your left side it naturally brings the heart closer to the chest wall. This allows you to feel each cardiac contraction more easily. It is this "normal" perception of the heart beat that causes undue anxiety in many sensitive persons. But "hearing" your heart or "feeling" it does not indicate that you have an abnormal heart.

★ ★ ★

IN MY EXPERIENCE such cardiac awareness is more often found in anxious persons whose hearts are healthy; rather than in people with organic heart trouble. You ask them if they ever have discomfort while they are sitting or standing and the answer is "no." Sometimes arthritis, myositis, or an hiatus hernia will produce discomfort when you lie on your left side. However, if you have real heart disease the symptoms usually do not vary with body-position.

There is no danger in sleeping on your left side. Each one of us spends a good part of the night on the left side without being aware of it.

Nageswari Rajaratnam Decided to Help Others After Her Daughter Died

By Clarissa Start

IT was when Nageswari Rajaratnam's daughter died that she decided to devote her life to the children of other people. Her little girl was a normal, happy and healthy child when she went to school on a Friday. By Monday she was dead of acute nephritis. Partly as an outlet for her personal shock and partly from a conviction that she should do something for others, the grief stricken mother returned to her studies in child psychology.

This interest has brought Nageswari Rajaratnam from her native island of Ceylon to the University of Illinois where she will receive her Ph.D. degree in August. In this country, on a study grant from the American Association of University Women, she visited St. Louis last weekend to attend the A.A.U.W. conference held at Hotel Statler.

After August, "Nages," as friends and even casual acquaintances call her, may return to Ceylon immediately or may stay on for further research with Dr. Lee J. Cronbach, president of the American Psychological Association. But in either event, she will have a reunion here or at home with her husband and son, age 8, whom she has not seen for a year and a half.

"With all my intentions of concentrating on other people's children," Nages smiles, "I find I cannot stay away from my own too long."

One of three daughters of a government doctor, Nages came from a family that believed in education for women up to a point.

"My father thought girls should be sent to high school and then married off," she says. "I was so interested in my studies that he said he'd send me to college if I got a scholarship. Only one scholarship was offered for the entire island. I went to an English school run by Methodist missionaries; it was a small town school and I thought I didn't have a chance. The three months before I heard about the scholarship were miserable. Then I heard that I had received it."

★ ★ ★

SHE met her husband, an economics student, at college. He is a teacher who eventually will go into accounting work. After she had taken her degree in mathematics and English, and passed the Londan University examinations, Nages settled down to being a housewife and mother.

"My family was my main interest in life," she says. "I studied child psychology only to know how to deal with my own children. Because we have servants to do all our housework and there was little at home for me to do, I went back to teaching part time, but it was not my main interest."

—By a Post-Dispatch Photographer.

NAGESWARI RAJARATNAM, WHO IS STUDYING CHILD PSYCHOLOGY AT THE UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS. SHE ATTENDED THE RECENT CONFERENCE OF THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN IN ST. LOUIS.

When her daughter died, she decided it was a mistake for a woman who had the ability to do something for others to center her whole life about her children. She went back to college to get her diploma in education, worked so hard she was awarded a gold medal. While she was studying for her master's degree, she met Prof. F. R. Iredell of Pomona College, in California, who was in Ceylon on a Fullbright scholarship.

★ ★ ★

"HE was such a wonderful teacher that I wondered if there might be others as good in the United States," she says. "When our federation sent our circulars about international grants, I applied. In February I was told I'd been granted one and should be ready to leave in August."

What with winding up her teaching and her work on the many committees on which she was serving, Nages had little time to think of leaving her husband and son but admits she has missed them in her year and a half here. However, loneliness has been assuaged by the hospitality of people here. She stays with a professor's widow, Mrs. John Parry, at the university, and has been entertained by 11 or 12 branches of A.A.U.W.

"I'm only sorry Ceylon is so far away," she says. "You are halfway across the world and your loyalties are divided. And letters are so inadequate."

Nages has concluded that "people have a lot in common though they are brought up in different backgrounds. The basic human needs and aspirations are the same everywhere."

She found daily customs and diet here little different than at home, since Ceylon has been under European influence, Portuguese, Dutch and British for several centuries. She does miss the spiced curries of her native land occasionally.

★ ★ ★

PROBABLY what has impressed her most in this country, she says, is the work done by American women.

"Before I left Ceylon I heard the saying, 'If you're a man, be born in India. If you're a woman be born in the United States,'" she recalls. "It implied that women in the United States have an easy time, but I don't think they have an easy time at all.

"I think American women work very hard. They have labor-saving devices but there are many things they must do, day in and day out. I found it hard to get used to ironing my own clothes, for instance; I've always had someone do it for me. I marvel at how much the American housewife does in her own home and still has time for committees and so many other activities.

"I see the young marrieds around the campus, looking after homes and babies. They're far from the glamour girls the world paints them. They really get down to it."

Young girls on the campus impress her as being too tense and she is amused at how much they worry about finding a man and getting married.

"They're all such nice attractive girls they needn't worry," she says. "But if they haven't found a man by their sophomore year they worry about it."

The fast pace of American life impresses and at times distresses her.

"In Ceylon, people are more relaxed," she says. "I used to be very impatient that they were not helping themselves. Many of us want industrialization. We want to improve the standards of living which in many cases, are on a bare subsistence level. When I saw people content with so little, I thought they shouldn't be content.

"Now I wonder. Perhaps they would lose their contentment and happiness if they were always trying to improve their way of life. Can we have both? I don't have the answer to that yet."

She paused and laughed.

"In Ceylon, the Communists complain that they can't make the people discontented. They are too happy. Maybe it's not such a bad thing after all."

Relaxing Exercises

IF YOU are not as relaxed a person as you should be, it's wise indeed to train your hands and arms to move gracefully. For you, there's double benefit. As you learn the ways of grace, you also learn to relax.

Too conscious and deliberate attempts at grace with the hands and arms almost always look affected. True grace, whether in gesture or in purposeful action, must come naturally. Your hands and arms must be taught to relax and to get the feel of easy movement until smooth motion becomes a habit.

Here are four exercises which teach them, and you need only to run through them once to see how they help to induce general relaxation. They're wonderfully restful when you are tired.

★ ★ ★

DROP YOUR HANDS into your lap or to your sides after each exercise:

1. Sit erect in an armchair. Rest elbows on the chair arms and raise both forearms perpendicularly. Make the tightest fists you can, hold for a count of five, then fling the fingers outward, hard.

2. Raise your arms in front of you, palms down, thumbs pointing toward the chest and fingers extended. Stretch each finger to touch the thumb, one after another. Really stretch, so you feel it.

3. Play imaginary piano scales. Tap a table top with the hand held straight from the wrist to the middle knuckle. Raise the fingers high and rhythmically, and lower them with equal emphasis.

4. Extend one arm at a time forward at shoulder level and describe small semicircles with the hand as if scooping water from a brook. With each scoop move the hand farther toward the opposite shoulder until it touches it. Reverse direction until the arm reaches behind you.

FOUR EXERCISES.

Whether you want to gain, lose or remain the same—"Your Beauty Diet" will provide you with a pattern of safe, laboratory-tested menus that can be followed by the entire family according to each individual's needs. "Your Beauty Diet" is a way of eating, not starving. Write to Secrets of Charm, in care of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, and inclose 10 cents in coin, plus stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Let's Explore Your Mind

2. WHEN SOMEONE IS DEEPLY DEPRESSED, SHOULD YOU TRY TO CHEER HIM UP?
YES ☐ NO ☐
WE DON'T NEED PRAISE AND COMPLIMENTS IN OUR LIVES.
TRUE ____ FALSE ____
3. WHEN SHOULD A CHILD RECEIVE AN ALLOWANCE?
YOUR OPINION ____
4-19

Answer to Question 1.

FALSE. Without the warmth of an occasional pat on the back, we are apt to lose our enthusiasm. Praise, appreciation and gratitude are musts for our inner harmony. In the words of Billy Sunday, "Praise your wife—even if it frightens her at first!" Giving credit where credit is due—a smile, a firm man-to-man handshake—has very far-reaching effects. Try it!

Answer to Question 2.

No. The best thing to do with a depressed person is to let him alone and let him snap out of his depression himself. The next best thing to do is to see that, during this mood, he lives under conditions of complete peace and quiet.

Answer to Question 3.

The time varies from child to child and family to family. Whenever the day comes, a child must understand that he has to pay for certain things out of his allowance, stresses Dr. Harlan B. Miller. To decide on a reasonable amount, parents and child must sit down together, consider the family income and the child's needs, and agree on the manner of spending. Allowances should never be withheld and should be increased as the child grows older.

Comment on The Future Of Algeria

By Eleanor Roosevelt

NEW YORK.

THE fact that Tunisia and Morocco have achieved freedom of government and now are attempting to work out satisfactory political and economic ties with France and the West has made the question of Algeria's future all the more important.

France is facing armed resistance in Algeria and has been obliged to station a large force in the area.

★ ★ ★

QUITE NATURALLY, the French say they have been in Algeria 150 years, that they consider it an integral part of France, and that there are no separate people called Algerians—they are all French.

Large numbers of Algerians, on the other hand, do not feel they actually are Frenchmen, or that they ever have been given equal representation with the French in the control of their government.

★ ★ ★

THE WHOLE SITUATION is complicated by the fact that France's economy would be benefited greatly by an economic arrangement on the development of the new oil fields, which are said to be extensive.

I feel that if it were possible to make such an economic arrangement equitable to both Algeria and France and then a reasonable agreement for Algeria's ultimate independence with constantly increasing autonomy, France itself would be better off. At the same time, some form of federation of the three North African states could be planned, with a real tie-up with France and the West.

Fix It Yourself

By Hubbard Cobb

Leaks in Pipes and Tanks.

ACCORDING to the best possible sources, the right thing to do when a water pipe starts to leak is to replace that section of pipe.

This is a good thing to know but it isn't much help if the pipe begins to leak on a Sunday afternoon, when hardware and plumbing stores are not open and your plumber is off for a day of fishing. What you need are some temporary measures that will hold for a day or so.

One remedy for a leaky pipe is to turn off the water in the line and then stick a wad of chewed chewing gum over the hole. The chewing gum is then held secure by wrapping friction tape around the pipe. An even better temporary repair is to take a short length of garden hose, split it down lengthwise and slip it over the leaky section. The hose is held in place by automotive radiator clamps at each end, but if you don't have these, use wire and twist the wire tight with a pair of pliers.

Leaks that occur at joints can often be fixed by tightening the joint or by taking the joint apart and coating the external threads of the pipe with pipe dope or white lead.

Leaks in water tanks can often be fixed, if they are small, by driving a small softwood splinter into the leak. The water will expand the wood and make it fit tight enough to keep the water in the tank. Another remedy is to drill the hole larger and insert a self-tapping screw with a washer under the head. Even better is to drill out the hole and insert a special toggle bolt made for this purpose.

'Ooch' It May Be

Try Any Word

By Phyllis Battelle

NEW YORK, April 19 (INS).

ONE has to be very careful these days with whom one engages in "Scrabble," "Key Word," "Anagrams" and other word games with which people lately have been burgeoning and bludgeoning their brains.

PHYLLIS BATTELLE

In some zonules there is considerable cozenage to contend with. The games have been popular just long enough that many people are feeling their fatuoid, and if you accuse them of making up their own words, they imply that you are not able to see further than an old quahog.

Take your mother, for instance. She is ordinarily an honest woman, but at "Scrabble" she is an adversary of supernatural and limitless vocabulary. She fits in a word like "ooch" wherever she pleases (and she pleases across a "triple word score" box), with a look of benign confidence.

"What?" say her adversaries.

"'Ooch,'" she says confidently, "is a variation of the noun 'ouch,' which means an ornament."

★ ★ ★

YOU LOOK THIS UP in Webster's Collegiate Dictionary, fifth edition, and it is not there. She looks in the front of the dictionary and notes it was published in 1944.

"Well, after all . . ." she says, a little hurt. Then, at the insistence of your father who is in love with your mother and prejudiced, the word is allowed.

That's how people are getting by with things.

★ ★ ★

HAVING WASTED too many brain hours studying dictionaries when you could be out seeing a good movie—and having discovered and memorized such legitimate pointgetters as "zax," "quercine," "xyster" and "whiffet" (which is sort of what you feel like about now)—you begin to feel put upon.

So you contact the G. & C. Merriam Co., of Springfield, Mass., which has been putting out Webster's work since 1831 and should know about words like "ooch." What dictionary, you ask, should be the real authority?

The Merriam people, through Will Barbeau, their director of editorial service, inform you that there probably is not as much cheating going on at word games as appears to meet the skeptical eye. It seems that it would be quite difficult to put together any group of letters nowadays, in fact, without coming out with a legitimate word—either slang, derivation, archaic or a hyphenated some-such.

★ ★ ★

SEEMS OUR VOCABULARY is growing constantly to such an extent that the newest dictionaries contain 600,000 original words, plus variations. They are printed in small type over 3350 pages.

Add to that, the hundreds of thousands of word origins, synonyms, geographical and biological terms and medical mish-mash and almost anybody can get by with almost anything and claim it a word.

Speaking specifically of the word "ooch," Barbeau reveals that he could check the 77 men and women who are editors and specialists in various fields of vocabulary at Merriam, but obviously that would be a lot of bother for the girl in "variations on ornaments." And anyway, it would almost certainly be there and one would lose face.

Considering the circumstances, when playing a word game it is best to get yourself a competitor with poor imagination and a pocket book dictionary. From him, possibly, there's a chance of becoming a victrix (fifth edition, 1944.)

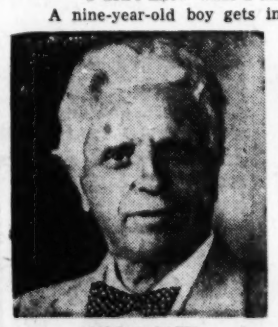
"WHAT will you get into next? Just look at you. What is the idea? That's the second shirt today. I don't know what I am going to do with you."

A nine-year-old boy gets into everything he can get into and it seems the messier it is the better. He will try out any tool he finds loose; indeed, any one he can lay hands on is his meat and drink. Nothing is safe from his prying eyes and itching hands. He makes trouble for his mother and father but he is learning.



ANGELO PATRI

He is learning about the world and its people and how things work. He must. That is life budding and bursting within him in the springtime of his life. He does not know about shirts, about the costs of tools, about the cost of anything. First, he must learn about the size, weight, temperature, smell, feel and look of things. He must use his senses to learn about the world. They are his first tools, the tools with which he must pry open life's secrets.

★ ★ ★

THIS LEARNING starts when the child starts. The baby uses his mouth to feel out his environment. He uses his skin to verify his mouth's findings. Then he discovers his hands, his eyes begin to inform him, his ears, his nose, all his senses work to inform the baby very soon after he is laid in his bassinet. From that time on he is a searcher.

Although this learning often annoys his elders it must be encouraged to its fullness for on the thoroughness of a child's search for information his background of culture is formed. The information he gathers is knitted into his intelligence and that acts as interpreter to each new experience.

MEANTIME, we have to put up with his torn and dirty shirts, his messy ways and his endless questions, knowing he is learning worth-while facts and fancies.

THERE is no truth to the rumor, insists Pyke Johnson, that anti-honk campaigns have forced C. S. Forester to discontinue his "Hornblower" books. He simply took a sabbatical for his "Age of Fighting Sail: The Story of the Naval War of 1812." Incidentally, the book tells how The Constitution escaped from a formidable British fleet on an absolutely calm sea. Because there was no wind, The Constitution had to resort to kedging, which is moving a ship by sending out an anchor in a small boat, dropping it overboard and then pulling the ship up to it. The British followed the same method, and for a while it was sort of kedge as kedge can.

Barbed Wire in Jerusalem on Easter

Divided City Makes It Difficult to Retrace Christ's Steps, but Services Still Are Held

Tension between Jewish Israel and Arab Jordan make it impossible for Christian pilgrims to follow Christ's footsteps from the Last Supper to the Crucifixion. But "holy fire" symbolizing the hopeful message of Christianity still leaps the barbed wire, giving promise that peace may yet come to this troubled land. Here is a report on divided Jerusalem at Easter, 1957, last in a series on famous sites of the Holy Land.

By Wilton Wynn

JERUSALEM, April 19 (AP).

ON the night of His crucifixion, Jesus and His apostles gathered in an upper room in Jerusalem for their last supper together. After the meal, Jesus walked outside the city to the lower slopes of the Mount of Olives and awaited His inevitable betrayal and arrest.

Today barbed wire, guns and a hundreds yards of no-man's-land prevent anyone from walking from that upper room to the Mount of Olives. The site of the last supper is on the Israeli side of Jerusalem, while the Mount of Olives is on the Arab side.

On either side of the no-man's-land dividing the holy city are armed sentries, ready to blaze away at the slightest provocation. Jewish Israel and Arab Jordan have been in a state of war since 1948, with only an uneasy armistice silencing the guns on either side.

This state of tension has made it difficult for pilgrims and travelers from the United States to visit the holy land, and the divided state of the city makes it hard for pilgrims to retrace the footsteps of Christ during the events of the first Easter.

Before the 1948 Arab-Israeli war, a pilgrimage from the Latin convent inside the old city went to the Cenacle, site of the last supper, every year on Maundy Thursday. Because of the division of the city, this pilgrimage is no longer possible.

★ ★ ★

EVENTS of the last supper still are commemorated, however, by Christian communities on the Arab side of the line. The Greek Orthodox hold a spectacular service every Wednesday before Easter in the courtyard of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre.

On a raised platform in the courtyard sit 12 men representing the apostles. The Orthodox patriarch — acting as Christ's earthly representative — washes the feet of each man, re-enacting Jesus' washing of His apostles' feet at the last supper.

When Jesus walked from the upper room to the Mount of Olives, He had to walk almost the length of the city of Jerusalem and out through the Golden Gate on the east. He then had to pass over the Kidron Valley to reach the Garden of Gethsemane on the lower slopes of the Mount of Olives.

Inside the Garden of Gethsemane today stand olive trees so old they must have formed part of the grove where Jesus prayed on the night of His betrayal. The "Church of All Nations" inside the garden covers an altar of natural rock. Tradition says this was the rock on which Jesus prayed "not My will but Thine be done."

On the evening of Maundy Thursday, Jesus' hour of agony is commemorated by an impressive service called "the hour of silence."

★ ★ ★

ON Good Friday, pilgrims from around the world join to take up the tragic story in a procession following the way of the cross — the path Jesus walked from the time of His trial before Pilate until He was placed in the tomb. This sorrowful walk begins just inside St. Stephens Gate and winds through the narrow, flagstoned streets of Old Jerusalem to the Church of the Holy Sepulchre.

The procession stops at each of 14 "stations of the cross," where a sermon is preached in the language of the group. Each station marks a dramatic moment in the way of the cross, including the places where Jesus fell under the weight of the cross. During this procession some of the pilgrims usually carry heavy crosses like that on which Jesus was crucified.

The procession ends inside the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, an aged structure covering the traditional site of Calvary and the tomb. The procession climbs a flight of stone stairs to the site of the Crucifixion. Here a glass case covers a bit of the rock of the original hill of the execution. A huge crack in the stone is said to have been caused by the earthquake that rocked the earth as Jesus breathed His last.

On the evening of Good Friday a solemn burial service is held in this church. A statue of Jesus is taken from a cross on Calvary and placed on the stone of unction, a marble slab near the entrance of the church where traditions say Jesus' body was anointed for burial. Weeping women fall prostate and kiss the stone as the body is lifted and taken inside a small chapel under the main dome of the church.

★ ★ ★

INSIDE this little chapel, with massive candlesticks on either side of the entrance, is the Holy Sepulchre, the goal of the Christian pilgrims since the Fourth Century. Little is left of the original sepulchre, because most of the rock has been chipped away over the centuries. A marble slab covers the area where Jesus' body is said to have lain.

After Jesus' body was placed in the grave and the rolling stone over the door sealed. His disciples must have suffered the depths of despair. And even after they saw the empty tomb, there were still doubts; some wondered if the body had been stolen.

This period of despair is commemorated in a unique service on the roof of the church by a group of Ethiopian monks. Called "the search for the body of Christ," this service involves a mournful march around the rotunda of the church, with tomtoms beating slowly under the Pascal moon. When the words are read from the Bible "He is not here, for He is risen," the group breaks into wild rejoicing.

The most spectacular Easter service is called "The Miracle of the Holy Fire," an age-old Easter ritual symbolizing the resurrection of Christ. Once actually considered a miracle, this ritual involes handing a flame from inside the Holy Sepulchre through a hole in the side. Waiting outside are thousands of prilgrims, most of them holding candles, tapers and lamps. The holy fire, symbolizing the risen Christ, is passed from candle to candle and like a wave of flame spreads over the thousands who pack the church.

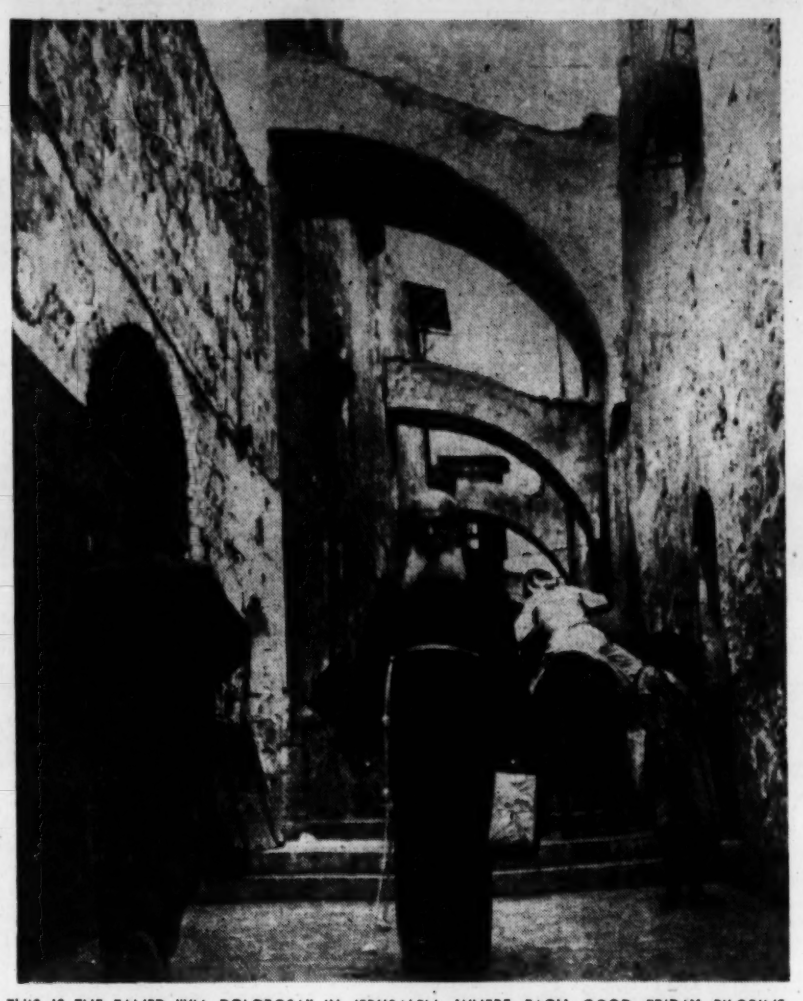
Many oriental Christians light little kerosene lamps with the holy fire and keep them burning throughout the coming year.

Runners take lighted candles from the holy fire and carry them to churches in other parts of Palestine. In centuries past, the fire was taken to churches as far away as Athens and Alexandria, symbolizing the spread of the gospel to the ends of the earth.

By special arrangement, runners take the flame across no-man's-land, to churches on the Israeli side of the line. When this symbol of the resurrection arrives on the Israeli side, the Easter cycle has been completed—from the upper room on the Israeli side to events on the Arab side and back.

The fact that even war cannot prevent the spread of the holy fire from one country to another perhaps has a deep significance to the simple people of the holy land today. Perhaps this means that there still is hope they may see the end of the conflict which has divided their land, that the day may yet come when their swords and spears will be beaten into plowshares and pruning-hooks and "when nation shall not rise up against nation, neither shall they know war any more."

THE END



THIS IS THE FAMED "VIA DOLOROSA" IN JERUSALEM, WHERE EACH GOOD FRIDAY PILGRIMS RETRACE CHRIST'S ROUTE TO CALVARY. THIS POINT IS JUST BEYOND THE SPOT WHERE TRADITION SAYS SIMON OF CYRENE TOOK THE CROSS FROM THE EXHAUSTED JESUS.

Meaning of Good Friday and Easter

By Fulton J. Sheen

EASTER can no more be separated from Good Friday than graduation day from college discipline and examinations, nor the tightening of the strings of a violin from the melody produced, nor drossless and purified gold from the cleansing fire. Christ the Victor over Death and Error and Sin is the same Christ Who was the Victim of the Death, Error and Evil.

Fulton J. Sheen

Christianity differs from all other religions because it begins with defeat, catastrophe and crisis. Sunshine religions make God your "partner" in a successful business or a happy marriage, but they cannot stand up in darkness, storm and defeat.

There is some mysterious and intrinsic relationship between the cross and the empty tomb. On Good Friday, evil did its worst; it unshielded its sharpest sword; it seemingly gained victory over Love and Righteousness. But in this world, evil has its hour, and the crucifixion Our Lord always called "My Hour"; but Goodness has its day. Evil was defeated when it came with its strongest arms and was accompanied in its mightiest army. Having gone down to defeat, evil can never be wholly victorious again, though it will have its hours of seeming victory, as it does now in the persecution behind the Bamboo and Iron Curtains.

★ ★ ★

THE SECOND POINT about Easter is that what happened to Christ as the Head of humanity must in a diminished way happen to every individual man if he is ever to attain that glory. He is the Pattern and we are the images; He is the original Die, and we are the coins stamped from the Divine. No one can ever expect to be without trials and crosses, for these are the very condition of victory and incorporation with Him. "For if we have been planted together in the likeness of His Death, we shall be also in the likeness of His Resurrection." It is not merely by verbally confessing His death that we purchase that identification with the Prototype which is the condition of happiness and glory; there must be veritable crucifixion or a putting to death not of our human nature which is good, but of our evil tendencies such as lust, avarice and the pride which blockade the progress of the spirit.

All the psychological and biological helps in the world cannot make us rise to a new nature and power anymore than a corpse can give life to itself. What is born of the flesh is still flesh. In a world where self-expression becomes identified with license, there is but a petty hearing given to a discipline of the lower passions and instincts; but the law is inexorable. The real inner peace of soul can be attained only by being planted in the likeness of His death and crucifixion. Then we become like soldiers sharing in the victory of the general and a family enjoying the prestige and the success of the father. What has happened to the Head is assured to the members of the body.

EASTER SUNDAY, therefore, is not a miracle of the past, but a promise also of the future. In its light, not decay but advance, not a pulling down but a reaching forward becomes the main characteristic of both man and history. Even these Hours of Trial and Decision through which the world is presently passing are seen in the light of the Resurrection as a kind of judgment for the evil of our ways; but they are also seen as a sharing in the dark hours of Good Friday in order that we may be given merit to see a resurgence and resurrection of those historical forces which make for the peace of the world.

The remedial process is certain though for those who have faith in Easter. History is not an ascending hill of progress as the false thinkers of the nineteenth century assured us; neither is it a certain catastrophe and winter and decay as Wells in his decline and Spengler warn us; it is rather a mixture of the two. There must first be the trial, the dark side, the purging out of the leaven of selfishness; then comes the peace.

Easter peace is not something that comes automatically; Peace is made; "Blessed are the Peacemakers." Peace is made through a Good Friday as the Prelude to an Easter Sunday. The crown of thorns is the condition of the crown of glory. The creativeness of man and history are cleansed and illumined, not quenched and destroyed by Calvary and the empty tomb. The tragedy of the world is that there are so many escapists who run from the condition of happiness; the joy of the world is that there are so many who see the glory through discipline.

Noises in the house waterpipes are often due to a slight movement on the part of the pipe and this can be fixed by insulating the pipe from the metal pipe hangers with a strip of felt weatherstripping.

Contract Bridge

By Sam Fry Jr.

EAST made a spectacular defensive play on today's deal. We would not report it solely for its gaudiness. Actually it was a sound, intelligently reasoned-out maneuver. The hand took place during the Vanderbilt Cup tournament held in New York City in February.

We disapprove of much of the North-South bidding, but not just because of the fact of their getting to a slam which could be, and was, beaten. After all there was unfortunate duplication in clubs; how could South really tell that his partner's opening heart bid was predicated on high cards in clubs rather than hearts? But we believe South's first response should have been in diamonds rather than spades. Why not try to portray one's distribution accurately? Also North's first rebid probably should have been two clubs. Then, later, South's four no-trump bid was pointless. What good does a count on aces do when one has a void suit? Actually had South just leapt to six diamonds over four spades, he would probably have stolen the slam. We doubt if West would have guessed to lead the heart king.

East doubled the Blackwood response of five hearts, which showed two aces, to indicate a possible lead against the impending slam bid to his partner. This might have warned South to settle for a five-diamond contract, but it didn't and the way the cards were he would have gotten away with six against less astute defense.

After the double of five hearts it was no great feat for West to open the heart king. Dummy played low and East thought hard, analyzing the bidding carefully. There were two missing low hearts. West couldn't have both or he'd have led a low heart from three to the King. If South has only one of them the hand can't be beaten unless West has a spade or trump trick, unlikely on the auction. But if South has two hearts, West's king lead is a singleton. So, to take care of that strong possibility, drastic measures were needed, what with the ace-king of clubs available for potential heart discards.

So East overtook his partner's heart king with the ace, returned the suit and West ruffed for the setting trick. Had he not done so the slam was cold. And it was most unlikely that the play would give the declarer an otherwise unmakable contract, even had South held the singleton heart instead.

Martha Carr's OPINION

REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

Today's column is devoted to teen-agers who are invited to submit their problems to Martha Carr.

Dear Martha:

I AM a 14-year-old girl who is one among thousands of teen-agers who want to be trusted. For instance, when I walk down a street I want people to say nice things about me—if anything is said. So do many other boys and girls. But because of one or two teen-agers who don't care what is said or thought about them, hundreds of us are under suspicion. Adults seem to forget how good we have been and are still trying to be against all odds. Some people just don't seem to realize how hard it is to be a teen-ager in these times. They criticize our music, dancing and, as they put it, our "crazy talk." We go to school nine months out of the year, but here is what we do the other three months. In our town we don't have a teen town, skating rink, bowling alley or place where we can dance. We have a country club but over half the teen-agers are from large families and can't afford to belong. We have a theater and drugstore but we can't afford that often. We stay at home in the evenings and try to amuse ourselves with radio or television. During the mornings and early afternoons, the girls help with housework or baby sit and the boys have odd jobs. If any grown-ups read this, remember you were once teen-agers. You probably went through the same thing and didn't have radios and television when there wasn't anything to do. All we want is a little faith and trust.

WISHFUL TEEN-AGER.

I'll agree that it's unfortunate that many people lump all teen-agers together and blame all of them for the faults of a few. That is no more right than to say all men are bad because some of them are in prison or that all women are malicious gossips because some of them are guilty. But because they have been classified as a distinct and separate group of human beings, teen-agers should always be on guard to protect each other from this kind of criticism. Remember that any time you are tempted to be thoughtless or discourteous, any time you might disturb others on the bus or in the movie, you are bringing criticism not only on yourself but on all other teen-agers as well. That's why it is hard to be a teen-ager these days. But don't let yourself be so sensitive about it that you think adults are being critical when they aren't. They want to have faith in you as much as you want that faith. They may forget how things were in their teens, but by and large, they like and respect you. You and your friends, then, must work to justify that faith and respect. The following letter will prove that all the adults aren't against you.

★ ★ ★

Dear Martha:

I HAVE HEARD of the wonderful job which the Clayton High School students are doing for the younger children of their community. On Easter Sunday they are having an Easter Egg hunt at Shaw Park for the Clayton children in the fourth grade and under. The hunt is sponsored by the Clayton teen club. Members of the club will do all the work. I am writing this letter in hopes it will change some of the people's minds about "bad teen-agers."

AN INTERESTED PARENT.

Dear Martha:

I AM 13 and am going with a boy 16. I like him a lot and so do my parents and I feel that I can trust him. But my mother refuses to let me double date in a car without one of the parents driving. She says she trusts me but doesn't trust other drivers. Is that the right attitude?

DIANNE.

I think she's right, Dianne. Some teen-age drivers are thoughtless and reckless and even though your own escort may be mature and trustworthy, your mother wouldn't always be sure that he was driving.

Write today for Martha Carr's leaflets for teen-agers, E for Etiquette, Sub-Deb and Masculine Popularity. Be sure to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The Question Box

By Josephine Lowman

Q. "I have some little thin white scars from losing weight too fast. Is there anything I can do to remove them?"

A. The scars did not come from losing weight but from being overweight. The skin actually was stretched. I do not know of any way to get rid of these. Time will dim them.

★ ★ ★

Q. "Can you tell me if a rinse will help cover or blend gray hair with the rest of my brown hair? I would rather do that than permanently dye my hair. Is there a rinse made of vegetable color?"

A. Yes, there are several very good vegetable rinses and if you do not have too much gray hair these cover and blend most satisfactorily.

★ ★ ★

Q. "I am 15 years old, 5 feet 4 inches tall and weigh 119 pounds. My bust measures 35½, waist 27, and hips 36 inches. My mother will not permit me to diet. Is there anything else I can do to lose weight? I think I am VERY fat."

A. Your mother is correct. You are exactly the right weight. You would not be nearly so good looking if you lost.

★ ★ ★

Q. "Please tell me if I am overweight. My mother cooks rich foods which I cannot resist. I am 5 feet one inch tall and weigh 108 pounds. My bust measures 34, waist 24, and hips 35 inches. Should I lose at the waist?"

A. You are not overweight and you do not need to lose at the waist. Your measurements are just about perfect.

Social Problems

By Emily Post

A READER explains: "The other afternoon a friend came to visit me. About 15 minutes later another friend stopped by to see me. The two women in question are not on speaking terms. When I went to the door to let the second friend in I said nothing to her about Mrs. B's being there. When she walked into the room and saw her she turned to me and said: 'I see you have company. I will stop in to see you another time,' and left promptly. It was a very embarrassing situation for all. Will you please tell me if there was any possible way to avoid this situation?"

If you knew that they were not on speaking terms, when you opened the door for the second visitor you should have said, "I think I should tell you that Mrs. B. is here in case you mind seeing her," and then it was up to her whether or not she came in.

Dismaying Sample of the Pioneer Life

By Clarissa Start

CLARISSA START

IT IS quite a shock to come home and find your bathtub sitting on the lawn. Not to mention the rest of the plumbing equipment grouped casually around it.

I don't know why all this came as a surprise since, for several weeks, we had been badgering the plumber with, "When do you start? When do we get the new bathroom?"

This is the first piece of major remodeling we've done in the two years since we moved into our neo-Scarlett O'Hara new old house. After months of gathering ideas, shopping for fixtures, arguing over colors, we could hardly wait for the actual work to begin.

Now we can hardly wait for it to end.

★ ★ ★

LOOKING BACK to that long ago time before the remodeling began (two weeks) I get the impression that we thought it would be done piecemeal. Take out an old medicine cabinet and put in a new one. Carry the old bathtub down the back stairs as the new one was being brought up the front. When they spoke of "tearing out the walls," I thought they meant just tearing out the walls. Never were we prepared for the shock of the homecoming when we found walls, floors, everything from mirror to Donald Duck soap dish ripped out.

The horrifying reality dawned on us. While you are having a new bathroom put in, you do not have an old bathroom to use.

Since then, life has been a confused series of events, with each evening bringing the excited discovery of "what they did today." There have been workmen parading through the dressing room at 7:30 a.m.—"oops, beg your pardon, ma'am"—the sound of electric saws and sanders, odd smells of glue and goo.

Dressing for a formal party one night I waded in glass slippers through a hall covered with several inches of sawdust left by the carpenters, pulling my chiffon skirts daintily around a huge galvanized can containing bricks and plaster. The five-year-old has been in a frenzy of delight, imitating plumbers, electricians, tile men, plastic men and "installing" the old equipment in the garage.

★ ★ ★

IT IS GOING TO BE a thing of beauty—pink fixtures, a lavanette with a marbleized top. Meanwhile it is primitive. When you speak glibly of the comforts of life which we Americans take for granted, give a thought to the lowly bathtub. We have a "half bath" in our guest room but it does not contain the half which keeps you clean. For bathing, there is only the kitchen sink and an antique pitcher and bowl hitherto used for atmosphere only.

We keep reminding each other sternly of our pioneer past. We have known farm life, outdoor plumbing, baths in a wash tub in kettles of hot water. But modern conveniences spoil you.

During the two weeks of reconstruction there have been baths at the homes of friends and neighbors, a shower at the ladies' massage parlor, a neck scrubbing at the hairdressers. Still, there's no place like home. While we await the installation of the pink dream tub, we eye the old leggy one, still on the lawn, wistfully.

Well, it won't last forever. Another week and we should be cleaned. Physically and financially.

Shrimp Rolls

A Chinese Delicacy

By Edith M. Barber

THE exchange of food products which began centuries and centuries ago marked the beginning of marketing as we know it today. Instead of bartering one food for another, we use money as a medium of exchange. There are practically no boundaries now in the food industry.

This fact was demonstrated recently when food editors were shown and allowed to taste literally hundreds of fish and shellfish prepared in every conceivable fashion. Modern methods of preservation and transportation allow the North to enjoy Southern shrimp, and Southerners to indulge in Northern lobster, and especially the large supply of fish from the "banks." The East also exchanges with the West, and all of us make use of frozen South African rock lobster tails.

Most of us have heard of the Grand Bank to which New England sailing vessels made their way and returned weeks and months afterward with their hauls. The editors were particularly interested in a map which showed there were many "banks" at a shorter distance from port. The fish are now packed in ice, treated with an antibiotic that maintains freshness by preventing bacteria.

This method will be used, undoubtedly, with fresh shrimp from the Gulf of Mexico, although much of this shellfish is frozen at its source. You may be interested in a shrimp roll specialty at some of the finer Chinese restaurants but seldom prepared at home. Readers have asked if it is possible to duplicate this delicious dish.

Chinese Shrimp Rolls.

One pound shrimp, fresh or frozen, two tablespoons salad oil, one-half cup chopped onion, one clove garlic, minced, half cup shredded, chopped cabbage, half cup minced celery, half teaspoon salt, one tablespoon soy sauce, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, two tablespoons chopped parsley.

Clean shrimp and chop. Heat oil in skillet and add shrimp, onion and garlic and cook, stirring, about one minute. Remove pan. Add cabbage, celery, salt, soy sauce, pepper and parsley, and chill. Prepare pancakes. Fill with chilled mixture. Fold over filling, moistening edges with paste made with one tablespoon flour and one tablespoon water. Roll and fasten with toothpicks. Chill before frying in deep hot fat at 400 degrees. Drain and serve hot. Yield: four to six servings.

Pancake Batter For Rolls.

One cup flour, two eggs, half teaspoon salt, one and half cups water.

Beat together flour, eggs, salt and water to make a thin batter. Measure three tablespoons pancake batter into a cup. Pour batter into greased skillet, tipping pan to spread batter over bottom. Cook until pancake can be lifted and turn to cook other side. Remove from pan and cool.

Jaunty Longer Jackets

The longer jacket that is unfitted at the waistline and has a jaunty, boxy emphasis is shown with matching skirt or as a separate coat to wear with tailored clothes. Many of these jackets are finger-tip length, and double-breasted fronts are noteworthy. Pale colored tweeds and nubby silks that look like tweeds are fabrics sharing attention with the smooth-finished flannels and worsteds. For summer, the linen boxy coat is being advocated.

Potato Salad Idea

Ever add bits of marinated herring to a potato salad? Dress the potatoes and herring with a vinegar-and-oil mixture.

Steak Suggestion

It may be unusual, but it's a delicious way to serve up round steak. A western delicacy known as "steak wrap-arounds" involves surrounding a dill pickle with a tenderized, thin-sliced serving of round steak and securing with a toothpick. After rolling in seasoned flour, brown in a hot skillet. Add a mixture of three tablespoons of catsup, one teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, and a cup of water. Cover and simmer gently until meat is tender. Now for the real treat. Crumble four gingersnap cookies into the sauce for gravy.

Leftover Juice

Canned fruit juice left over? Make a drink out of it with lemon juice and club soda or ginger ale.

Television Notes and Gossip

GENE AUSTIN.

GENE AUSTIN, whose life story will be dramatized on "Goodyear Playhouse" on KSD-TV Sunday night, has been on the air only once since he retired as a singer 30 years ago. He was on a "Shower of Stars" show last season. Austin, now 56 years old, sold more recordings than anybody ever sold, more than 86,000,000. His "My Blue Heaven" recording went over the 8,000,000 mark. While George Grizzard, who plays Austin in the drama, will appear to be singing, it will be Austin's voice on recordings that will be heard.

The highest paid writer for a television program is Goodman Ace, the head writer on the Perry Como show. Ace gets $9000 a week.

* * *

The national convention of American Women in Radio and Television, Inc., to be held in St. Louis April 25-28, is expected to draw more than 700 delegates from coast to coast. The theme of this sixth annual convention is "The Scope of the Feminine Field in Radio and Television."

Arthur Godfrey says he's giving up his Wednesday night show because of "strenuous hours in planning, rehearsals and presentation." Tis other programs on radio and television require virtually no preparation.

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

Uncle Ray's Column

By Ramon Coffman

IN PAST times the Eskimos had little in the way of weapons except spears and harpoons. Thanks to white men, who have explored the Arctic during modern times, these residents of the frozen Northland now have better weapons. An Eskimo with a rifle is able to shoot a seal from a distance of 100 yards or more. Sometimes, with the help of a shield or blind, an Eskimo reaches a point only 20 or 30 feet from a group of seals lying on the ice.

* * *

Q. What about the blubber which Eskimos eat?

A. It is taken mainly from seals. A 200-pound seal may provide 40 pounds of blubber.

The blubber is a layer of fat which exists under the skins of seals and certain other warm-blooded animals. It keeps them from getting too cold while swimming in the icy waters of the Arctic.

* * *

Q. Aside from the blubber, are seals valuable to the Eskimos?

A. Yes. The skins of seals (with the fur left on) provide warm clothing. In addition, seal skins supply material for the tents which many Eskimos erect during Arctic summers. The lean flesh of a seal, as well as the blubber, serves as food.

* * *

Q. Do most Eskimos live in snowhouses?

A. That is a myth which has been spread far and wide. It is on the same order as the story that most persons in Holland wear wooden shoes. Some of the Dutch do wear wooden shoes, and some Eskimos live in snowhouses, or igloos, but the usual custom is different.

Except on certain far islands north of the Canadian mainland, igloos are used only rarely by Eskimos. Hunters who leave their villages for a time may build an igloo for use during days or weeks.

In Greenland and in Alaska, Eskimo homes are made chiefly of wood or stone. In a few places the Eskimos employ soil and wood for their dwellings.

Red for Spring

The red wool suit or red jacket and dress ensemble has an important place in pring fashions. Many of the suits are made with brief jackets that have jaunty lines. Bright red and rosy red both are indorsed. Fabrics include the sheer, crepe-like textures and the nubby weaves that look much heavier than they actually are. White and pale pink are accent tones for these red ensembles, the white being used with the clear or more orange tones while the pink is allied with the rosy red hues.
